DAILY PROCEEDINGS

Clergy Executive Session

Marriott Wardman Park, Washington, DC

Wednesday, May 31, 2017 | 2 p.m.

Clergy gathered to the singing of “Thank You Lord” led by the Conference Choir, and then joined in singing “Lord, Listen to Your Children Praying.” Ephesians 4:1 was read by the Rev. Lemuel Dominquez and the Rev. Fay Lundin led the Call to Worship. This was followed by the Rev. Eunjoung Joo reading Ephesians 4:2a in Korean and the Rev. Alexis Brown leading the Opening Prayer. Rev. Dominquez read Ephesians 4:2b-3 and the assemblage then sang “Bind Us Together.” The Rev. Joo read Ephesians 4:4 in Korean and a Prayer for All People was led by Rev. Brown. The worship concluded with a spirited rendition of “O How I Love Jesus” and the Benediction by Rev. Lundin. At the conclusion of the worship, Bishop Easterling called upon the Rev. Kenneth Jones, the oldest living clergy member of the Conference, to pray.

Bishop Easterling requested the Board of Ordained ministry report from the Rev. C. Anthony Hunt, Chair of the Board of Ordained Ministry. He informed the Bishop that he had an enabling motion to put before the body, if it was in order. The Bishop confirmed that it was and the Rev. Hunt offered the Clergy Executive Session Organizing Motion. The motion was seconded. The motion passed.

The Rev. C. Anthony Hunt then presented the Board of Ordained Ministry’s narrative report that can be found in Section VI reports.

Bishop Easterling invited the Rev. Maidstone Mulenga to the podium to be acknowledged as the Council of Bishops new Director of Communications and to instruct those gathered in the use of the voting devices as well as to explain those eligible to vote. He explained that a blue dot was on the devices given to Full Clergy Members and yellow to those who were not Full Clergy Members. Laity devices were identified with a white dot. Only Full Clergy Member and Laity on the Board of Ordained Ministry are eligible to vote on character and quality of candidates. He also explained that only Lay and Full Members are allowed to vote on Constitutional Amendments.

The Bishop reminded the session that devices are assigned by name and to remember to turn them in when requested. She called on the Rev. Hunt to lead the answering of the Disciplinary Questions.

The Dean of the Cabinet, the Rev. JW Park, gave the Cabinet’s response to Disciplinary Question 17. Questions 18.a, b and c were approved.

The Rev. Terri Rae Chattin raised a point of information regarding certified candidate Tara C. Morrow. The Rev. C. Anthony Hunt explained that Morrow had received a letter from the Board of Ordained Ministry that her recommendation was being delayed. Following a concurring explanation by Bishop Easterling and further exchanges, the Rev. Terri Rae Chattin raised a Point of Order that Morrow’s name should be brought forward for a vote at the Executive Session and that what the Board of Ordained Ministry had done was to create a new category of ministry. She explained that under Conference Rules and Robert’s Rules, there needs to be a two-thirds vote for reconsideration. Hunt explained that recent Judicial Council decisions, of which they need time to explore the implications, led the Board of Ordained Ministry to decide to delay Morrow’s recommendation. She remains a certified candidate.

The Rev. Charles Parker requested a Rule of Law: “Paragraph 324.14 of the Book of Discipline reads, ‘Each candidate shall have been recommended in writing to the clergy session based on at least a three-fourths majority vote of the conference Board of Ordained Ministry.’ I would like to request a rule of law as to whether the Board was within its rights to create a new category of candidates who are approved by the requisite three-fourths majority of the Board, but not brought forward for a vote of the clergy session.”

Bishop Easterling ruled on the question of law: “As I look at the paragraph that you have quoted, Paragraph 324 of the Book of Discipline, the word ‘shall’ is used that they are eligible for election on recommendation of the Board of Ordained Ministry. Tara Morrow is not included in the recommendation that the Board of Ordained Ministry brings to this 2017 Executive Session, therefore, there is no requirement for her to be voted on at this time.” She stated that copy of ruling will be forwarded to the Judicial Council as is appropriate.

The Bishop recognized the Rev. John Phillip Wogaman, who in a moment of Personal Privilege, stated he was approaching his 60th anniversary of his Elder’s ordination, and announced that he was turning in his clergy credentials. He said that his “heart breaks” for T.C. Morrow (a lesbian) and others like her “with gifts and graces for ordained ministry who have been excluded because of bad church law, applied legalistically and hurtfully.” Following his statement, Bishop Easterling repeatedly asked Wogaman to reconsider his decision. After “grievously” receiving his credentials, the Bishop called for a laying on of hands as she tearfully offered a prayer for the Rev. Wogaman. She called a ten-minute recess to allow time for those so moved to speak with Wogaman and to prepare to move forward. “I Surrender All” was sung during this time.

“Trust and Obey” was sung as the gathering music as the group reconvened. Bishop Easterling stated that the Parliamentarian advised her that it requires a one-third vote of the body for the Ruling of Law she made to be forwarded to the Judicial Council. Subsequently, it was confirmed that the Rev. Charles Parker was asking for an appeal of the Rule of Law to the Judicial Council and the one-fifth vote required by ¶2709.7 of the Book of Discipline was received to do so.

The Rev. C. Anthony Hunt continued the process of responding to the Disciplinary Questions. Questions 21.a, b, and c were approved. Questions 25 and 26.b were approved.

The Rev. Scott Shumaker presented the provisional candidates. Candidate for membership as Provisional Deacon (Question 28.a), Jennifer Kokoski, was approved. The following were approved as Provisional Elders (Question 28.b): Daniel Breidenbaugh, Alison DeLeo, Walter D. Jackson, III, Heerak Kim, Tommy M. Murray, Kathleen M. O’Hern, Heather Olson, Monica E. Raines, and Evelyn Rivera.

Point of Order: The Rev. Debbie Scott, stating that she did not want to interrupt or take away from the moment for the Provisional candidates, asked “Can we put Tara C. Morrow’s name forward under 28.a for this session?” Bishop Easterling responded that she believed she had ruled on that issue and that Morrow’s name would not be presented for this session.

The following were approved as Provisional Members from other Christian denominations (Question 31.a): Kecia Ford, Reginald Tarpley, and Ronald Triplett.

Full Deacon, the Rev. Al Hammer, presented the candidates elected as members in full connection (Question 32.a). The following were approved as a group for full membership and Ordination (Question 34.a): Myungha Baek, Mark Christopher Gorman, YuJung Hwang, Selena Marie Johnson, Robert Edward Kells, Jr., Ginger Ray Medley, and Kara June Scroggins. Hammer offered prayers for the group.

William G. Thomas was approved as a readmitted Full Member (Question 36). The Rev. Amanda McMurtrey, who was received by transfer from the Rocky Mountain Annual Conference (Question 38), was also approved. She and the Rev. Rodney Rydell Hudson, who transferred from other Methodist denominations (Question 39) and who had been hospitalized the previous day, were recognized.

The voluntary discontinuance (Question 42.b) of Kathy Ann Barna was approved.

The name of the Rev. Adam Briddell was added to informational Question 49.

Five people listed in Question 50.a. were approved for voluntary leave of absence — four for personal leave and one for family leave. Eleven people were approved for grant of medical leave and their names appear in Question 52.

Board of Ordained Ministry Vice Chair, Amy McCullough, asked those retiring Members in Full Connection listed in Question 53 to stand as their names were read. They were recognized and approved for retirement by the body. McCullough offered a prayer for those retiring. Question 54 listing one associate member retiring passed.

Associate Members and Elders listed under Question 72.a were approved for less than full-time service. [After the vote, the Rev. Ianther Mills indicated that one of those on the list had served eight years and required three-fourths vote; the name was approved.

Question 76 lists Provisional and Full Elders who are appointed to Extension Ministries. Part c of the question requires a vote; the body approved those listed.

The report as corrected was later approved.

Bishop Easterling asked for thanks for the Board of Ordained Ministry and thanked the body for “bearing with one another in love” and disagreeing respectfully and in love. She expressed her pride in being bishop of the annual conference. The Rev. Rebecca Iannicelli offered a closing prayer.

Laity Session

Marriott Wardman Park, Washington, DC
Wednesday, May 31, 2017 | 2 p.m.

Baltimore-Washington Conference Lay Leader Delores Martin presided over a standing-room only crowd at the Laity Session on May 31.

Jodi Cataldo, Director of Laity in Leadership at Discipleship Ministries in Nashville, was the keynote speaker. Cataldo’s presentation clarified some of the new categories for lay service in The United Methodist Church. Her presentation outlined the roles, requirements and renewal requirements for those called to be Certified Lay Servants, Certified Lay Speakers and Certified Lay Ministers.

A Certified Lay Servant, Cataldo said, serves the local church or charge (and/or beyond) and provides program leadership, assistance and support; leads meetings for prayer, training, study and discussion; conducts, or assists in conducting, services of worship, preaches the Word, or gives addresses; provides congregational and community leadership and fosters caring ministries; assists in the distribution of the elements of Holy Communion; and teaches the Scriptures, doctrine, organization and ministries of the church.

A Certified Lay Speaker serves by preaching the Word when requested by the pastor, district superintendent, or committee on lay servant ministries in accordance and compliance with ¶341.1 of The Book of Discipline. The role of a certified lay speaker is a specific calling for the ministry of pulpit supply, she said.

Certified Lay Ministers serve as part of a ministry team with the supervision and support of a clergyperson. They conduct public worship, care for the congregation, develop new faith communities, preach the Word, lead small groups and more.

Cataldo presented the core process of discipleship as H.O.P.E. – Hospitality (reaching out and receiving new people); Offering Christ (offering opportunities to make a commitment to Christ); Purpose (growing in faith through participation in the means of grace); and Engagement (helping transform the surrounding community).

Cataldo felt her call to be a lay missionary at 10 years of age, but knew “I never felt a call to be clergy.” At one point, she lifted high a bottle of yellow-colored water, which instantly turned bright green when she added a drop of blue coloring. “One drop transformed the whole,” she said. Cataldo noted the best way to make disciples is through our lives. “Even the smallest drops can transform the whole. So how do we transform our lives to be the drop,” she asked.

Martin then introduced Christine Latona, a BWC regional strategist for resourcing churches. Latona, who will move into the role of Director of Connectional Ministries July 1, stressed that it is a priority for Bishop Easterling to elevate clergy-lay partnerships in discipleship-making. The bishop is working hand-in-hand with Martin in the ministry of the Conference

One of the key areas of ministry in the coming quadrennia will be advancing the Northeastern Jurisdiction’s Call to Acton for Racial Justice and Reconciliation. This initiative is calling Northeastern Jurisdictional conferences to face implicit biases: when someone consciously rejects stereotypes and supports anti-discrimination efforts, but also holds negative associations in his/her mind unconsciously, Latona said.

In this way, people literally do not know they have racial prejudices. BWC members will be encouraged to take the Implicit Attitude Test “to encourage people to do the deep work,” Latona said. The test may be taken at www.bwcumc.org/ministers/call-to-action-on-racial-justice.

Latona outlined some of the main strategies for dismantling racism “so we can build and be the beloved community,” she said. These initiatives include:

- naming and addressing racism personally;
- increasing awareness of systemic racism and the cultural agility of staff and leaders through relationship building, training and dialogue; and
- study and respond to the impact of structural and institutional racism.

Latona said that laity will play a key role in this initiative.

Martin then introduced a panel of engaged BWC laity, representing a broad spectrum of how people are involved in making disciples for Jesus Christ. Among the panelists were:

- Raimon Jackson, a young adult;
- Melissa Lauber, BWC’s Director of Communications;
- Deaconess Jane Greys; the BWC Mission Secretary;
- Elizabeth Stemley, president of United Methodist Women; and
- Bill Weller, president of United Methodist Men.

Martin also introduced and thanked the district lay leaders. They include:

- Kim Carr, Annapolis District
- Ophelia Brown Carter, Baltimore Metropolitan District
- Barbara Dickson, Baltimore Suburban District
- Rod Fry, Central Maryland District
- Richard Willson, Cumberland-Hagerstown District
- Barbara Shew, Frederick District
- Mary McCurty, Greater Washington District
- Rosalind Pinkney, Washington East District.

At the close of the session, Jo Chesson announced that eight Certified Lay Ministers had completed their training. Their accomplishments were celebrated by the body. Opening Worship

Wednesday, May 31, 2017 | 7 p.m.

From the stage, Pastor Kyle Durbin explained to those in attendance that the streamers in their chairs were in eight different colors each representing one of the eight districts in the annual conference. Participants were told that to celebrate the unity of the conference with this year's theme, "We are One: Connected in Covenant," they were going to begin with a celebration.

To begin the worship service, four members of the annual conference sang the first verse of "They'll Know We Are Christians by Our Love," in four languages including sign language. As young people came running down the aisles waving streamers, those assembled stood, waved their streamers and cheered as each district banner was displayed on stage. The Conference Choir led the congregation in singing "They'll Know We Are Christians by Our Love," during the Procession.

The congregation then joined in singing "Make Us One." Bishop Seung Ho Choi led the Call to Worship and the Opening Prayer. The Rev. David McAllister-Wilson, president of Wesley Seminary, read the conference's theme Scripture, Ephesians 4:1-6. The choir then led in singing, "I Need You to Survive."

Uttering the words, "It's preaching time," Bishop LaTrelle Easterling began her sermon. In her opening prayer, Bishop Easterling declared that the congregation was not in a ballroom, but was on "Holy Ground." She proclaimed, "The covenant makes us one." After providing several definitions of covenant, Bishop Easterling spoke of the many instances of covenant throughout the Bible that God had been creating "since the beginning of time." She explained how "in these covenants God calls upon the faithful to trust and obey, to turn away from the former, and to walk with God toward a new and sacred and bright future."

While the conference's theme Scripture, Ephesians 4:1-6, is "the most instructive part of Ephesians," she noted that the word covenant is never used. Instead, Ephesians demonstrates a "bond that cannot be broken, a unity that must not be lost and a love that will not fail." She focused on the importance of humility several times in her sermon and the need to understand that "there is a power greater than ourselves."

We became a part of a community at our baptism. "Our relationships should reflect this covenantal bond," the bishop preached. She said, "How we live with one another is the only Scripture some people are going to come into contact with." "God knows that opportunities are created in community," Bishop Easterling said. "God knows lives are changed in community." She acknowledged that we live in a divided world. She asked that we recognize that through listening to each other we will begin to understand that we are not each other's enemy. Among the enemies she identified were addiction, hunger, persecution of the poor, hate crimes, the criminal justice system, and terrorism here and abroad.

"We are the body of Christ together. How we choose to live out our days is our response to this covenant. . . If we allow ourselves to be divided, we will lose our moral witness to the world," she said to a standing ovation.

“In the time I’ve been with you,” she said, “I have learned a deep truth about you, Baltimore-Washington Conference: you love the Lord, and because of that love, I know you will persevere through differences to continue in covenant.”

“We are one in covenant. We are one in love. We are one in service. Rise up Baltimore-Washington Conference and show the world, We Are One,” concluded Bishop Easterling. The congregation then broke into spontaneous chants of “We are One.”

Following the sermon, the Rev. Andrea Brown announced the offering for “Seeds of Security” and provided the Offertory Prayer. The Service of Holy Communion followed the offering and included anointing stations.

After communion, the Rev. J. W. Park invited the congregation to welcome Bishop Cho of the South Conference of The United Methodist Church in South Korea. Bishop Cho told the congregation that because of the Baltimore-Washington Conference, there is The United Methodist Church in Korea. He then introduced his wife, an Elder in the Korean Methodist Church, a Director of Connectional Ministries and three District Superintendents.

Bishop Easterling gave the Benediction and the congregation joined in singing the Recessional song, “One Bread, One Body.”

Bible Study

Thursday, June 1, 2017 | 8 a.m.

The “Time of Devotion” began with a prayer by Rev. Dae Sung Park followed by the “Litany of Preparation” led in sign language by LaSander Saunders and Lisa Harvey. The ASL interpreter interpreted the Litany for the hearing congregants.

The conference choir leader asked those present to stand and join them in singing “How Great Thou Art.” Pastor Kyle Durbin explained that in the back of the ballroom were four different candles along with the banners introduced the previous night during opening worship. He invited people who felt so moved during the annual conference to offer a prayer, to be aware that the prayer stations were available so that participants “could be in prayer together as a conference and as the one body of Christ throughout the proceedings.”

Bishop LaTrelle Easterling greeted the gathering. She explained that the bounds of the conference had not yet been set, but that while in Bible Study everyone was allowed and welcomed to be seated in the ballroom. Once the session opened, the seating within the bar of the conference would be for voting members and guests were asked to sit in the balcony and outside the bar of the conference.

Bishop Easterling expressed her delight in introducing the Bible study leader, the Rev. Steve Manskar, Director of Wesley Leadership at Discipleship Ministries in Nashville, Tennessee, and author of “Disciples Making Disciples.” She shared her memory of a session Rev. Manskar led in the New England Conference that was powerful and transformative. She said one of the things she loved about Rev. Manskar was “his deep, deep commitment to the spiritual disciplines.” Stating that it is important for all ages to engage in studying the Word, the Bishop said, “The Word is new every time we read it” and that “as long as we have breath, God can breathe new understanding and new meaning into our reading of the Word.” The Bishop shared that she had learned that Manskar was actually coming home because he served in the Baltimore-Washington Conference for four years while a student at Wesley Theological Seminary.

Rev. Manskar thanked the Bishop for the invitation and the warm welcome. He agreed that coming to the Baltimore-Washington Conference was like coming home and the conference has a very warm place in his heart. Some of the best years of his life were the four years he spent at Wesley, he said. As a third career pastor, he recalled that he ran away from his call for about 10 years. He and his wife came to the Baltimore-Washington Conference and he served at West Liberty United Methodist Church during his four years of seminary.

He told those gathered that this was his first experience leading an Annual Conference Bible study and asked that they join him as he prayed. The focus of the study was Ephesians 4:1-6.

Rev. Manskar explained that, given where we are as a church today, Ephesians 4:1-6 is a “helpful passage to explore and live with as we discern the work of the annual conference.” One of his favorite Scripture passages, Manskar said that Ephesians is unique among Paul’s letters in that it was not written to a particular Christian community, but was circulated among several communities. Rather than address specific problems, the letter gives general encouragement and counsel to the church on how to live together and be in mission together in the world. He then invited those gathered to turn to their neighbor and share, “What images come to mind when you think of the church today?” A lively discussion ensued.

Explaining that the “Therefore” at the start of Ephesians 4 refers back to what is said in the preceding chapters, Manskar quickly reviewed what Paul wrote in the first three chapters of the letter using material from a brief study guide for Ephesians titled, “A Whistle -Stop Tour of Ephesians.” The guide, written by New Testament scholar and Anglican bishop, N. T. Wright, “identifies a single verse in each of the first three chapters” to summarize Paul’s message. Wright proclaims in his book, “We are God’s poem” and “God’s artwork;” that God has given us many gifts to share with the world.

The Rev. Manskar conveyed to those gathered, “Paul reminds us Christian faith is about more than going to heaven when you die. It is a way of life centered in the way of Jesus. It is the way of self-giving, self-emptying love. We are called to the way of Jesus in baptism.

“We are called to covenant,” Manskar stressed repeatedly, citing the covenant made at baptism. “We don’t baptize people in private, but in a congregation.” Quoting John Wesley, he explained, “to those who say I can experience God alone ... ‘holy solitaries’ is a phrase no more consistent with the Gospel than ‘holy adulterers.’”

Congregations make promises in the baptismal covenant to love, serve, pray and care for each other, which he urged churches to keep visible. “We are called by baptism to be a blessing, to bring the world into God’s kingdom, to also love one another.

“The oneness of God is reflected in the unity of the church,” he said, noting that the covenant also believes in the three persons of the Trinity, each with a distinct mission.

Ephesians 4 says that the Trinitarian God is the Father above all; working with Christ to bring Heaven to earth; and the Holy Spirit is in all. This covenant is “to know God is God and we are not,” he said.

In conclusion, Manskar quoted from a U2 song “One,” written by Bono, which describes what Paul is telling us in Ephesians 4:1-6: “One love, one blood, one life, you got to do what you should. One life with each other: sisters, brothers. One life, but we’re not the same. We get to carry each other, each other.”

First Plenary Session

Thursday, June 1, 2017 | 9 a.m.

Annual Conference attendees were invited by the Rev. Ron Tippett to join with the conference choir in singing “Blessed be the Name of the Lord,” as they gathered and prepared to begin the session. Bishop LaTrelle Easterling invited everyone to prepare to officially open the session of Annual Conference by rising and joining together in singing the “beloved hymn” of the church, “And Are We Yet Alive.” Following the conclusion of the hymn at 9:40 a.m., Bishop Easterling called the 233rd Session of the Baltimore-Washington Conference to order with a strike of her shiny red gavel. The first female episcopal leader of the conference, Bishop Easterling introduced those on the dais with her: Cynthia Taylor, Conference Secretary; Ken Humbert, Parliamentarian; and Delores Martin, Lay Leader of the Baltimore-Washington Conference.

The conference secretary made the Organizational Motion and it was approved. Jen Ihlo, Chair of the Conference Rules Committee, presented a review of the “Rules of the Session” using a slide show with the theme, “Almost everything you need to know, you learned in Kindergarten.” She reminded everyone that the rules were on the BWC website and the Annual Conference App along with a “Parliamentary Procedure Chart.”

Bishop Easterling reminded everyone of the conference Scripture to “bear with one another in love, with patience and humility as we work through the very important business of this conference.” As the conference registration was at an “all time high,” she emphasized the bar of the conference and the importance of that area being for voting members. Next, the video clip, “We Are One – Connected in Covenant,” depicting colorful mosaic pieces forming a multi-colored picture with praying hands in the center that represented the conference theme, was shown.

The Rev. Jim Miller, Chair of the Episcopacy Committee, came to the podium. He invited members of the committee to join him on stage. Miller described the year as a very busy one for the committee with the transition that has taken place in the life of the annual conference and he thanked them for their service. After last year’s annual conference, he was part of a delegation that traveled to Zimbabwe to Africa University with Bishop Matthews and his wife. A love offering of $330,743 was collected last year in Bishop Matthew’s honor to build a health and wellness sports complex at the university. The delegation attended the groundbreaking ceremony. Reflecting on the hospitality he experienced, the Rev. Jim Miller said, “I have never travelled so far and felt so much at home.”

As Episcopacy Committee chair, Miller also served as chair of the transition team for the new bishop. He shared being at Northeast Jurisdictional to be part of the circle welcoming the new bishop, Bishop Easterling. He asked Episcopal Transition Team members to stand and thanked them for their service. Moving forward, he is leading the evaluation of the transition process to determine best practices for future transitions. Miller invited the Rev. Marion Easterling to come to the stage as he acknowledged his roles as husband, dad, pastor serving at Wesley Grove UMC, and the special role that comes with being a bishop’s spouse. Rev. Easterling was thanked and presented with a gift from the committee. Bishop Easterling expressed her appreciation for the support of the Episcopacy Committee and for them holding her accountable, which she said was “extremely important.” She voiced her hope that the Superintendency Committees and the SPRCs “understand that it is loving to hold ourselves accountable to one another. That makes us the best disciples that we can be.”

The United Methodist President, Elizabeth Stemley, asked all United Methodist Women to stand, as she presented Bishop Easterling with a United Methodist Women’s scarf and a United Methodist Women’s prayer shawl.

Frederick District Lay Leader, Barbara Shew, joined the dais. Throughout the conference, the bishop invited each of the lay leaders to be on the dais.

The bishop then introduced a video clip from the Commission on the Way Forward. She recounted that the conference was asked to be in prayer for the group which came out of the 2016 General Conference to discern a “way forward” for the denomination on the matter of human sexuality that has “been a tension in the life of this denomination since 1972.” The clip explained the work of the commission by group members whose diversity included geographic area, age, race and gender. Following the showing of the video, Bishop Easterling shared that being in conversation with each other was important to commission members. She urged the Baltimore-Washington Conference to “reclaim the Circles of Grace” not just at annual conference but also in our “local context” to hear the “harmony” on the subject and to do so in love. The bishop called the Rev. John Nupp to lead those gathered in prayer for the work of the commission. She asked everyone to stand and take the hand of the person closest to them as Nupp prayed.

Rev. C. Anthony Hunt presented the Board of Ordained Ministry (BOOM) report. He expressed appreciation for the Rev. John Nupp, Director of the Center for Clergy Excellence, for his role in supporting the work of BOOM, and to Mrs. Debbie Albrecht for her “stellar” administrative support. Bishop announced that Albrecht was not present, as she had welcomed a new grandchild the previous day who had been placed in neonatal care at Johns Hopkins. Bishop asked for acknowledgement of the work of the Rev. C. Anthony Hunt in his role as Chair of BOOM.

Rev. Scott Schumaker, Provisional Member Registrar, introduced the candidates recommended for commissioning who came to the stage and were recognized. The Rev. Al Hammer, Full Member Registrar, introduced the Full Member candidates who came forward and were recognized along with one candidate for readmission. As the bishop came forward to ask the Historical Questions of the full member candidates, she shook the hands of the Provisional Candidates, as they exited the stage. She then explained that Robert Kells, Jr. was absent from the stage because his son was graduating from high school at that time and he would be returning later in the day. Bishop Easterling then recognized one of the “Fathers of this conference” and of the Council of Bishops, Bishop Forrest Stith, who was sitting with the ordinands and was present with them. She shared that she was honored to have him with her at her first annual conference. She then asked the Historical Questions which are asked of all those about to be ordained. The body stood and acknowledged the ordinands.

The bishop called for the affirmation of the BOOM report by the body and it was affirmed with their applause.

Rev. Kara Scroggins requested a moment of personal privilege, which was granted. She expressed that while she is sure of her call, the denomination is falling short by not fully recognizing LGBTQI people and is practicing discrimination against them. She voiced her commitment to continue to stand with those who were not fully included and to “listen humbly” and work for justice until “all means all.” Bishop Easterling thanked her for her heartfelt statement.

Bishop Easterling then recognized Anne Brown Burkell of Foundry UMC who requested a moment of personal privilege. She recounted the many accomplishments of the conference including colleges, hospitals and a leading seminary of the denomination. She mentioned the struggles with racial injustice and the continuing work that goes on today. She called the previous day a “dark day” in the history of Foundry Church and of the history of the conference. There was grieving by many for the loss of two great leaders: Rev. Dr. Philip J. Wogaman, who turned in his clergy credentials after 60 years of service to protest the failure to bring forward the name of T.C. Morrow, also of Foundry, for commissioning as deacon. She highlighted actions taken by the Baltimore-Washington Annual Conference to address the issues of LGBTQI injustices and the BOOM actions.

The bishop commented that in the annual conference these issues are real and not theoretical.

She asked that those who had similar comments to those already expressed consider not speaking and asked remaining speakers to limit their comments to three minutes to ensure completion of the business of the annual conference.

Bishop Easterling then invited David Schoeller to come forward to provide instruction on how to use the voting devices in preparation for voting on the Constitutional Amendments from the 2016 General Conference.

Before moving to the video clip explaining the Constitutional Amendments, Bishop Easterling said that the Spirit reminded her that after Anne Burkell's comments it had been her intention to take a moment to "acknowledge and recognize what a deep moment" it had been the previous day when the Rev. Philip Wogaman surrendered his clergy credentials at the clergy session. She described Wogaman as a "man who has served faithfully and diligently, passionately and with deep conviction." After repeatedly asking that he reconsider his decision and hearing that he had made his decision prayerfully, she "reluctantly and with a broken heart" received his credentials.

After viewing a video, which provided an explanation and rationale for the five Constitutional Amendments, Bishop Easterling explained that no vote totals would be announced. The vote would be sent to the Council of Bishops by the conference secretary to determine the result of all the votes being taken. The Rev. Maidstone Mulenga said he also served as Secretary of Correlation and Total Revision that edits the Book of Discipline. He emphasized that those eligible to vote on Constitutional Amendments must be Full Members – Full Deacons and Full Elders – and Lay Members to Annual Conference.

Jen Ihlo made a correction to the presentation that two-thirds of the voting members of the annual conference are required to pass the amendments not two-thirds of the annual conferences.

Rev. Deb Scott rose to ask a clarifying question of amendments 1 and 5. In the sixth paragraph of amendment 5, she noticed that the language said "conference electing 'him' shall have been determined." She asked if this was an editorial issue. Mulenga assured her that the committee on which he serves is responsible for making such changes.

Rev. Victor Sawyer, Colesville UMC, asked "How will the transgender people figure into this vote?" When asked for clarification by the Bishop as to which amendment he was referring, Sawyer replied that in "all of the votes when the transgender people will come together and say, 'I'm this gender and this gender.'" Bishop Easterling replied that she was unable to answer his question.

Kim Harner, Perry Hall UMC, speaking regarding Amendment 2, stated that everyone seemed to be included except the LGBTQ and wondered why they were not included in the language of that amendment. Bishop replied that the amendments come out of the General Conference and one would need to perhaps look at the legislative records to determine the reasons things are included or not.

Matt Sickel, Wesley UMC, asked if the body was allowed to speak for or against the amendments and while it was determined that was permissible, he was reminded that no change to them was permitted. The bishop requested and the body agreed that those wishing to speak for or against limit their speaking to two minutes.

Sickel spoke on Constitutional Amendment 1 and said that though he liked the amendment, it belongs in the Social Principles not in the Constitution and should be voted down because it was theology.

Ken Ow moved for the question. Bishop explained that she needed to allow the speeches for and against.

Rev. Mary Kay Totty, Dumbarton UMC, spoke for the amendment because it offers the same protection for gender as for race. The statement ensures women and girls are as valued as men. She urged everyone to vote for the amendment because it needs to be in the Constitution.

Rev. Melissa Rudolf, North Carroll Cooperative Parish, spoke in favor of the Constitutional amendment. She spoke as a pastor and mother of four daughters, saying this provision needs to be part of the Constitution because it needs to be a value we hold as a global church. She recounted that 30 people left her church before she arrived and her sisters around the world face even harder situations.

Bishop Easterling called for the vote.

Rev. Rebecca Vardiman, Wesley Charge in Cumberland, would like to know if we as a conference passed the Amendments. Bishop moved the voting to 15 seconds.

Rev. Mulenga then moved on to Constitutional Amendment 2 and the Bishop called for the vote.

Kelly Robier, Mill Creek Parish, rose to present a Point of Order noting that 200 fewer people voted on the amendment than voted on the first amendment and requested we go to 30 seconds for the vote. Bishop Easterling agreed to use 30 seconds. Comment from the audience indicated there was a problem with some of the voting devices. Bishop Easterling asked the voting machine company representative if there was time to capture all the votes that were cast and learned that 690 votes were captured.

Rev. Kenneth Moore, Zion UMC, asked if by affirming the Constitutional Amendment 2, the body would be affirming same sex marriages based on the language in the last sentence. Since it was already voted on, the matter would go to General Conference. However, the bishop offered her opinion that the language spoke only to worship and not where we stand on polity and law.

Constitutional Amendments 3 and 4 were voted on without comment or discussion.

Anne Brown Burkell recommended voting against Constitutional Amendment 5. At General Conference she observed the legislative committee and felt that it goes to the heart of the Jurisdictional Structure regarding selection and governance of bishops to Colleges of Bishops within individual jurisdictions.

Rev. Kevin Baker, Oakdale Church in Olney, speaking for the amendment saw it as a way to hold Bishops accountable. Rev. Norman Obenshain, Havre de Grace UMC, spoke against the amendment, because the polity gives the “preponderance” of power to the legislative branch not the executive branch. The amendment will give greater power to the legislative branch and might force bishops to censure one another when they take prophetic action.

Rev. Steve Humphrey, Mount Zion Church, Mechanicsville, spoke for the amendment. He said we need the amendment because the recent decisions of the Judicial Council have not been enforced.

The body voted on Constitutional Amendment 5.

Rev. Maidstone Mulenga reminded the gathering that the voting results would be provided by the Council of Bishops. He thanked Bishop Easterling for allowing him to serve as the Assistant to the Bishop and the Director of Connectional Ministries in the Baltimore-Washington Conference, and to now serve as the Director of Communications for the Council of Bishops. The Bishop thanked him for his service and shared that there was a celebration at the conference for his farewell.

The bishop recognized Lynn Wilson, a full-time local pastor at Calvary UMC in Martinsburg, West Virginia. She stated that local pastors and associate members were not allowed to participate in the Constitutional Amendment voting and urged them to join and support the National Fellowship of Associate Members and Local Pastors.

Following announcements by the conference secretary, Bishop Easterling called Bishop Devadhar to the dais to be welcomed and to offer a prayer and the blessing for lunch. In greeting Bishop Devadhar of the New England Annual Conference, Bishop Easterling shared that she still calls him “my bishop” and that he shaped and molded her life and many others privileged to be under his leadership. It was Bishop Devadhar who had the crozier on the stage at this her first annual conference as presiding bishop crafted by an artist in the New England Conference and presented to her when she left. Following his prayer, the attendees departed for lunch.

Second Plenary Session

Thursday, June 1, 2017 | 2 p.m.

Rev. Ronald Triplett invited those entering the ballroom to join in singing “Leaning on the Everlasting Arms” and then “Open the Eyes of my Heart, Lord.” At 2:03 p.m. Bishop Easterling called the afternoon session to order. She introduced and welcomed to the dais, Mary McCurdy, Washington East District Lay Leader.

Bishop Easterling welcomed to the Annual Conference, Bishop Rev. Mariann Edgar Budde, the spiritual leader of 40,500 Episcopalians in 89 congregations and 20 schools in the District of Columbia and Maryland. Budde was consecrated as the ninth bishop of Washington in 2011.

Bishop Budde greeted those present and shared that before becoming an Episcopal priest, she was a US2 Missionary in Tucson, Arizona, in the early 1980s. She learned a great deal from her Methodist colleagues and mentors about “ministry, mission, about the love of Jesus and the call for social justice.” In studying church history she said that one of the “greatest sadnesses for the Episcopal church was when we lost the Methodists.” She commented on the conference theme and the challenges faced because of the many places and life experiences coming together. She mentioned that next year the entire Episcopal church and Methodist church will be discussing areas of greater unity.

Rev. Gerard Green, Superintendent of the Greater Washington District, came forward to offer greetings from the Mayor of the District of Columbia. He offered welcome to those assembled and described the geographic boundaries and institutions of his district that includes Bermuda. One of the focuses of the district is addressing the need for affordable housing. He explained the “Penny Challenge” as he filled a jug with pennies for his district, Pennies counted as points for the district while other coins and dollars subtracted from those points, so he put his “silver” into the Central Maryland jug. At the end of annual conference, the winning district of the Penny Challenge would be declared. However, he said, “the real winners” will be those who will find a home in affordable housing. Mayor Muriel Bowser, the mayor of the District of Columbia, has invested millions in affordable housing. He read a letter of welcome and greeting from Mayor Bowser, who was unable to attend annual conference.

The bishop then introduced the video, “Wonder, Love and Praise,” a study the church is undertaking and how as a conference we can be involved. Bishop Easterling stated that we will be engaged in the work outlined in the video as an annual conference coming through the district superintendents and through Christie Latona, the Director of Connectional Ministries, effective July 1, 2017. Everyone who would like will have an opportunity to weigh in on who we are as a church and our impact in the world.

Bishop Easterling recognized Kelly Robier, Millcreek Parish, who offered a point of information. She asked for an explanation of what happened to TC Morrow in the Clergy Session. The Bishop shared that the Clergy Session is a closed session and only those who are clergy can attend the session that is not live streamed. A report was delivered by the Rev. Tony Hunt in the morning and he gave a statement to the Director of Communications, a broader outline of what can be shared from the session. She asked for Dr. Hunt who was not in attendance. Bishop Easterling gave a brief summary of what had been reported and what had occurred in the morning session.

Bishop Easterling called upon Delores Martin, Conference Lay Leader, to give the Laity Report. Martin asked for a moment of personal privilege to allow the Rev. J.W. Park to pick up the coins left by the Rev. Green. She praised the covenant partnership that is growing between laity and clergy within the conference. She asked the eight district lay leaders to stand and be recognized and spoke about the work they are doing in their districts. She also lifted up the work of Julie Flinchum, chair of the Committee on Certified Lay Ministry; the more than 1,000 certified lay servants who serve in local churches; and the conference's 143 Certified Lay Ministers. In closing, she suggested United Methodists consider the old saying, "It's easy as ABC," with the addition of a "D" – "Always Be in Covenant Discipleship." The Bishop thanked Martin for her service.

The bishop next introduced Tiaara A. Anderson, Black College Fund Ambassador and student at Philander Smith College, who brought a word of appreciation for the Baltimore-Washington Conference's support of the Historic Black College Fund. She is a Leana H. McCord intern. A child of poverty, she received the Thomas Mason Scholarship that pays her full tuition and fees, maintains a 3.7 GPA and works part-time.

The bishop asked Pam Bowen, the staff coordinator of the Baltimore-Washington Conference Council on Youth Ministry, and the CCYM youth to come forward. Susan Harry, Baltimore Suburban District Youth Leader, standing in for Bowen, read her report which is included in this Journal. CCYM youth will be attending a two-week youth theological program at Shenandoah University. For the first time in 10 years, four youth will be participating in the Mission of Peace Program, a 15-day experience to discover God's spirit at work in Cuba, and three applied for scholarships to represent the Baltimore-Washington Conference at the Global Gathering of Youth Conference in South Africa.

The members of CCYM shared their "Stress Less" project to help their peers manage issues that affect the physical, mental and spiritual lives of teens. They encouraged individuals and youth groups to use the resources they have placed on tiny.cc/ccym-stress-less. They also produced a video that was shown and well received by those in attendance. The bishop pronounced the video "incredible" and said, "Our youth are really stepping up. They're not asking someone to give them the answers. They are the answers."

The Rev. Ken Hawes, chair of the Conference Moving Committee, presented Resolution #3, Resolution to Amend the Conference Moving Policy. He explained that the resolution was to treat retiring clergy the same way they treat active clergy regarding moving expenses. The Rev. Ann LaPrade offered an amendment for the resolution to take effect immediately except that for the 2017 retirement class it take effect January 1, 2017. The amendment was approved. Rev. Kenneth Moore, Zion UMC, proposed an amendment limiting the amount of compensation for those moving outside the boundaries of the annual conference. Dan Marshall, Glyndon UMC, commented that the amendment was already in the language of the current policy. Hawes clarified. Rev. Barry Hidey asked if the average is per move made lower by those whose moves have minimal or no cost. He suggested the average should be based on the “average full move.” Bishop Easterling said it was a speech for the amendment on the floor. Rev. Sarah Schlieckert rose requesting clarification and Hawes confirmed her statement as was basically correct. A Point of Order was raised by Rev. Chris Gobrecht, New Covenant UMC, that a policy with financial implications had to go through CFA before being voted upon. CFA chair, the Rev. Ann LaPrade, postulated that the amendment may have a significant effect on the budget. Moore questioned why there would be an increase in costs. Hawes explained that mileage could significantly increase the cost. The bishop clarified the amendment. The amendment was tabled to provide time for CFA to determine the financial implications. The bishop returned to the main motion. Stan Fredericks, Galesville UMC, raised a question regarding the computation. The math was correct. The bishop asked that the resolution be tabled until CFA reported so that the resolution could be handled with any amendment. The body approved.

Rev. Shannon Sullivan presented three pieces of legislation. Resolution #1, Avoid Purchase of Hewlett Packard Products, was explained as a witness to peace against a company that manufactured products used by the Israeli military. Kelly Robier, of Millcreek Parish, offered a Point of Information, and asked if the boycott would affect our tax status as a church. Sullivan responded that the resolution would not affect the tax status and such action was something that had been done in the past. Bishop Easterling deferred the question to the Chancellor. Rev. Curtis Ehrgott, Grace UMC, gave a speech against based on the fact that Wespath did not exclude HP and the small amount of business done in Israel. Rev. Bill Brown raised a Point of Order regarding rules to increase the timer from two minutes to three minutes for speakers. Rev. Eliezer Valentin-Castañón offered a Point of Information as a former staffer at the Board of Church and Society and stated that the many similar boycotts had been supported in the past and had no affect on the tax-exempt status of the church. Bishop Easterling reiterated that she wanted a definitive opinion from the Chancellor, Tom Starnes. Rev. Mark Schaefer spoke in support of the resolution which he saw as a “nudge” in response to the power disparity. Hank Butler, Bethesda UMC, Damascus Charge, spoke against the resolution because of the complexity of the issue and the lack of sensitivity to the other side. Bill Sadler requested a move to table the motion until the Chancellor responded on the tax question. Bishop Easterling asked if there was anyone who wanted to speak for the resolution. Linda Lacey, Dumbarton UMC, spoke for the resolution. With the required for and against statements, the bishop moved to put the motion to table before the group. The motion did not pass. The question was called and seconded. The resolution passed.

Rev. Sullivan then presented, “Expanding Baltimore-Washington Socially Responsible Investment Screens” Divestment Resolution. Sullivan, explained that the resolution suggests “aspirational language” to encourage the conference’s Board of Pension and the Mid-Atlantic Foundation to consider expanding their socially responsible investment screens and refraining from investment in Hewlett Packard. Rev. Jack Day, Chair of the Board of Pensions and Health Benefits, spoke in support of the resolution as making the desires of the conference known to the Mid-Atlantic Foundation as opposed to requiring them to take specific action. Cy Guard, Rockville UMC, spoke against the resolution, stating that if this resolution also passes the conference will appear to be on record as pro-Palestinian and anti-Israel in the press. He suggested that there had not been enough time to discuss who had been the oppressor and who was the oppressed. Rev. Kevin Wright, Extension Ministry, expressed the issue of funds the conference was investing being used to inflict harm and saw it as a justice issue. He did not see it as taking a side, but rather a way not to be involved in oppression. Rev. Darryl Williams, who identified himself as Vice Chair CFA, asked if the resolution was binding. The bishop responded that the first part of the resolution appeared to be aspirational. Sullivan added that the second part was aspirational as well. Williams explained that the Baltimore-Washington Conference is a socially responsible investing institution. In his previous roles as Chair of Investments for CFA and the former Executive Director of the United Methodist Foundation, Williams helped to write and implement the socially responsible screens. He expressed the importance of retaining the current process and also of protecting the investments of those whose pensions were involved and not taking fiduciary responsibility out of the hands of investors. Rev. Kate Payton, Epworth UMC, in a speech for the resolution, cautioned reacting out of fear on an aspirational resolution that is not binding and to look at our power and how we are using our privilege. Rev. Bob Barnes, Mount Oak UMC, spoke against the resolution as being unjust because the Israelis are being attacked by everyone. Point of Information by a member of the Board of Pension and Benefits, shared that Wespeth worked with the Hershey Company to bring them into compliance with the Socially Responsible Investment screens. Bishop deemed that a speech against. The resolution did not pass.

Questions arose regarding some voting devices appearing not to be working. In the midst of the discussion, Rev. Kenneth Moore withdrew his amendment to the first resolution discussed. It was determined that five machines did not work; however, the votes would have no effect on the outcome of the vote. The bishop declared that the voting on the resolution would stand.

The next order of business was the acknowledgement of the retirement of Andy Thornton whom Bishop Easterling called to the stage. Chris Schlieckert led the recognition of Thornton who after 30 years of ministry at the West River Center, was retiring at the end of the summer. The “This is Your Ministry” presentation started with Thornton’s history that began when he and his wife Carol arrived at West River in 1987 after 10 years of working at Red Bird Mission in Kentucky. Several people recounted working with Thornton and the impact he had on their lives. During his tenure at West River more than 300,000 guests were welcomed. In 2007 Thornton took over the leadership of the entire Baltimore-Washington Conference Camping and Retreat Ministries. Bishop Easterling asked all who were touched by Thornton and camping ministry to stand and over 90 percent of those present stood.

Bishop Easterling recognized Bishop Violet Fisher and thanked her for her presence.

The Rev. C. Anthony Hunt, on behalf of the Board of Ordained Ministry, recognized the 25 people recommended and approved for retirement. He counted more than 2,000 years of ministry. Rev. Adam Snell, St Paul UMC, stated that Rev. Rick Buckingham, full member deacon, would like to retire also and he was called to the stage by Hunt. Bishop Easterling thanked the retirees for their service. She asked them to stand with Robert Kell, who had been at his son’s graduation, so that he would not be alone as she asked him the Historic Questions.

Bishop Easterling returned to the resolution on moving. She reminded the assembled that the LaPrade amendment had passed and the Moore amendment was withdrawn. She called for Rev. Ken Hawes, the maker of the resolution, who was not in the room.

Rev. Shannon Sullivan presented the rationale and background for Resolution 4, Support for the Religious Coalition for Reproductive Choice. Rev. Mark Gorman raised a Point of Order that the resolution was an ad hominem attack which he felt was in the rationale and Sullivan’s speech. The bishop ruled it was out of order and did not agree it was ad hominem attack on members of the delegation or members of the conference. Gorman asked to appeal the ruling to the body. The appeal did not pass. The bishop’s ruling was sustained. Rev. Steve Humphrey, Mount Zion UMC, rose to give an argument against. After looking at the website, he saw that RCRC provides many laudible services consistent with the Social Principles. He also saw that they are clearly an advocacy group with a legislative and judicial agenda that contains items in direct conflict with our Social Principles. Since they take actions that go against things we back, we should not continue to support them. Ken Ow, North Bethesda UMC, lay member to General Conference, spoke for the resolution and felt that there was misinformation. The UMC was a founding member of RCRC. Rev. Bill Brown, Wesley Freedom UMC, questioned if there was a membership fee for the conference to become a member or any other monetary requirements. Heidi Agotini, Middletown UMC, who was at General Conference, shared that the vote against was overwhelming she called RCRC a “political lobbying group” that is far more than a proponent for abortion rights including defending third term partial birth abortions. She labeled them an extremist group. Emily Smiley, Deaf Ministries and Magothy United Methodist Church of the Deaf, spoke for the resolution as a pro-lifer for all stages of life. The resolution did not pass.

In regards to the Moving Resolution, Hawes gave an overview of the discussion with CFA. He spoke of the validity of the question of equity for all retirees. He recognized that a study needs to be done to find an equitable compensation level for clergy retiring and moving outside of the Baltimore-Washington conference. The Moving Committee, along with CFA input, will review that number and consider bringing a resolution forward to adjust it next year. He was asked to clarify that the average cost per move includes all the $500 moves and $10,000 moves and everything in between and they are averaged together to get $26,150 this year. Resolution 3 was passed.

Bishop Violet Fisher provided prayer for the conclusion of the session and grace for the evening meal.

Service of Commissioning, Reception and Ordination

Thursday, June 1, 2017 | 7 p.m.

At 7 p.m. the Pastor Kyle Durbin announced that the 2017 Ordination was about to begin and introduced the Linden Linthicum United Methodist Church Children’s Hand Bell Choir who provided the prelude, which included three musical selections – “Come Christians Join to Sing,” an original piece of music dedicated to the 2017 Baltimore Washington Conference entitled “Jubilation” by Dave Foley, and “Crown Him With Many Crowns.”

The music team led the gathered congregation in singing the hymns “Sing Praise to God Who Reigns Above,” “All My Hope is Firmly Grounded,” and “Blessed Assurance” as Bishops Easterling, Devadhar, Fisher and Lyght, the Conference Lay Leader Delores Martin, the clergy of the Conference, and those to be commissioned, received or ordained descended the ballroom staircase to process into the ballroom.

Tommy Murray, Provisional Elder candidate, led the “Call to Worship.” Bishop Easterling offered a Greeting. Ordinand Kara June Scroggins led the “Opening Prayer.” The bishop then led the “Recognition of Common Ministry and Reaffirmation of Baptism.” The music team led the congregation in singing “Guide Me, O Thou Great Jehovah.”

The Conference Lay Leader, Delores Martin, and the chair of the Board of Ordained Ministry, the Rev. C. Anthony Hunt, presented the persons being commissioned and ordained. The Rev. Scott Schmacher, Registrar for the Provisional Membership and the Registrar for Full Membership, read the names of their respective candidates that included a Candidate for Readmission to the Order of Elders, William G. Thomas. Bishop Easterling conducted the “General Examination of Faith,” after which musical selections were provided by the Epworth UMC Praise Team.

Evelyn Rivera, Provisional Elder, read the Old Testament Scripture text, Exodus 16:1-4, in Spanish, her native language. Myungha Baek, Commissioned Elder, asked the congregation to stand for the Gospel lesson, Luke 11:5-13, which he read in Korean and English. The Epworth UMC Praise Team, led those gathered in “Jesus at the Center” and “How Great Thou Art.”

Bishop Ernest S. Lygt, retired episcopal leader of the West Virginia Annual Conference, preached on the theme, “What Unites Us?” He explained that an ordination service is a time of worship and invited all to “have a good time in the Lord.” He shared that the Eastern shore of Maryland is his home. Maryland is also home because he graduated from Morgan State University, as did his father and four siblings. He lifted up John 6:35, “Jesus said, I am the bread of life,” as related to the other Scriptures read and then asked, “What unites us?” He pointed out that in the Service of Ordination we see a “representation of the partnership between the laity and the clergy.” He instructed the clergy that if they forgot, that he could “guarantee you will be in trouble.” “What is it that unites us?” he asked repeatedly. “Pentecost unites us.” He also said we need to be touched by the Holy Spirit over and over again because of our nature. He talked about the conversations Christians are having in their congregations about their lives, their livelihood, and their children. He spoke of the “midnight hour” as he retold the story of Luke 11:5-13, where a friend goes to a neighbor and asks for bread at midnight. Bishop Lyght asked if we are willing to share bread with our neighbor as the man did in the Scripture. The men were united by their friendship. But most importantly was the man’s persistence as he continued to knock on the door. “So knock, even if it is midnight,” he preached. He told us that we should also be persistent in our prayers.

“Bread was another element in the story,” he continued. Bishop Lyght shared that he was aware that there are many who have no bread to give. As he reflected on the story of the Israelites wandering in the wilderness, he pointed out that God provided for them daily, no leftovers. The bread was always fresh.

“We pray, ‘Lord give us our daily bread,’” Lyght said. When people come to the church, they come looking for something. Churches, he elaborated, have bread — “bread of faith, bread of hope, and the bread of love.” They are fully expecting to find fresh bread: a faith community, not a doubting community, that has confidence in the future and that will have confidence in everyone. “Is that the kind of community that your church is?” the bishop asked.

Too often, Bishop Lyght said, people find stale bread. “They find warmed-over bread, or they find no bread at all.” Rolls need yeast. Without it the rolls will be flat. He asked, “Is your church flat?” He continued, “The Holy Spirit is the yeast of the church.”

As he moved to his final point, he again asked, “What is it that unites us? That which unites us is Jesus Christ. Therefore, brothers and sisters, keep the bread fresh. Jesus is the real bread and the real bread comes from God who loves us. The bread of life is what people need. What do we have to offer? We have Jesus. It’s not the preacher; it’s not the choir. It’s Jesus. Offer them Christ. Keep it fresh.” Prayer, Bible study, and worship help us to stay fresh, he said. He charged the Baltimore-Washington Conference to offer the bread of life – Jesus Christ.

The conference music team invited everyone to join in singing the hymn, “Breathe on Me, Breath of God.”

The candidates for Provisional Membership were examined and then each was commissioned. Jennifer Lynn Kokoski was commissioned as a Provisional Deacon. Those commissioned as Provisional Elders include: Daniel James Breidenbaugh, Allison Thomas DeLeo, Walter Daniel Jackson, III, Heerak Kim, Tommy Maurice Murray, Kathleen O’Hern, Heather Jean Olson, Monica Elizabeth Raines, and Evelyn Rivera. Family and friends stood in affirmation as the bishops and lay leader laid hand on each candidate. District Superintendent Rev. Edgardo Rivera joined in the laying on of hands on his spouse, Evelyn Rivera. The newly commissioned were affirmed through the applause of the congregation.

Becki Price spoke on the ROCK retreat and the desire to partner with each of the churches. The evening’s offering was to provide scholarships for youth in need to attend ROCK. The Epworth UMC Praise Team sang the offertory selection. Price gave the offertory prayer.

Bsishop Easterling then examined those candidates for ordination. William Thomas was readmitted as an Elder. The following were ordained Elder: Myungha Baek, Mark Christopher Gorman, YuJung Hwang, Selena Marie Johnson, Robert Edward Kells, Jr., Ginger Ray Medley, and Kara June Scroggins. Family and friends stood in prayerful affirmation as the Bishops, lay leader and sponsors laid hands upon each of them. Each candidate was also draped with a stole particular to his/her Order. After the last candidate had been ordained, the congregation expressed through applause its affirmation and celebration. All joined in singing the hymn, “I Am Thine, O Lord.”

Bishop Easterling issued “An Invitation to Hear God’s Call to Ordained Ministry.” Members of the Cabinet and BOOM were positioned at the front to pray with those who came forward as the congregation sang, “Here I Am, Lord.” The bishop offered a “Prayer of Discernment” and then led the congregation in the “Closing Prayer.” Following the bishop’s “Dismissal With Blessing,” the congregation sang, “Now Thank We All Our God” as the bishops, the newly commissioned, ordained and received, the conference lay leader and the clergy recessed.

Bible Study

Friday, June 2, 2017 | 8 a.m.

The participants were encouraged to center and prepare for Bible study as the song “Total Praise” was led by the Rev. Ron Triplett and the conference musicians. The Rev. Jen Fenner offered the opening prayer. Mayuris Pimentel led the “Litany of Preparation.” the Rev. Doug Powe introduced the Rev. Steven Manskar.

On day two of the Bible study, the text was Ephesians 4:7, 11-16. “The church is the instrument of God’s mission in the world,” Manskar explained. “When the world looks at and encounters the church it should see Christ.”

After reviewing day one, Manskar, instructed that in Verse 7, Paul reminds us that “we are saved by grace through faith so that we can live and serve as citizens of God’s kingdom and ambassadors of Christ to the world.”

Manskar asked that congregants discuss the question: “How does your congregation serve as an outpost or embassy of God’s kingdom to the neighborhood?” He encouraged the assembled to carry the question back to their churches.

God gives each of us the gifts that equip us to serve as Christ’s representatives in the world, he said. Those gifts are described in Verses 11-13 and Manskar explained that the church’s leadership must have five essential ministries: apostles to ensure faith is transmitted from one generation to the next; prophets, who speak for God and challenge “dominant” cultural assumptions; evangelists, who proclaim the good news to the neighborhood and the world; pastors, who care for the people of the church and its leaders and the community as they lead their members to “spiritual maturity”; and teachers who instruct in the way of Jesus and keep the congregation centered on Christ.

Manskar explained that John Wesley trained laity weekly through “class meetings” led by lay people as class leaders, disciples who could disciple others. He asked that they reflect upon who are the “five” in their congregations. The task of leaders is to identify the “five” and “to remove blockages to grace so they can serve God.”

In the weekly class meetings, members responded to the question, “How is it with your soul?” The weekly meetings were where the Methodists watched over one another and “spoke the truth in love.” It was where the apostles, prophets, evangelist, pastors, and teachers were “formed, identified and sent to serve as pillars the church needs to carry out its mission with Christ in the world.” It was in these communities that most Methodists came to Christ and were nurtured to “grow up in every way into Christ.”

Recounting one of his favorite scenes from the movie, “42,” Manskar explains that it is 1947 and it is Jackie Robinson’s rookie year with the Brooklyn Dodgers. Branch Rickey, the team’s general manager, is a “devout, Methodist layman.” Meeting with resistance when he selected Robinson, Rickey closed the discussion with the words: “Robinson’s a Methodist. I’m a Methodist. God’s a Methodist. We can’t go wrong.” Manskar says, “Robinson was a prophet; Rickey was an evangelist.”

He closed with the words from “Jesus, United by thy Grace” by Charles Wesley, which he said summarizes the message of Ephesians 4:1-16:

“Help us to build each other up, Our little stock improve, Increase our faith, confirm our hope, And perfect us in love.”

Third Plenary Session

Friday, June 2, 2017 | 8 a.m.

Bishop Easterling introduced the Bishop Richard H. Graham, Bishop of the Metropolitan Washington, D.C., Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America. He brought greetings from the Synod. He said that 2017 marks the 500th anniversary of the beginning of the Protestant Reformation and reminded those present of the actions of Martin Luther. He shared that at a “critical moment” in his life, John Wesley heard the reading of Martin Luther’s preface to the letter to the Romans and was influenced by his writings. The Lutherans and the Methodists have a “lot in common,” he continued, “and this is a good year to remember that.” He wanted to pay tribute to “the Methodists who shaped my own faith” and said that he was a Lutheran today because of his very “persuasive” Lutheran mother. His father was a Methodist. His remembered his father’s faith and faithfulness and the family’s deep Baltimore roots including grandparents who attended Lovely Lane UMC. He encouraged those gathered to believe that “we are being prepared to be the renewal that God wants to pour out on this weary world” and experience the power of what God can do. He concluded his message stating “Jesus Christ has called us to serve him in companionship and in peace with other Christians. We Lutherans have not always done this well. You Methodists have done it better. We are honored to be your partners and your fellow servants of the one Lord Jesus Christ.”

The Bishop greeted the plenary and called the session to order. She called for the Stewardship Report. She welcomed Richard Willson, Cumberland Hagerstown District Lay Leader, to the dais.

The Rev. Ann LaPrade, Chair of the Conference Committee on Finance and Administration, gave the presentation on the 2018 budget proposal. The budget continues the “strategic shift” to fund Retiree Medical from non-apportionment reserves. She explained that this strategy enables us to continue to focus on three long-term stewardship objectives: 1) Minimize long-term debts and obligations; 2) Replenish exhausted reserves; 3) Keep cost controls in place.

LaPrade explained that the best indication of the continued focus on cost controls on the budget is exhibited by the apportionment requests from churches that will remain flat for the sixth straight yearly budget cycles, even as the conference budget has gone up and down during the past seven budget cycles. The Benevolence Factor was decreased to 17.725%, the first reduction in the benevolence factor since it was reduced from 19.5% during the course of the 2011 and 2013 budgets. The budget funds a full-time Hispanic Ministries that is offset by a reduction in Conference grants. The budget also reflects a projected 4.2% increase in camping registrations.

She updated the conference on the Imagine No Malaria Campaign. Collections to date are $1.94 million or 92% of our conference goal of $2.1 million. While the campaign officially ended in 2016, donations continue coming in and the conference is only $163,000 short of the goal. She thanked everyone in the conference for their support.

LaPrade then presented the six CFA recommendations. The bishop called for questions. Jen Ihlo, member at large, noted that based on conference rules, the final recommendation (#6) should include the Discipleship Council in acting on financial matters between sessions of Annual Conference and asked that it be added as an amendment to which LaPrade agreed.

A layperson from Perry Hall UMC, asked how we could justify an increase in salary for staff when not all clergy get an increase in salary. LaPrade responded that her question would be addressed in the Equitable Compensation report. The bishop called for the vote. The recommendation passed.

Rev. LaPrade asked for a moment of personal privilege to recognize Paul Eichelberger, Conference CFO and Treasurer, and his financial staff who she said are “truly amazing” with regard to their skills and their dedication. She also recognized the members of CFA as “servant volunteers” who give generously of their time and talents. She said they were truly “connected in covenant.” She asked that they stand and be recognized. Rev. Darryl Williams asked that the annual conference recognize and acknowledge the work of LaPrade as she moves on to be a District Superintendent.

Chair of the Commission on Equitable Compensation, the Rev. Jim Johnson, recommended: a 2% ($846) increase for minimum salary for full-time clergy to $43,149; housing would remain at $19,866. The body approved the recommendation with one no vote and one abstention.

The Rev. Jackson Day, Chair of the Conference Board of Pensions and Health Benefits, gave an overview of the health benefits available to for active and retirees. The 2018 plan year is the first year the General Board of Pensions and Health Benefits, now renamed Wespath, has had enough data to calculate the actual cost of the plans. Based on the data, the premiums for 2018 were increased. Local church rates increase by $20 per month and participant rate increases by $10-20 per month. These rate increases are lower than the marketplace increases. Retiree health benefits are fully funded. He also explained the arrearages trends and the progress is being made and how the arrearages will continue to be addressed. He asked for the approval of the comprehensive funding plan that must be approved each year as well as approval of six recommendations. Day thanked the conference financial staff and the members of the Board of Pensions for their hard work.

Rev. Katie Bishop, New Hope UMC, part of a clergy couple, asked the question she said she asks every year regarding the amounts clergy couples and their churches pay because they are a couple. They are now on the same plan, for which they are thankful. However, their churches paid more than $20,000 for the combined cost of the one plan and their family had to pay her participant portion plus her husband’s family participant portion. She asked that the conference continue to explore ways to do clergy couple health insurance that is more reasonable for their congregations. Day responded that they continue to study the issue and are trying to find ways to address the issue. Rev. Loretta Johnson, Jones Memorial UMC in DC, commented that many pastors are in second careers from which they have retired and have medical insurance. However, because of equitable consideration, their churches pay the same rate as other churches for insurance that is generally not used. She asked that consideration be given to churches with second career pastors so that they and the pastors who already have health insurance coverage, not have to pay health insurance premiums. No response was given. The bishop called for the vote. The recommendations passed.

Paul Eichelberger, Conference Treasurer, welcomed Rev. Lloyd Rollins to the microphone.

The Rev. Clarence Brown of the Virginia Annual Conference accompanied him. Brown brought greetings from Bishop Sharma D. Lewis, the first African-American woman elected to the episcopacy in the Southeast Jurisdiction.

On behalf of the Chancellor, faculty, staff, students and friends of Africa University, Brown thanked the Annual Conference for paying 100% of the apportioned asking for Africa University. Africa University recently celebrated its 25th Anniversary and has graduated more than 7,000 men and women. To commemorate the conference's "covenant faithfulness," Brown presented the bishop with a banner. Bishop Easterling thanked the conference for the accomplishment and asked that the work continue.

Bishop Easterling then extolled the great work of the individuals on the stage who she described as some of the "most faithful, committed, sincere and hardworking financial ministers" she had ever seen. She stated that the Baltimore-Washington Conference is the strongest financial conference in the entire jurisdiction because of the faithful work of them all. She assured everyone that she spends time with Eichelberger making sure funds at the conference level are spent appropriately and looking at whether staffing reductions are in order. The Bishop's intention is to make sure that every dollar spent can be translated into "effective mission and ministry in the mission field."

The Rev. Tony Love, Assistant to the Bishop, introduced the Rev. Dr. Doug Ruffle, Associate Executive Director, New Church Starts, Path I, Discipleship Ministries, who presented the "One Matters" Award. He gave a greeting from the Discipleship Ministries General Secretary, Rev. Junius B. Dotson. Ruffle shared that this was a serendipitous moment for him because the award was being presented to a church that was one of two churches in the Baltimore-Washington Conference that supported him when he served as a missionary in Argentina for nine years. The award was created in 2015 to lift up churches that had moved in recent years from zero baptisms and professions of faith into positive numbers as they focused on "intentional discipleship." In addition to the One Matters plaque, the church receives $1,000 to encourage their continuation in the work of discipleship. He invited those present to ask, "What are they doing differently that is helping them to turn things around by God's grace?" The award represents "a life transformed by the grace of God, a life that matters to God, a life that matters to us – each one matters." He invited Cumberland-Hagerstown District Superintendent, Rev. Conrad Link, and Pastor Kyle Durbin to come forward and receive the award. Link shared that the church had gone to half time, almost one-quarter time in 2011 and was assigned a half time student of Wesley Seminary. The church, Frostburg UMC, over five years grew from 42 in worship to over 100 under the Rev. Jennifer Weber, who has moved to Texas with her husband for an appointment. Under Durbin, the current pastor, the church has grown to 200 at two Sunday worship services. Durbin pointed out that the quilt displayed on the stage of Annual Conference was made by ladies at his church who over three years have given away over 580 quilts to people in need. Every Wednesday, for one hour, the church does Bible study and gives away Bibles at a local elementary school. The Bishop offered her praise for the work of the pastors and challenged other districts, in light of this being the second year Cumberland-Hagerstown churches have received the award.

The bishop recognized Bishop Fisher, who was preparing to depart, and acknowledged Bishops Devadhar and Lyght who had already departed. The session was closed.

Service of the Saints

Those gathered joined in singing "I Sing a Song of the Saints of God." Bishop Easterling began the service with the Call to Worship with the familiar words, "Dying, Christ destroyed our death. Rising, Christ restored our life." As "Come, Let Us Join Our Friends Above" and "Rejoice in God's Saints" was sung, the procession entered the ballroom with family members and friends of the departed being directed to their seats. Deaconess Logan Alley led the Litany and Pastor Sherwyn Benjamin read the Scripture, 1 John 3:1-3. Following the singing of “For All the Saints,” Pastor Benjamin read John 14:1-4.

In her sermon, “Blest Communion,” the Rev. Ginger Gaines-Cirelli stated, “In so many ways we are reminded of the greatest promise that holds us together.” She shared her memories of Bishop Felton May laying hands upon her head at ordination. As Gaines-Cirelli recalled Bishop May’s voice, she also remembered his modeling the use of hymns to pray and invited the congregation to pray with her the words of “Breathe on Me, O Breath of God.” She reminded everyone, “God is with us in our suffering and grief,” and “that in and through Jesus Christ, death never has the last word.”

She related the text of her message, John 14:1-4, to the way families tell old family stories. Gaines-Cirelli called us to celebrate the life of those who died and who “walked in the way that leads to life.” She said that all of the departed are all “our people” and that Christ “knows and loves each one intimately.” Lifting up the conference theme, Gaines-Cirelli declared that, “We are One in God because we belong to God. We are God’s children.” In closing she said that “The promise is life together with those we love and with the one who loves all of us beyond measure.”

After the Words of Comfort, special music, “The Lord’s Prayer,” was performed by Youngsoo An, Baritone; Sophie Hong, Pianist; and Ahreum Kim, Violinist.

As “Shepherd Me, O God” was softly sang, the Conference Secretary, Cynthia Taylor, read the names of the bishops and bishops’ spouses who died during the previous year. We remembered with praise and thanksgiving the following:

Bishop Emerson Stephen Colaw
 Bishop Moisés Domingos Fernandes
 Bishop Felton Edwin May
 Bishop Franz W. Schäfer
 Kathleen “Kathy” Thomas Sano
 Louise Baird Short
 Ruth Naomi Wilson Thomas
 Gwendolyn “Gwen” Ruth White

After each bishop’s name was read, Bishop Easterling lit a candle in memory of the departed and as the name of each spouse was read, the Rev. Marion Easterling did likewise.

Throughout the reading of all the departed, those in the congregation who knew them stood in memory.

Taylor read the names of clergy who died during the last year while “More Like You,” was gently sung:

Richard C. Broome, Jr.	Roland “Bud” Brown III
Wesley Callahan	Richard Lee Duncan
Francis J. Fisk	Glenn H. Hickman
Guy H. Johnson	Harry Campbell Kiely
Harold W. Malone	George M. Manhart
Russell B. McClatchey	Andrew K. Meeder
William E. Merki	Robert E. Moales
Ralph E. Monroe	Richard E. Nowers
John Storer Park	Elgar Clyde Soper
Donna C. Snodgrass	George A. Stansbury
James F.W. Talley	Adrienne Terry
Ronald R. Winterberg

As each name was read, family members, friends or District Superintendents Rebecca Iannicelli and Gerard Green came forward to light candles in memory of the departed saints.

Taylor then read the names of clergy spouses who had died since the last Conference session:

Walter Coates	Elizabeth Coursey
Richard C. Dyson	Lois M. Hamilton
Richard N. Howington	Larocca "Rocky" Tewell Jones
Ida Kelley	Frances Dean Thomas McDonald
Louise Armell Monroe	Robert E. Muller
Molly M. Nash	Darryl J. Nelson
Elsin A. Perry	Genevieve Dabkowski "Jean" Subock
Helen Mabel Timity	Nancy Weber
Robert H. Weller

During the reading of the names, "Christ Beside Me" was gently sung and family members, friends or the Revs. Doug Powe and Hi Rho Park lit candles in memory of the departed saints.

Also with praise and thanksgiving, Taylor read the names of laity who shared their lives and witness with the Baltimore-Washington Conference as "Grace Alone" was quietly sang:

David Bryant Ault
 Dorothy M. Boyd
 Shirley Campbell-Lang
 Ruth L. Giles
 Donald E. Hall
 William "Bill" Olsen
 Stanley L. Prather
 John Sanbury Warman
 Nadine Williams
 Thomas "Tommy" S. Williams
 Carl Zenkert (lay staff)

As each name was read, family members or Delores Martin, Conference Lay Leader, lit a candle in memory of the departed.

Taylor then invited all those who had experienced the death of a loved one within the conference year to stand as they remembered with praise and thanksgiving lives well lived and service well rendered. Martin lit one candle for them all.

The gathering sang "Just a Closer Walk with Thee." Bishop Easterling offered a closing prayer and "Words of Hope and Blessing." The procession departed to the singing of "When We All Get to Heaven."

Fourth Plenary Session

Friday, June 2, 2017 | 2 p.m.

The Rev. Ron Triplett welcomed the assemblage and invited them to join in singing "Spirit of the Living God." Bishop Easterling asked for thanks for the Praise Team as she brought the session to order.

The Revs. Deborah Scott and Sarah Schlieckert came to the microphone regarding Resolution #4 from the previous year's annual conference, 2016 Journal, page 291, "Policy Used Upon Death of a Pastor While Serving a Local Church." Bishop Easterling thanked them for bringing the issue to the floor and stated that the Chancellor had looked at the resolution and has issued a written report to the bishop's office and to Paul Eichelberger. They are reviewing it and will address the issue next year. In addition, she said there are several issues that need to be addressed and the Discipleship Council has given authority to create an ad hoc committee to look at legislation and other things that have been discussed and decided but have not found a “home.” She added that Melissa Lauber, the Director of Communications, is being included in discussions to put these items on the website in a manner that will enable people to easily find them. The bishop committed to ensuring the issue would come to the floor next year. Scott asked that they be consulted to make sure their concerns are addressed. The bishop agreed to do so.

Bishop Easterling moved on to the approval of the Consent Calendar. The calendar was unanimously approved.

Next the Rev. Rod Miller, Chair, of the BWC Commission on Religion and Race, came forward to give a report on the “Call to Action” from the Northeastern Jurisdiction. A video, “Worlds Apart,” was shown. The video was a beer commercial, but served as an example of moving past biases and “isms” by getting to know the “other” and building relationships across lines of difference. He explained that in response to a “wave of unarmed black lives lost” and the belief that “all lives matter equally to God and because we as the people of The United Methodist Church haven’t done enough, the delegates to the Northeastern Jurisdictional Conference unanimously voted to adopt a ‘Call to Action for racial justice and reconciliation.’” The vision is to engage the entire annual conference in the “Call to Action” with the goal of getting everyone to Level 4 of behaviors that “exemplify our faith” and become “Change Agents” who “act as role models. To take action when appropriate and address others’ behaviors when necessary.” He outlined the five main strategies for dismantling racism to build and be “beloved community” that the conference is participating in. Item number five includes a summit, October 21-22, 2017, to share ways to strengthen and plant black and multiethnic faith communities.

Miller announced that the NEJ Multi-Ethnic Center will be moving back to the Baltimore-Washington Conference and will be led by Bishop Easterling with Rev. Tony Love, Assistant to the Bishop, serving as Executive Director.

Everyone was given time to complete the covenant card that was attached to a “Call to Action” document that had been distributed. Miller asked that everyone pledge to make individual commitments to act by marking the card appropriately. He instructed everyone to write down what they committed to because the cards were collected.

Bishop Easterling welcomed Peggy Ireland, Washington East Lay Leader, to the dais.

Bishop Easterling asked if the Rev. Dr. HiRho Park was present but she had left and the bishop asked the Rev. J. W. Park, her spouse, to share that we were blessed by her presence at annual conference.

The bishop called upon the Rev. Stacey Cole-Wilson to present the four United Methodist foci. The four areas of focus are: 1) Creating new and renewed congregations; 2) Developing principled Christian leaders; 3) Engaging in ministry with the poor, and 4) Improving global health. Cole-Wilson gave brief descriptions of the four foci including examples of how the denomination is acting on them. Building on Imagine No Malaria, the global health focus coordinated by the General Board of Global Ministries Abundant Health, has a goal to reach one million children with life-saving interventions by 2020. A short video was shown explaining the health issues of children throughout the world: “Abundant Health – Our Promise to Children.”

Members of the Young Adult Council joined the chair, Raimon Jackson, on stage. Members gave a presentation that verbalized their theme “We are Different, But We are Connected.” The council has grown in numbers and in faith. They have been building relationships that build connection. Their largest event was “One Love,” with 150 participants from throughout the country in worship together. The event will be repeated next year. The bishop called for the conference to celebrate the young adults who are planting new churches and new ministries. The Good Job Cheer was raised for the YAC.

Executive Committee members joined the Rev. Eliezer Valentin-Castañón, chair of the Committee on Hispanic/Latino Ministries for the Baltimore-Washington Conference, on stage. The committee includes District Superintendent Edgardo Rivera, who was instrumental in the establishment of the group, and Hispanic/Latino Ministries in the conference. Valentin-Castañón introduced new conference staff member, Emma Escobar, who this year became coordinator of Hispanic/Latino Ministries for the conference. She is the contact for information. He asked all who are working to reach out to the Latino Community to stand. Valentin-Castañón extended thanks to Bishop Easterling for her support and commitment to the ministry. The committee received help from the National Plan for Hispanic/Latino Ministry for visioning and strategic planning to help churches in the conference reach out to the Hispanic/Latino community. Their three priorities are: 1) Connectional Commitment to increase the visibility of the work they are doing and the visibility of the Latino population in our midst; 2) Faithful Discipleship to be more engaged with immigrant communities in our midst; 3) Education and Advocacy to engage where there is exploitation and oppression. The goal is to work with each district to strengthen outreach to the Latino community and make disciples for the Kingdom of God. Bishop Easterling reiterated that the work of the committee is central to the work of the conference and the Gospel. She stated the work is “our work.”

Cole-Wilson asked the Connectional Ministries staff to come forward and be acknowledged. She gave an overview of the areas of ministry represented by the staff explaining the work of each.

Becky Price described ROCK 2018 (January 26-28, 2018 in Ocean City, Maryland) as the “life-transforming, God-encountering annual retreat of the Baltimore-Washington Conference for youth and adults.” ROCK is where young people will learn about the love of Jesus Christ. A video was shown. In addition to a great band, Bishop LaTrelle Easterling will be the speaker. Price encouraged those interested to go to the website for more information and resources. The Bishop celebrated the previous night’s offering of $4,000 to provide scholarships to enable young people in need of assistance to attend ROCK. The bishop thanked Joyful Noise and Tom and Becky Price for all their leadership.

The Rev. Kelly Grimes, a student in the Doctor of Ministry Program at Wesley Theological Seminary, talked about how much the school has done for her and the opportunity she was given to expand her outlook on the world as a Wesleyan person. Every six months she leaves the country where she is meeting people from all over the world at the University of Cambridge. Pastor Kyle Durbin shared that his path to ministry had many highs and lows, hiccups and speed bumps. His support was Wesley Theological Seminary and his family as well as teachers, professors, district superintendents, pastors, and congregations. Wesley Seminary supported him and brought him through. He is doing his Doctorate in Theology in the Arts online and on campus. A video was shown and at the conclusion of the presentation, alums and current students were asked to stand.

Kristin Kumpf and Rebecca Cole, Grassroots Program Coordinator, presented a report on the General Board of Church and Society, the denomination’s justice agency. Kumpf shared the story of a United Methodist Lay Leader in Kansas, who was detained by ICE. He was one of 600 arrests in 11 states during one weekend. The United Methodist Church has an Inter-Agency Immigration Task Force that is made up of leaders from all sectors of the church. Bishop Easterling serves on the Council of Bishops immigration task force. A national gathering on Immigration was held in D.C. in March at Foundry UMC. Five areas ministry were identified: 1) Sanctuary, 2) Care of immigrant women and children, 3) Standing with young, undocumented, 4) Solidarity with brothers and sisters in Central America, and 5) Just immigration policies.

Rebecca Cole described the ways local congregations can support immigrants from rapid response teams to physical sanctuary to hosting “know your rights trainings.” The denomination’s Connectional Table designated $100,000 for immigrant justice. Teams from the Baltimore-Washington Conference have been formed and are involved in the work. An invitation was issued to join in the work and to visit umcjustice.org for more information. Bishop Easterling encouraged congregations to do a Bible study and to have speakers to increase their understanding of immigration if they are not yet ready to act. She also urged the reading of the Social Principle on Immigration.

District Superintendent J. W. Park, chair of the Korea Partnership, updated the conference on the initiative. A group of Korean Methodist pastors and laity from the South Conference came to the Baltimore-Washington Conference from May 23 to June 5, 2016. The group was comprised of four clergy members and two laity of whom four were men and two females. The group stayed at the homes of pastors. Korean Methodist pastors and their hosts had the opportunity to compare the way ministry is done in their respective countries. The group toured Lovely Lane Church and Museum, historic Methodist African-American Churches, the Inner Harbor, West River Camp (overnight), and attended the 2016 Annual Conference joined by the Bishop of the South Conference Korean United Methodist Church who gave the greeting. Park thanked all who hosted the delegation members in their homes and all who provided assistance; those who had been to Korea; and the members of the Korea Committee. In July 2017 a delegation from the Baltimore-Washington Conference will go to Korea – five clergy and two lay persons, two males and five females. Lastly, he thanked the Baltimore Washington Korean Caucus for their support.

Frederick District Superintendent Edgardo Rivera reported on the Puerto Rico Partnership that was initiated two years ago. Calvary Centennial Cooperative Parish in Frederick, Middletown, Tom’s Creek, Fallston and Mount Carmel UMCs support the Puerto Rico Partnership. Next year, Bishop Easterling will be travelling to Puerto Rico with a delegation. This year, a couple of youth are coming from Puerto Rico to participate in the Annual Hispanic/Latino retreat at West River Camp to lead worship and facilitate what Rivera described as a bilateral relationship. He concluded by sharing that someone from a church in the United States came to Puerto Rico and shared the word of Christ with him. His family began to know Christ. The diversity and connection of the church gives him hope.

Pastor Rob Pierson brought greetings from the Eurasian Ministry Partnership. The partnership continues to have a great connection with the camping ministry in Central Russia in the city of Voronezh. They serve children with handicaps and disabilities who have never had a chance to leave their homes. Two mission teams will be going in 2017 to support them and to share the Gospel. He will lead a team from the West Ohio Conference to do renovations and build relationships at the camp. The partnership has special relationships with Resurrection United Methodist Church in Voronezh and Transfiguration United Methodist Church in Volgograd. Resurrection is a music ministry that involves international students from around the world including many from Africa. Transfiguration does music on the streets and reaches out to people with artistic abilities. The conference has also supported Elena Melnikova, a leader of the United Methodist Women, who is working on her Masters of Divinity at Wesley Theological Seminary and is also attending Cambridge University. She is active at the camp and leads family ministries. In the South District, he and the Rev. Charles Harrell visited churches and reached out to the Roma people. They offer outreach to travelling students from many countries. In Kirsch they are insulating a building they share with other churches.

The Eurasia ministry covers 11 time zones. This year, the Eurasia Partnership hosted the “In Mission Together” Conference at the BWC Mission Center in Fulton. Russian partners made presentations. The worship was done by Internet and allowed participation of United Methodists in Moscow, Northern Russian, Ukraine, and Kazakhstan. On Sunday, visitors from overseas preached and presided over worship in Bel Air, Ellicott City and Cumberland.

The Nominations Report was presented by Sarah Ford, chair, who was accompanied by Pastor Gay Green-Carden passing the torch after eight years as chair. Ford thanked the Nominations Committee and Green-Carden for her support. The slate was approved with the proviso that the report continues to be perfected.

The bishop requested a musical interlude to prepare for the remainder of the session.

The Rev. Jeff Paulson requested a moment of personal privilege adding he was speaking on the conference floor for the first time in 24 years. He shared that he was moving from his present church, Pleasant Hill, that had people from 15 different nations. He is moving to Liberty Grove, a church that is also diverse. He recounted that his church has been praying every week for the 200 girls taken in Nigeria. He celebrated the two times that girls have been released but continues to pray for those left behind. He invited us to remember our roots and to go out into the world because the world is our parish and we are the church of Jesus Christ. The bishop asked Paulson to pray.

Baltimore Metropolitan District Superintendent Ed DeLong presented two resolutions on church closures: “Resolution to Close the Centennial-Caroline Street United Methodist Church, Baltimore, MD” and “Resolution to Close the Overlea United Methodist Church, Baltimore, MD.” Rev. Katie Bishop, New Hope United Methodist, asked if money was going to be kept in the urban area and used for new church starts. The bishop affirmed that it was disciplinary and conference policy to do so. The resolutions passed.

The Dean of the Cabinet, the Rev. J. W. Park, invited the District Superintendents and District Assistants to stand together as he presented the District Superintendents’ Report. He thanked the clergy and laity for all the work done in the name of Jesus Christ. He introduced the District Superintendents and Assistants for each District. He commended their hard work and dedication. He acknowledged the election of Bishop Cynthia Moore Koi-Koi, former Baltimore Metropolitan District Superintendent, and asked for prayers for her. Park acknowledged the enthusiastic leadership of interim Baltimore Metropolitan District Superintendent, Rev. Ed DeLong, and wished him well as he begins his “second” retirement. Rev. Park welcomed the Rev. Wanda Duckett, the new Baltimore Metropolitan District Superintendent, and shared the transitioning of Baltimore Suburban District Superintendent, the Rev. Laura Easto, to serve as pastor of Potomac UMC. He honored her for her creative and caring leadership. The Rev. Ann LaPrade will serve as the new Baltimore Suburban District Superintendent. He asked everyone to keep the conference staff in prayer this year.

Park said that the Baltimore-Washington Conference is one of the most diverse conferences in the denomination, and is among the most united in Christ. He then said, “We all come to the church from many places. Take a look” and the video, “Out of Many Make Us One: Reflections From the District Superintendents of the BWC” was shown.

Bishop Easterling shared that she and her Cabinet approaches all that they do in prayer and take very seriously the appointment process as sacred and holy work. She added that they also have fun together. She then proclaimed that she is the most fortunate Bishop in the jurisdiction and the United Methodist Church because she has the best Cabinet in The United Methodist Church. She recognized the Rev. Laura Easto and Edwin DeLong for their service. She asked that the conference be in prayer for the Baltimore Region as they receive new district superintendents.

Lastly, Bishop Easterling commended the work of the Rev. J. W. Park for his four years of service as Dean of the Cabinet. She welcomed the new Dean of the Cabinet, the Rev. Conrad Link. The bishop acknowledged her new Assistant to the Bishop, the Rev. Dr. Antoine Love, and the new Director of Connectional Ministries, Christie Latona, adding that it is important to lift up laity and model their importance.

T. C. Morrow, Lay Member at Foundry, rose for a moment of personal privilege. She shared a statement regarding the decision of the Board of Ordained Ministry not to put forward its recommendation for her Provisional Membership as a Deacon, and her reflection on all that is good in The United Methodist Church. Baptized as an infant in The United Methodist Church and confirmed as a 12 year old, she met her wife at Wesley Seminary. She elaborated on the good in the church she sees but feels that God calls her to serve now and she will continue to do so. She prays for all to be able to answer God's call to "follow" and to serve.

Bishop Easterling thanked her for her heartfelt statement. Rev. Dawn Hand was asked to lead the annual conference in prayer. The session was closed following announcements.

Fifth Plenary Session

Service of Appointments

As the people gathered, they were instructed to celebrate and cheer as the district banners carried by clergy and lay from those districts receiving new appointments processed in, followed by clergy and lay pairs of those churches receiving new appointments. They processed in to the hymns "We are All in Mission" and "We're Marching to Zion."

The Rev. Laura Easto, outgoing Baltimore Suburban District Superintendent, and John Gautier, the District Administrator, invited everyone to join them in the "Call to Worship." Easto reminded the group to continue to pray for the family of Deborah Albrecht, Administrative Assistant to the Bishop, whose newborn grandchild, Jamison, was taken to Johns Hopkins Hospital shortly after his birth because of medical issues. She then led the "Opening Prayer." The Rev. Ron Tippett led the congregation in singing "Come on and Bless the Lord With Me." The Scripture, Ephesians 4:1-6, was read by the Rev. Gladman Kapfumvuti.

Bishop LaTrelle Easterling led the "Call to the Church," describing the ministry of the Church as the ministry of all Christians. The Rev. J. W. Park, Dean of the Cabinet, then issued the "Call to the Retirees" to which the retirees present responded. Bishop Easterling offered prayer for those retiring and all present concluded this section of the program by praying together for the retirees.

Park then asked lay members of churches receiving a new pastor to stand as he issued the "Call to the Laity." He then asked all clergy receiving a new appointment to stand as he issued the "Call to the Clergy." Bishop Easterling issued the "Call to Ministry" saying, "What we will proclaim and accomplish, imagine and create, receive and learn, dream and do in this world depends on these covenants: our covenant with God in Jesus Christ, and our covenants with one another in Christ's name." She continued, "Today, you have heard these covenants renewed among us. Will you bear witness? Will you affirm them?" Those gathered responded that they would.

Bishop Easterling then issued the "Recognition of Licenses" to recognize those who have completed their studies and been approved to be newly licensed. The Rev. J.W. Park asked that they stand as he read their names.

Bishop Easterling asked Park whether all appointments in all the districts were correct as published. He replied in the affirmative. The bishop then asked, “Are the appointments to Conference staff, to extension ministries, to attend school, and to other Annual Conferences correct as published? Park again answered in the affirmative.

The bishop took time to extol the significance of the moment by noting that “it is a high moment in the life of the annual conference when the Bishop actually fixes the appointments. The appointments are not fixed until they are received at the annual conference.” She explained that it was a moment to recognize and celebrate those who were “living into their calling and their covenant pledge.” She declared that “we celebrate with each district tonight.” Park read the names of new Cabinet appointments, the new Director of Connectional Ministries and other staff in new positions. The bishop then recognized the Rev. Dr. Maidstone Mulenga, new Director of Communications for the Council of Bishops, and, Jan Lawrence, Foundry UMC, who will be serving as the interim Director of the United Methodist Reconciling Ministries Network. Each District Superintendent called forward by name the new appointments on each of their districts accompanied by the lay representatives. Bishop Easterling called upon those present to welcome the newly appointed clergy and offered a prayer.

Bishop Easterling invited all to sing “God the Spirit, Guide and Guardian.”

Cynthia Taylor, Conference Secretary, then called for approval of the motion to adjourn:

I move that the 233rd annual session of the Baltimore-Washington Conference stand adjourned and that all reports printed in the Annual Conference Supplement, on the Conference website, or the BWC: We Are One app, which are not otherwise acted on, be considered received by the Annual Conference, and that unfinished business be referred to the appropriate Conference agency for consideration and action, and reported at the next session of the Annual Conference. We are moving forward.

Further, that the 234th annual session of the Baltimore-Washington Conference be convened at the call of the Presiding Bishop on May 30, 2018, at the Waterfront Marriott Hotel in Baltimore, Maryland.

Further, that the Conference Discipleship Council, the Conference Connectional Table and the appropriate Boards, Commissions, Councils and Committees be instructed, authorized, and empowered to handle all appropriate business or emergencies between meetings of the Baltimore-Washington Conference according to the Rules and structure of the Conference, provided the requirements of the 2016 edition of “The Book of Discipline of the United Methodist Church are not violated in any given situation.”

The motion was approved. The bishop recognized and thanked “those who have contributed to what I consider to be an amazing time of holy conferencing in what was 223rd Session of this Baltimore-Washington Annual Conference.” She asked all those on the conference staff who helped in any way to stand and be recognized for their hard work. She then recognized the staff of Good News TV. Delores Martin and the lay leaders were asked to stand and be recognized. She also thanked Ken Humbert, the parliamentarian, and Rev. Tony Love, for being her right-hand at the conference, and Joyce King, “mother of the conference,” to stand and be recognized.

With that, Bishop LaTrelle Easterling declared the conference concluded with the striking of her red gavel. She then asked that everyone remain for the closing worship.

Closing Worship

The closing worship began with a short video of the various shapes of different colored pieces of a mosaic coming together as one “connected by the Great Artist” and moving from focusing on our differences to recognizing we are part of something greater. We see that we are all part of “God’s big picture.” “In the beauty of the mosaic we discover that “We Are One.”

Pastor Kyle Durbin opened by sharing that throughout the conference we celebrated our districts and were in prayer together. He pointed out that there were four prayer stations in the rear of the conference and that many people wrote individual prayers on the cards which had been collected and placed in a basket which he placed on the altar to be prayed over and presented to the Lord. He tasked those gathered to join him in prayer. He then reminded those assembled that at the beginning of Annual Conference everyone received streamers, a different color for each region, that were waved in celebration. Durbin stated that those gathered were not going to leave as separate regions and districts, but were leaving as one. He directed everyone to tie the streamers together as music played so that they could become one body united in Christ. Throughout the ballroom participants joined the streamers together.

Following the “Closing Litany,” “Closing Prayer “and Scripture (John 17:20-23), everyone joined in singing “Leaning on the Everlasting Arms.” As the Bishop rose to give the “Benediction,” she declared, “I hope you know how proud I am to be your Bishop.” Cheers and applause were the response. She exclaimed, “I am looking forward to what God is gonna do through all of us.” She continued, “ Eye has not seen nor ear heard how God is going to move in the Baltimore-Washington Conference.” She offered the Benediction and the service concluded with the song, “God Be With You Till We Meet Again.”

PART II PERTAINING TO ORDAINED AND LICENSED CLERGY

(Note: A (v) notation following a question in this section signifies that the action or election requires a majority vote of the clergy session of the Annual Conference. If an action requires more than a simple majority, the notation (v 2/3) or (v 3/4) signifies that a two-thirds or three-fourths majority vote is required. Indicate credential of persons in Part II: FD, FE, PD, PE, and AM when requested.)

17. Are all the clergy members of the conference blameless in their life and official administration (§§604.4, 605.7)?

Response from the Dean and the Cabinet.

J.W. Park

We support and work closely with all of our clergy and congregations to assist them to become like Christ as they call, equip, send and support spiritual leaders to make disciples for the transformation of the world. Our goal, as John Wesley challenged each of us, is to move closer to perfection in our personal and professional lives all for the sake of the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

Through ordination, commissioning, and credentialing at various levels, the church affirms and continues the apostolic ministry through persons empowered by the Holy Spirit. Those who have sought to follow in the path of this tradition, especially as clergy in the United Methodist Church, have covenanted with each other to hold one another accountable to a lifetime of commitment and discipline.

The Bishop and Appointive Cabinet have carefully reviewed the character and conduct of the clergy of the Baltimore-Washington Conference of The United Methodist Church in accordance with paragraphs 604.4 and 605.6 of the 2016 Book of Discipline and found that the majority of clergy are faithful in fulfilling their calling while at the same time exemplifying models of Christian character. Meanwhile there are some clergy that the Bishop and Cabinet are working with on issues of character and effectiveness in accordance with the provisions of The Book of Discipline.

REPORTS

DISCIPLESHIP COUNCIL (CC)

The purpose of the Discipleship Council is to “a) function, as necessary, on behalf of the Annual Conference in between sessions; b) ensure the Conference resources align to our vision, mission and critical issues; and c) discern, develop, review and evaluate the strategic direction of the Conference toward its vision and goals.”

This has been a year of transition for the Discipleship Council. We are grateful for the opportunity to engage in dialogue with Bishop LaTrelle Easterling, concerning the direction of the BWC and the Discipleship Council. In this time, we have reaffirmed our mission as that of making Disciples of Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world. We discussed what makes a disciple of Jesus Christ and noted that a disciple is one who not only practices the spiritual disciplines, but who is dedicated and committed to making disciples. Disciple-making is not a quick process but involves time and commitment. In order to make disciples, we must begin with a willingness to share how Jesus Christ has touched and changed our lives. We celebrated our diversity and our effective partnership between laity and clergy. We celebrated our commitment to creating partnerships both locally and globally. The BWC is willing and ready to reach across “hallways, aisles, rivers and even oceans to help others” in experiencing the wonder of God’s amazing grace.

In our discussion with our bishop, it was noted that the BWC has many layers and that streamlining may be needed. Such streamlining should include an evaluation of the purpose and meaning of the Discipleship Council and its standing Committees, like the Ministry Oversight Relationship Committee. This committee, established by the 2014 Annual Conference, is to oversee and guide the Discipleship Council and the Annual Conference in establishing relationships with outside organizations and agencies.

We encouraged our bishop to be her authentic self. We welcome her leadership in helping us more clearly understand who we are as followers of Jesus and how we are called to live out this faith as United Methodists in the BWC.

The 2016 AC requested that the BWC update and perfect our Conference Policy Manual. Our discussions have centered on the role of this manual. We felt it would be helpful to separate this into a Personnel Policy Manual that would be perfected and utilized by the Conference Personnel Committee, and a Manual listing the Rules of the BWC. This process has begun.

The Discipleship Council is committed to assisting the various boards and committees of the BWC to more effectively live out our vision. To that end, we hope to create a forum for dialogue between the boards, committees and staff of the BWC with the Discipleship Council and with one another.

We would like to thank the staff of the BWC and Bishop Easterling for their support and guidance through this year of transition.

Robert T. Clipp, Chairperson

BOARD OF CHURCH AND SOCIETY (CC)

The Baltimore-Washington Annual Conference Board of Church and Society is tasked with education and advocacy of social justice issues. We work with local churches, annual conference leadership, and the General Board of Church and Society (GBCS).

In 2016 we collaborated with the United Methodist Women to host our annual Legislative Advocacy Day. On this day, more than 50 United Methodists from around Maryland learned about and advocated in support of the Criminal Justice Reinvestment Act, Paid Sick Leave, and the Greenhouse Renewal Act.

In addition to our work at the legislative level in Maryland, along with our conference Advocacy Consultant, the Rev. Kevin Slayton, our members worked with local churches and non-profits on local, state and national issues including community race relations, faith-health networks, banning fracking, and ending gun violence throughout the year.

In late October, our board worked with GBCS to host a Social Principles Training. More than 30 people attended the training and many plan to help train others in their local congregations as a result.

Looking forward to 2017, we plan to once again host the Legislative Advocacy Day and look at several issues, including a permanent state-wide ban on hydraulic fracking, as well as issues of affordability of prescription medication, criminal justice reform and common-sense gun legislation to help curb gun violence.

In addition, our board would like to serve as a resource to help grassroots efforts throughout our annual conference. Our board members are here to help local churches navigate social issues using both the Social Principles and the Book of Resolutions to guide discussion and action.

Rev. Julie Wilson, Chair

BOARD OF GLOBAL MINISTRIES (CC)

The Baltimore-Washington Conference Board of Global Ministries is excited to participate in the celebration of ministry in the conference. This past year was one marked with loss and celebration. We lost Sharon Leatherman, long-time Global Ministry Conference co-secretary to a long but private battle with cancer. Jane Grays, her co-secretary, stepped up and has done a fabulous job. Pam Bowen and Deborah Trowbridge continue to provide conference staff support.

We staffed a booth at Annual Conference to provide information about our work. We partnered with Conference UMW in putting together and leading a wonderful Mission u experience. Many youth and adults participated in learnings about human sexuality, environmental concerns, and Latin America. I was privileged to serve as Assistant Dean.

We celebrate the many congregations and individuals that gave, and continue to give, towards global missions in various ways including financial support of conference missionaries. All of our itinerating missionaries were well accommodated and cared for due to the love and support of BWC congregations and ministries. We were glad to welcome Alina Saucedo and her husband, Michael Keyes, last fall. They currently serve in Nicaragua. Alina provided a detailed report of their ongoing work with women, youth and children in the San Francisco Libre area. Thanks to Susanna Wesley House for providing accommodations for them.

As I move out as Chair, I wish the team great success as we look forward to a year of education and advocacy in 2017.

Raphael Koikoi, Chair

COMMISSION ON ARCHIVES AND HISTORY (CC)

The Commission is grateful to the Conference and to its Board of Trustees, in particular, for their generous support of our work in this past year. As always, we are grateful to members and supporters of the Conference Historical Society for their continuing generosity, and to members and supporters of the Strawbridge Shrine Association for their generosity toward our Conference's premiere Heritage Landmark.

ANNIVERSARIES

Last year marked the bicentennial of Bishop Asbury's death. The archival component of the commemoration involved conservation of two manuscripts from the collection mentioned above. The manuscripts were the Ordination Certificate of Francis Asbury signed and sealed by Thomas Coke, and an 1800 letter to Francis Asbury from his mother, Elizabeth.

The original documents were expertly conserved and good quality facsimiles created by the Conservation Center for Art & Historic Artifacts in Philadelphia, work costing $8,500. In addition, a framed facsimile of the Charles Peale Polk portrait of Bishop Asbury was created locally and, along with the manuscripts, shipped to England for commemorations there at an additional cost of $1,680.

The cost of this conservation and replication work was funded by our Conference Historical Society, which also pledged $6,000 toward the conservation of the Bishop's Lot at Mt. Olivet Cemetery, and incurred additional expenses related to the commemoration.

We are indebted to the Conference Trustees for paying the major portion of the improvements at Mt. Olivet and to Lovely Lane UMC which owns and maintains this cemetery. We are also most grateful to the Tegeler Monument Co. for their generosity and expertise which enabled this project to be completed in time for the commemoration which is detailed in the United Methodist Historical Society report.

This year, 2017, congratulations are in order for Morgan State University, which was founded 150 years ago by the Washington Conference as the Centenary Biblical Institute. The Sesquicentennial observance was launched with services Sunday, December 11, 2016, at the Sharp Street Memorial Church. A Christmas Day meeting convened by Bishop Levi Scott in 1866 began the work of organizing the institute established the next year in the Sharp Street Church. The institute was rechristened Morgan College in 1890, became a state institution in 1939, and a university in 1975.

Rev. Lyttleton F. Morgan, for whom the college was named, was a member of the Baltimore Conference assigned to Baltimore City Station (the once and future Lovely Lane Church) in 1866, and would become the chair of the Centenary Trustees and a great benefactor of the Institute 10 years later. The Baltimore Conference, influenced by Morgan and his successor in the chair, the Rev. John F. Goucher, would offer financial support to this Washington Conference institution.

During the service at Sharp Street Memorial, University President David Wilson observed that "Morgan owes its very existence to this church," and expressed the university's gratitude to "our Sharp Street antecedents, many of them unnamed and unsung, and to those supporters and leaders at Lovely Lane Church, most of whose names we know, who committed to this endeavor the resources that our ancestors lacked."

The Rev. Bernard Keels, University Chaplain, remembered that "the Centenary Biblical Institute took those inaugural steps that have led into the door of the Sesquicentennial celebration of a world-class institution known by all as Morgan State University. How the hearts of those founding fathers and mothers must leap for joy on this sacred morning as we approach the dawn of a 150-year legacy!"

HISTORIC SITES AND LANDMARKS

We are grateful that last year's General Conference approved the nomination of the United Methodist Building on Capitol Hill as a Heritage Landmark of The United Methodist Church. You may recall that this was approved by the 2015 Annual Conference as a United Methodist Historic Site (reg. no. 503). It is unusual that a site advances to Landmark status the year after it is designated a historic site and we thank the General Commission on Archives and History for expediting this process.

The United Methodist Building is the first Heritage Landmark in the District of Columbia and the sixth within the bounds of our conference. Three were designated before church unification in 1968: the Strawbridge Shrine (Methodist), Old Otterbein Church (Evangelical United Brethren), and the Lovely Lane Meetinghouse site (Methodist). The Cokesbury College site was later advanced from Historic Site status (reg. no. 125), but the first new Landmark designated in our conference was the United Brethren Founding Sites Cluster (reg. no. 33).

This “Cluster” consists of two clusters related to Philip William Otterbein’s ministry and the founding of the United Brethren Church. In Frederick are Otterbein’s Trinity Chapel (UCC) and the commemorative Centennial Church nearby, as well as the private home where the United Brethren Church was organized in 1800. In the vicinity of Keedysville in Washington County are the Old Mt. Hebron Churchyard, site of the colonial Geeting Meetinghouse, along with three private homes.

Because of its historic significance, the property containing the Geeting Meetinghouse site was the subject of archaeological survey in 1950 and was later acquired by the Susquehanna Conference of the Evangelical United Brethren Church and transferred to this Conference after church unification. The property is on an unimproved road inaccessible by car at times, but was maintained by Salem Church, Keedysville, until last year when that local church informed the Conference Trustees that it could no longer carry out this responsibility.

The Commission commends this history to the attention of the Conference and the Board of Trustees in hopes that this Heritage Landmark can be preserved, and we offer whatever assistance might help in that effort. This is the only Heritage Landmark owned by the Conference; all others are the responsibility of local churches, with exception of the United Methodist Building, owned by the General Board of Church and Society, and the Strawbridge Shrine.

The Strawbridge Shrine Association suffered a grievous loss on the last day of 2016 with the sudden death of its president, the Rev. James F.W. Talley. Pastor Talley had been active in the Shrine since his service as Conference Program Director in the 1970s and lived next to the site in retirement.

ARCHIVES

Last spring, the Conference Trustees pledged up to $11,000 toward the renovation of the archival vault at Lovely Lane. This allowed us to replace shelving which had corroded and rusted with new laminated shelving which can be double-loaded, thereby improving the climate and increasing the capacity of the existing vault. In addition, the lighting in the vault was replaced with energy efficient light-emitting diode (LED) fixtures. We hope to purchase additional cabinets and art racks for the vault as we clear floor space for them.

The archives and the museum at Lovely Lane were closed for 90 days this past summer as we emptied the vault during the renovation. Last August, volunteers from Lovely Lane Church and the Historical Society helped to move this material, the rusted shelving and other surplus material out of the vault and the catacombs under the church.

At the end of 2016, we accessioned the records of the closed Centennial-Caroline Street Church. This church is the last remnant of several churches in Fells Point and Oldtown, Baltimore. They trace their origin to the Methodist society organized by Joseph Pilmore at Fells Point in 1772, on the same day that he organized the first Methodist society across the basin (the harbor) in Baltimoretown. As the custodian of the history of these churches in Fells Point and Oldtown, Baltimore, we hope to highlight their history at next year's Annual Conference which meets in that section of Baltimore.

COMMISSION ON CHRISTIAN UNITY AND INTERRELIGIOUS CONCERNS (CC)

The Commission on Christian Unity and Interreligious Concerns (CCUIC) is not meeting regularly and is in the process of reforming and reactivating our ministry. By our very nature, we are collaborators, and we are working with other committees, groups, and caucuses to live out our calling and mission.

As of the writing of this report, we have been in conversations with Church and Society (the Rev. Julie Wilson, chair) about planning a joint event in February 2017 to bring together a variety of persons around tables to talk about community building and relationships, especially as it relates to police and community relationships. An ecumenical, cross-racial, gender and socio-economic diverse group of persons are being sought to act as table leaders and members of a panel discussion while sharing a meal together.

In the coming year, we want to help equip local churches and communities to host similar events that meet the needs of their context. We encourage all pastors and congregations to be engaged in local ecumenical (Christian) and interfaith (variety of faiths) events. Ideas include shared worship experiences for the World Day of Prayer; shared worship experiences for Ash Wednesday, Holy Week, and Thanksgiving; working together for community food pantries, coat drives, book drives, and school supply drives; or even sharing a joint Confirmation experience to learn about other faiths and expressions of Christian faith.

We applaud the local clergy across the conference who are involved as police, fire, and hospital chaplains who are making a difference in an ecumenical and interfaith way every day, and encourage others to join them.

If you have a passion for working with other faith communities and would like to be a part of our work, please contact the chair. The chair and CCUIC are available to consult with local congregations in how to work with diverse faith communities in your setting, or how to pray so that, in the words of the late Rev. Stookey, "that all can say 'amen!'"

Rev. Bonnie McCubbin, Chair

COMMISSION ON DISABILITY CONCERNS

The Disability Commission continued to be quite active in 2016-2017. Along with submitting disability-related resolutions to the 2016 General Conference, a representative from our disability commission flew to Portland to be an added voice in the collective to advocate on behalf of the disability community.

During the Leadership Day meetings in the various regions, representatives of the Disability Commission and its allies helped provide presentations on disability awareness and accessibility. Since substance abuse falls under the purview of disabilities, workshops on "Heroin and the Church" were presented to help promote awareness on this epidemic and how churches can be engaged in their communities. Presentations were also given at other venues.

Promoting disability awareness and inclusion continued to be a priority for the Commission. It provided consultations to church leaders, congregations, and communities. This was done through observing Disability Awareness Sunday (typically the first Sunday in February or on another Sunday), by written articles for our annual conference, and through collaboration with the GBGM Committee on Disability Ministries. Also, a representative from our Commission attends the Maryland Department of Disabilities (part of the state government) in order to keep a pulse on what's happening at the state level, as well as help The United Methodist Church be a visible presence to the state commission on disabilities.

Our Disability Commission continued to collaborate with other ministries, such as the UMW and Older Adult Ministries. Advocacy plays an important role in the Commission's work and partnering with other ministries helps to better achieve this.

Identifying new and existing resources continues to be a significant part of the Commission's work. The Commission's web page on the conference website is updated with a plethora of resources that includes grant opportunities, fundraising ideas, ways to observe Disability Awareness Sunday, etc. The Disability Commission developed a Disability Awareness Sunday Church Kit that offers ideas to churches for how to observe this special Sunday.

The Disability Commission continues to be faithful to its work on behalf of our annual conference. Thank you to everyone who assisted us in this.

COMMISSION ON SMALL MEMBERSHIP CHURCHES (CC)

The Commission on Small Membership Churches last convened on April 6, 2016, during a teleconference. Pastor Patricia Bittner and this writer recapitulated points from our January 2016 meeting:

1. There needs to be a clearing house for information and resources to assist the pastors serving small membership congregation;
2. Take opportunities to come together in small group experiences similar to the disciple groups of a few years ago where there could be sharing with other pastors of small churches;
3. There is an obvious need to prepare newly appointed pastors to small membership churches to facilitate their transition into this type of church rather than "parachute" them into the setting with minimal information and/or training;
4. There is a need to provide small membership churches with the minimal technology that is required in this day and time for basic ministry;
5. It is acknowledged that small membership churches struggle to meet financial minimums, i.e., benevolences to the annual conference and pastoral support;
6. There is a matter of self-esteem among some pastors that serve small membership congregations and a need for encouragement and support;
7. The team did not gather during Annual Conference as planned.

I facilitated a session during Washington East District Leadership day February 11, 2017. My presentation was on small membership congregations in urban, suburban and rural settings. It is my hope that the commission will re-energize and be of vital service to the Baltimore-Washington Conference.

Rev. George F. De Ford, Chair

COMMITTEE ON DEAF MINISTRIES (CC)

Thank you Thank you Thank you. The Baltimore-Washington Conference has extended such great generosity in 2016 from pancake breakfasts to concerts. With the assistance of several churches, we raised more than $20,000 to make it possible for Christ Deaf Choir to attend General Conference in Portland, Oregon. This was a rich and valuable experience for the choir and, for some, a once-in-a-lifetime event. We also traveled to United Methodist Congress of the Deaf and the United Methodist Committee on Deaf and Hard of Hearing Ministries Conference in Michigan. With special invitation, Pastor Sandi Johnson was able to attend the World Methodist Conference to meet with Bishop Abrahams with the hope of Deaf Ministries being an on-going member of the Conference. Thank you!

Christ UMC of the Deaf in Baltimore has been serving the Deaf community since 1895. Christ UMC of the Deaf seeks to provide culturally appropriate, Christ-centered, indigenous worship in the native language of the believers. Whereas some other centers of faith may have an American Sign Language interpretation of the sermon, Christ UMC of the Deaf breaks down communication barriers with Pastor Sandi giving every sermon in ASL with a voice interpreter for those not proficient in Sign. Community ties are strengthened during weekly fellowship lunches which immediately follow worship, as well as the many social events which aim to bring together this diverse group of believers. Not only does the church seek to encourage faith development, but servant leadership as well. The food pantry, weekly lunches, computer lab, and Deaf Shalom Zone all provide opportunities for individuals to put faith into action as servant ministers. Christ UMC of the Deaf highly values a strong sense of community within its members, and it also believes in the connectional church, joining with other churches in worship and mission. The church strives to continually celebrate, connect, serve, develop, and share, with a call to action at the forefront of Deaf ministry.

Christ UMC of the Deaf continues its long-standing commitment to outreach through Christian Education at the Maryland School for the Deaf in Columbia, as well as a Bible study at Foxwell Memorial Apartment. Christ Deaf Church also has a partnership with Towson University in an effort to connect future Social Service professionals with Deaf Shalom Zone and the community therein. This partnership has proved to be beneficial to the future Service Providers, Towson University and Christ Deaf Church. Christ Deaf Church continues to be in ministry with other organizations such as the Baltimore Association of the DeafBlind (BADB), Maryland Governor's Office of the Deaf and Hard of Hearing (ODHH), English as a Second Language programs, Deaf Camps Inc., Deaf Young Adult Camp, DeafBlind Camp, and ROCK. Christ UMC of the Deaf shows the spirit of hospitality by welcoming outside groups to use the building for parties, community forums and classes, and by mentoring Sign language and interpreting students.

Magothy UMC of the Deaf was established in 1975 to serve the Pasadena area of Maryland. The church's commitment to creative and passionate worship has moved the membership to go beyond its walls and out into the community serving at homeless shelters and soup kitchens. Magothy UMC continues to support the community through the Door Step Mission, a food distribution program available to local families in need. The Magothy UMC hosts fundraisers in an effort to support both local and international Deaf mission work. This year, we were blessed with Pastor Emily Smiley who leads worship at Magothy UMC of the Deaf every Sunday, and the Rev. Leo Yates Jr. who is also working with Magothy UMC. Magothy UMC of the Deaf strives to be a positive witness for Jesus Christ both in chapel and throughout the community and world.

Magothy UMC of the Deaf has started a Deaf Senior Program at the urging of the Holy Spirit. When the Rev. Leo Yates Jr. attended a funeral for a member of the Deaf community, he and others were struck by the notion that most Deaf seniors live alone and without vital information about the world they live in. Many Senior Citizens are able to attend local events and agencies to learn about health care, depression, interacting with law enforcement, and even elections. Deaf Seniors, on the other hand, rarely have access to this sort of vital information that helps them with everything from controlling their own finances to voting their consciences or even daily interactions with people who can communicate with them. Magothy Deaf UMC is working very hard as a church to address this need.

The Deaf Shalom Zone is a faith-based, non-denominational non-profit that caters to the needs of the Deaf, DeafBlind, and Hard of Hearing community by providing a food pantry, advocacy training and support (ADA rights, literacy and consumer skills,) and connect to other services. Deaf Shalom Zone has established an ongoing community bulletin on different activities the community may be interested in. Kathi Jeffra provides valuable coordination and boundless creativity in her duties with Deaf Shalom Zone. Deaf Shalom Zone seeks to support client independence, and is growing as an informational and referral source. Deaf Shalom Zone assists Deaf and DeafBlind individuals in accessing programs and technology that increases their independence on others. To help Deaf Shalom Zone achieve that goal, this year Sydney Palmer was hired as a case manager. Palmer is a recent graduate of Towson University partnership. We look forward to a time when Deaf candidates present themselves to work with Deaf Shalom Zone.

The United Campus Ministry at Gallaudet in Washington, D.C. offers ministry to the students, faculty, and staff of the only Deaf liberal arts college in the world. Regular Bible study builds understanding and community, and encourages attendees to be engaged in mission on the campus and in the surrounding area of the university.

COMMITTEE ON ETHNIC LOCAL CHURCH CONCERNS (CC)

The Committee met on March 9, 2017, at 10 a.m. in the Library of the BWC Center. The Committee commenced with devotions conducted by Pastor Jacques Banks of the Indiana United Methodist Church. We were able to cover some subjects that needed attention and concern.

On the whole, the churches are functioning well and although some of these churches have a small membership, they are quite strong in performing all the functions and following all the programs that large churches have. The members are faithful and very strong in worshipping regularly. We discussed if these small churches, some that are at a stone's throw, are merged there will be more enthusiasm in worshipping. Praise and Worship with a larger congregation can attract and draw non-members to join. This was expressed by some of the members.

We had a pastor whose congregation was primarily from Burma. These people came as refugees under the Asylum program. They do not have great jobs but they are regular members of the church and give whatever they can to support the pastor. The congregation has no church of its own and they borrow places in other churches to worship by giving some contribution. The Committee has felt the need of a church that the Conference can provide to them. Some churches are losing membership and if they are unable to continue, can such church be provided to those who do not have a place to worship? There is also a need for those who come from foreign countries to learn English to settle themselves. Does the Conference have any provision where such classes to teach English can be arranged?

In conclusion, may I state that based on the conversation with some of the members comprising of both clergy and laity of the Ethnic Churches, they all have programs like helping the needy and providing material and services to the Pantry Kitchens. Children in Sunday Schools are learning well and the Youth and Young Adults are attending worship services and perform Praise and Worship when asked. The only disadvantage and concern that the larger churches are facing is the loss of membership. Most of the older members have gone home before us and some are home-bound in nursing homes. The youth after completing their education are leaving as they are finding jobs in other states, especially the professionals.

COMMITTEE ON HISPANIC-LATINO MINISTRIES (CC)

The 2016-2017 year was a time of restructuring and discernment for the Hispanic/Latino Ministries of the Baltimore-Washington Conference. The committee continued to work with established Hispanic-Latino congregations and programs while seeking to understand God's purpose for this ministry in this quadrennium.

Organization & Planning:

The committee supported the hiring process of the full-time Conference Coordinator for Hispanic-Latino Ministries, Emma A. Escobar.

The committee organized a meeting with Bishop Easterling to share the history of Hispanic-Latino Ministries in the Baltimore-Washington Conference and pastors raised the concerns of their congregations regarding immigration and the sanctuary movement.

The Conference Committee on Hispanic-Latino Ministries, the Coordinator Emma Escobar, and the Office of Connectional Ministries organized a Strategic Planning session with the National Plan for Hispanic-Latino Ministries. The strategic meeting took place at the BWC Conference Center on March 24-25, where a vision and strategic plan were created for the 2017-2020 quadrennium.

Annual Activities:

The Annual Hispanic-Latino Family Camp & Retreat was held in August 26-28, 2016 at West River United Methodist Center. 2016 was the year with the highest attendance in the past years (193 people). The theme of the retreat was "Our Identity: Tell Me Who You Walk with and I'll Tell You Who You Are."

The Committee celebrated Hispanic Heritage Month with a Worship Service on October 22, 2016. The celebration took place at Trinity UMC in Frederick. The guest speaker was the Rev. Dr. Ediberto López (professor of New Testament at the Evangelical Seminary of Puerto Rico) who brought greetings from Bishop Héctor Ortiz, Episcopal leader of the Methodist Church in Puerto Rico. As part of the celebration, an offering was collected to continue supporting programs of the Methodist Church in Puerto Rico; we contributed $500.

Celebrations:

The committee celebrates the partnership of Hughes-EL Buen Samaritano UMC and Silver Spring UMC in their outreach program, through the leadership of Pastor Evelyn Rivera. This program not only serves the Hispanic-Latino population but all those in need in the community.

In partnership with the office of the coordinator and DS Edgardo Rivera, we celebrate the organization of the Hispanic-Latino Ministry Initiative in Frederick, and the leadership of Pastor Alexis Peña and Yunia Licea. This ministry is at a new location, Brook Hill UMC, and has an advisory board to oversee the vision, well-being, and funding for this district initiative.

We celebrate the growth of Piney Grove Hispanic-Latino Ministry, through the leadership of pastor Jorge Moreno, that is expanding with small groups (house churches) where people are taught the theology and doctrine of the UMC as well as stewardship. The ministry also celebrates the opening of their free computer classes that started in March 2017, which targets its Hispanic-Latino community.

We celebrate the continued efforts of Epworth UMC in Gaithersburg in becoming a multicultural congregation that is now serving more than 30 countries from Latin America, North America, and Africa. This diversity is represented by the flags at the entrance to their worship center. We also celebrate the leadership of Rev. Jennifer Fenner and her staff in this ministry.

We celebrate the partnership of College Park UMC with Good Shepherd UMC in reaching the BALTIMORE-WASHINGTON CONFERENCE

Hispanic-Latino Community through the leadership of Pastor Israel Suarez and the making of disciples of Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world, one heart at a time.

We celebrate the vision of Calvary UMC Hispanic-Latino Ministry in Martinsburg, W. Va., by expanding their Health Clinic and sewing program to the community. We also celebrate the leadership of Teresa Aguilera in helping move this ministry forward.

In partnership with the Office of the Coordinator, Salem UMC held a visioning session on March 4 to create a plan on how to reach all the people that surround them.

The Conference Committee on Hispanic/Latino Ministries thanks God Almighty for the opportunity to work in ushering God's kingdom in our communities. To all the Hispanic-Latino churches, as well as those who care for a fully and truly inclusive church, and who have been willing to support the activities of this Committee: thank you!

Last, but not least, to all the pastors for their continued participation in the Committee and in finding ways to better service their communities, the United Methodist Church, and our Lord Jesus Christ: thank you!

COMMITTEE ON NATIVE AMERICAN MINISTRY (CC)

The Committee on Native American Ministry (CONAM) continued its mission to make disciples for Jesus Christ by: 1) supporting Native American ministry and outreach; 2) promoting awareness of these ministries and of the Native American community residing within the bounds of our Annual Conference; and 3) developing leadership among the Native community and among those giving leadership to Native American ministry.

The CONAM is very active with the Northeastern Jurisdiction Native American Ministries Committee (NEJNAMC). In 2016, the Annual conference was held in Wheeling, W. Va. The conference was a great success with 10 Conferences representatives.

In Maryland, the month of November has been designated as Native American Month. This year, the "kick off" was held at Salisbury University in Salisbury. The Baltimore-Washington CONAM was represented by Pastor Daniel Kutrick and Robert Willash.

CONAM has two major ministries. One is a prison ministry whose purpose is to let the Native American inmates know that we love and care for them and their spiritual life by sending 10 copies of "Indian Life Ministries", a Native American Christian newspaper, which is published bi-monthly. Currently we are sending subscriptions to three prisons for males in Maryland and one prison for females in West Virginia.

The second major outreach ministry is the continued support of the WINS program that is sponsored by the American University in Washington, D.C. The program offers classes and internships for qualified Native American students during the fall, spring, and summer sessions. This year, we sponsored a student at the 2014 Summer Session, and served as their mentors and contacts away from home. We also had representatives at their Pow Wow, special luncheons and dinners and other activities. CONAM also provides an emergency fund for students who may have to return home because of a crisis or who have issues while in the D.C. area.

The CONAM web page on the Baltimore-Washington Conference website is a good place to keep current on Native American issues within the Conference. The web page can be accessed at www.bwcumc.org/ministries/conam.

One of our goals for 2015 was to have the CONAM contact person's name for each church in our Conference. It is very important to know the contact so that CONAM can keep each church informed about its work in the Baltimore-Washington Conference as well as the work in the Northeast Jurisdiction and the General Church. With God's grace and guidance, we will continue to be the voice for the Native American community. We will continue this effort in 2017.

We need to continue to focus on reconciliation as one of our goals in 2017 as we endeavor to bridge the gap between Native Americans and all races.

This year we have been re-forming under a new chair; without the support of the previous chair and the other members, our progress would have been very rocky. Our meeting schedule has not been consistent but we are looking to setting up a regular meeting schedule, at least quarterly.

CONAM is small but hardworking and we encourage anyone who would like to join a small, mission-driven committee, to come and share their gifts in ministry and mission.

We give thanks to the Great Spirit for all the opportunities we have been given and eagerly anticipate building on what we do. Please continue to support the Native American Ministries Sunday Offering, half of which supports the ministry that we do and the other half goes to the General Conference to support other Native American ministries within the church.

Pastor Daniel T. Kutrick, Chair

CONFERENCE COUNCIL ON YOUTH MINISTRIES (CC)

The Conference Council on Youth Ministry (CCYM) represented the youth at the 2016 Annual Conference of the BWC. There were 29 youth representing all eight districts. The Youth Members at Large presented the work of the CCYM through skits, songs and prayers, highlighting their topic on stress and how to manage that stress.

In Isaiah 41:13 of the Contemporary English Version, it states "I am the LORD your God. I am holding your hand, so don't be afraid. I am here to help you." This verse from the Bible reminds the youth that God is always there and that is how we can cope better with the stresses in our life, knowing and trusting that God will never let us fall.

Two youth delegates attended the Northeastern Jurisdictional Conference in Pennsylvania, interviewing all the candidates for bishop and participating in the process to elect Bishop LaTrelle Easterling. Erich Wildberger and Nito Slack spent five days representing the voice of the youth of the Baltimore-Washington Conference. The NEJ has reorganized the Northeastern Jurisdictional Council on Youth Ministry (JEJCYM) and Erich Wildberger is our NEJCYM representative planning activities.

One of the NEJ activities is the Mission of Peace, a yearly journey of discovery and Shalom. Each year, four youth from each conference in the Northeastern Jurisdiction travel to visit God's extended family to discover God's Spirit at work in the world. In 2017, the Mission of Peace will visit Cuba. Youth in grades 9-12 are invited to apply to participate in the Mission of Peace. For more information, contact Pam Bowen.

CCYM Youth Officers Elected to serve on CCYM for 2015-2016:

President – Alyssa Murphy, Mt. Zion, Washington East

Vice President – Michaela Creel, Pine Grove UMC, Baltimore Suburban

Spiritual Leader – Abigail Dina, First Hyattsville, Greater Washington

Spiritual Leader – Nito Slack, Washington East

Co-Treasurer – Roman Ditzenberger, Annapolis

Secretary – Kaila Stagg, Mt. Zion, Greater Washington

Communications Director – Asher Rudolph, North Carroll Coop Parish, Baltimore Suburban

CCYM is open to youth in grades 6 through 12. Monthly meetings are held on the third Saturday of each month at the BW Conference Center in Fulton. For more information visit the CCYM page on the conference website or CCYM Facebook page.

Pam Bowen, BWC Youth Ministry Coordinator

CONFERENCE SECRETARY OF GLOBAL MINISTRIES (CC)

The primary functions of Conference Secretary of Global Ministries (CSGM) is to interpret the programs, emphases, plans, and policies of the General Board of Global Ministries to the Annual Conference.

The major task that we have been engaged in since last annual conference is missionary itineration. Missionaries are provided the opportunity every three years to visit with their supporting churches. Arranging schedules is a task that requires organizational skills and tenacity.

Lawrence and Jane Kies, missionaries serving at Africa University in Muture, Zimbabwe, had a brief visit in July.

Belinda Forbes, missionary assigned to Nicaragua, visited supporting churches, Metropolitan Memorial UMC, Chevy Chase UMC, Damascus UMC, Hughes UMC and Sandy Mount UMC in August.

Alina Saucedo, missionary, and her husband, Michael Keyse, serving San Francisco Libre, Nicaragua, itinerated Nov. 14—30, 2016. They visited Rockville, UMC, Westminster UMC, Emmanuel UMC-Laurel, Wesley UMC, and Gethsemane UMC. They toured the BWC Conference Center, shared a meal at GBGM meeting followed by a presentation.

Special thanks to the individuals who extended hospitality and invited them to share Thanksgiving with their family, friends as well as opportunities to be engaged during the holiday.

Because of their extended stay in our conference, GBGM Chairman, the Rev. Raphael Koikoi, contacted the Susanna Wesley House in Baltimore and made arrangements for base housing for Alina and Michael. Pastor Laura Kigweba picked them up from the airport and transported them to Amtrak to continue on the final leg of their journey.

Laura made certain they were comfortable especially since it was their first visit to this area and they were not familiar with Baltimore.

Mission u, a joint venture of GBGM and UMW, is the major training event for mission education within the BWC. Members of CBGM serve on the planning committee for the annual school for adult and youth. The event was held July 28-30, 2017, at Bethesda Marriott.

In closing this report, with a heavy heart, Co-Secretary of Global, Ministries, N. Sharon Leatherman died July 8, 2016. She was a wonderful mentor, had a heart for missions and served the Baltimore-Washington Conference for many years, sharing her expertise and enthusiasm with the committees she served.

Jane O. Grays, Secretary of Global Ministries

Rev. Dr. Stacey Cole Wilson, Director

IN MISSION TOGETHER: EURASIA

So, we have together come again to praise the Father's love.

Let the holy grace come down to fill our hearts from Heaven above.

These words, translated from a 2012 hymn by Oleg Pozharsky, a Deacon, musician and composer with Resurrection UMC in Voronezh, illustrate beautifully not only the overflowing heart of praise to God that we encounter so often with our brothers and sisters in Christ in Russia, but it shows as well the growing maturity and fresh contributions being made by Eurasian believers.

This year's partnership work with the Central Black Soil and South districts of the South Russia Conference has principally focused on three areas.

First, in late 2016, we were asked, on fairly short notice, to host the XIX Eurasia and Central Asia Consultation in May 2017. Originally scheduled for Florida, the venue move came as a result of worries about zika virus-bearing mosquitoes. The past sixth months have seen feverish work as we have sought to accommodate the needs of this biennial gathering from Eurasia, Europe, and America of United Methodists who are part of the ongoing ministry in Russia, Ukraine, Kazakhstan, and elsewhere. Special thanks to Conference staff, especially the Rev. Maidstone Mulenga and Deb Trowbridge, for their support and assistance, and a giant vote of thanks to Mrs. Ann Dudley, a member of Liberty Grove UMC, for heading up this effort on our behalf.

Second, we have continued this year to encourage leadership development through our support of the studies of Mrs. Elena Melnikova, Women's Ministry Coordinator for Eurasia, as she pursues advanced schooling through Wesley Seminary's partnership with Cambridge University in Britain. Elena, who lives and is based in Volgograd in the South Conference, is the third leader whose training we have helped to underwrite in part as a Conference. Her deep spirituality, endless fount of ideas, and prodigious work ethic combine to make her a tremendous resource for United Methodism in Russia now, and one of the most talented of the next generation of leaders.

Last year, thirdly, we reported that two persons made the first-ever visit from our Conference to the South District, which spans a long east-west corridor running from Stavropol in the Caucasus to the east, over to Sevastopol on the Crimean coast of the Black Sea to the west. Part of the outflow of these rich new contacts was a determination to aid the church in Kerch (eastern Crimea) with its critical building projects, including the sending of a team. Unfortunately, the international political landscape makes it unwise to send volunteers to Kerch this year; however, we plan to aid in other ways with their church refurbishment and to send a team when practical.

Two small groups are planned for this summer. In July, two persons (one from BWC and one from Virginia) will join an Ohio team to work at our United Methodist Camp "Kristall" near Voronezh. In August, the original Kerch team (four from BWC, one from Virginia) will also travel to Voronezh to continue the effort, laboring alongside a youth team from Russia.

Meanwhile, to follow the news is to be aware that in the Russian Federation, the landscape has been changing for non-Russian Orthodox Christians. New regulations and restrictions on availability for faith groups of facilities which are not specifically designated for religious use, and limits on the kinds of activities foreign visitors can participate in, have become part of the working environment. Our task, of course, is always to encourage and to assist and never to create difficulties for Eurasian United Methodists and those whom they serve. We continue to find our counterparts there enthusiastically devoted, endlessly optimistic and forward-looking, and above all, on fire for the Lord. Please hold them, and the work of In Mission Together - Eurasia in our conference, in your prayers.

DC-MD JUSTICE FOR OUR NEIGHBORS (CC)

DC-MD Justice ForOur Neighbors saw continued improvement and growth in 2016. Our unique model allows us to reach more people than a traditional law office. We hold monthly clinics at four United Methodist Churches across the region, where potential new clients meet with an experienced attorney for in-depth consultations. By coming to clients' communities first, instead of asking them to initially visit our office, the JFON model breaks down barriers that prevent many from taking the first step. As a ministry, by coming to clients first, we demonstrate our belief that we are all equal in God's eyes.

Clinic volunteers meet clients and provide refreshments, childcare, and fellowship. Volunteers are trained and conduct initial intakes before the attorney consultations. Volunteers learn about immigrants' realities, and we fulfill our mission of educating the community.

In 2016, the attorney opened 200 new cases, and served clients from 32 countries. We provide services for a variety of types of cases. "Advice and counsel" is our most crucial and frequent service. Instead of receiving a quick case rejection or acceptance, as in most law offices, potential clients receive an in-depth, holistic analysis of their situations. We strive to empower clients with knowledge so they can exercise agency over their lives. We employ an initial phone screening to learn each general situation and provide tailored instructions for preparation. At clinics, the attorney discerns available options for legal relief, and explains each client's legal situation. Unfortunately, some potential clients have no legal options, and explaining this is a critical service. Immigrants are frequent targets of immigration scams, and "notarios" advertise green cards for thousands of dollars, take clients' money, and disappear. We explain why there may be no relief, which empowers clients to avoid scams.

Our next most frequent case type is asylum. Asylum seekers flee persecution, and must prove they meet the legal definition of a refugee. Asylum cases are the most time-consuming; necessitating a lengthy application, legal argument, personal declaration, and evidence, which is often extremely difficult to obtain. The attorney came to DC-MD JFON with asylum expertise, particularly working with survivors of torture and gender-based violence. Baltimore is among the top five areas that mothers with children seeking asylum relocate to after release from detention for their case duration, and DC/Maryland area is among the top relocation sites in the country.

We handle other types of humanitarian-based claims. Immigrant victims of crime in America may be eligible for a "U visa." "T visas" are for victims of human trafficking. The Violence Against Women Act offers protection to immigrants married to abusive Americans. Special Immigrant Juvenile Status is available to children who have been abandoned, abused, or neglected by a parent; and are determined to be safest in America. Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA) is available to certain young adults who were brought to the U.S. without documentation as children. All of these forms of relief require extensive legal research and documentation, and many can lead to green cards and citizenship.

We provide representation "affirmatively" or "defensively." Some immigrants fleeing violence can obtain visas before they leave, and thus enter the U.S. legally. However, the majority cannot. They must make the dangerous trek across the border without documentation, and are immediately placed into immigration detention and removal proceedings. They apply for relief "defensively," while those who entered with documentation apply "affirmatively." Immigrants enter removal proceedings for other reasons, and we represent them as well. Removal cases are extremely complex, and require frequent court appearances.

We provide representation on many family-based applications to help immigrants keep their families together, and on naturalization applications to help eligible clients become citizens. We help clients who are elderly or have disabilities, and are proud to represent our most vulnerable community members.

We help clients apply for work permits, which empowers them to survive while awaiting the adjudication of their cases, which often takes years. We help replace lost or expired documentation. We help clients obtain fee waivers whenever possible, as government fees for certain applications are high. Under the "Freedom of Information Act," we force government agencies to provide us all their records on a client.

Our services make a real difference. We recently gave an Ethiopian refugee who endured extreme persecution in her country and homelessness in the U.S. a green card and work permit. We won a deportation case against a Nigerian grandmother who had taken the poor advice of a defense attorney and pled guilty to a crime she did not commit. We have secured DACA for numerous young adults who were granted the ability to stay in the U.S. and work. These are just a few success stories of immigrants finding safety and uniting with their families here because of our ability to provide this ministry.

DC-MD JFON has gone through a period of growth this year. We conducted an evaluation with National JFON, and identified areas of needed improvement. We conducted trainings at each clinic, and improved processes and procedures. We implemented a centralized scheduling system, in which potential clients call the office and receive a more detailed questionnaire targeted to spot urgent issues, schedule strategically, and provide detailed information before the clinic. We host interns and volunteers, and hired our first part-time legal assistant, which allows us to see more clients. We moved to a new office space, which is more functional, friendly, professional, and accessible.

We continued numerous advocacy and outreach efforts. We conducted Know Your Rights presentations, and wrote letters alone and in coalitions to urge our lawmakers and leaders to take pro-immigrant positions on numerous issues.

By working on more than 200 cases for clients from more than 30 countries on more than 20 different types of cases, we have been able to serve a large swath of the population in need. We are thankful for the ability to participate in this ministry and empower our immigrant brothers and sisters to live safe, free lives with their families, and look forward to serving even more.

KOREA COVENANT (CC)

The Korean partnership was blessed with another fruitful and educational year. A group of Korean Methodist Church pastors and laity from the South Conference came to the Baltimore-Washington Conference May 23 - June 5, 2016. The group was comprised of four clergy members and two laity, of which four were male and two were female. They were welcomed into the homes of several of our pastors, and followed their host families into a variety of settings within local church ministry. The experience provided the Korean Methodist Church pastors, as well as their hosts, with the opportunity to compare the structures, disciplines, and ways in which ministry is carried out within each denominational setting.

The Rev. Dr. Emora Brannan invited the group to Lovely Lane United Methodist Church in Baltimore and led them on a tour of the church and museum. Additionally, Dr. Brannan facilitated a brief lecture on our Methodist history with Korean mission.

The Rev. Michael Parker gave tours of several historic African-American United Methodist churches throughout the city of Baltimore, and took the group to various Baltimore landmarks, including the Inner Harbor.

The delegation also had the opportunity to stay overnight and engage in worship at the West River Camp. We thank Andy Thornton, Director at West River and of Retreat and Camping Ministries for the BWC, as well as all who welcomed the Korean Methodist Church delegation to the camp.

Finally, the delegation attended our 232nd Annual Conference, joined by Bishop Seung Chul Ahn of the South Conference of the Korean Methodist Church. Bishop Ahn gave the greeting and Rev. JW Park, District Superintendent for the Central Maryland District, translated it into English. The group sang songs and were blessed by a wonderful solo performance.

We give our sincere thanks to each of the pastors and congregations who welcomed the 2016 Korean Methodist Church delegation members into their homes, churches, and ministry settings — including the Revs. Bob Barnes, Emily Berkowitz, Sherri Comer-Cox, Rachel Cornwell, Lemuel Dominguez, Bonnie McCubbin, Kate Payton, Sarah Schlieckert, and all who assisted them.

I would also like to thank the members of the Baltimore-Washington Conference's Korea

Committee, including the Revs. Alexis Brown, EunJoung Joo, Claire Matheny, Rod Miller, Kate Payton, YoSeop Shin, and Mrs. Katie Filano for their dedication to strengthening and continuing the partnership between the Baltimore-Washington Conference and the South Conference of the Korean Methodist Church. The committee is currently in the process of finalizing details for members of our conference to travel to the South Conference this summer. Five Baltimore-Washington Conference clergy and two laity, of which two are male and five are female, will make up the 2017 Delegation.

In addition, we are very grateful to the Baltimore-Washington Conference's Korean Caucus for their help and support.

Rev. JW Park, Chair

PUERTO RICO PARTNERSHIP (CC)

We are One: Connected in Covenant within our conference and in living out our partnership with the Methodist Church of Puerto Rico. This ministry partnership started two years ago in October 2015. It is our newest BWC global partner member in our vision of a global church community. Since then, The Methodist Church of Puerto Rico elected a new episcopal leader, Bishop Hector Ortiz. It is our goal to continue to strengthen our relationship with the church and explore new opportunities for bilateral exchange so that we are both blessed by it.

As the island continues to struggle with financial problems, the local churches and communities are faced with limited resources. It is at times such as this that I believe God opens door of possibilities for mutual growth.

I am pleased to report that several of our local churches have embraced the call to initiate relationships with local churches in Puerto Rico. These churches have pioneered the effort and started building bridges of connection.

Among them I would like to recognize:

- Calvary-Centennial Coop Parish, under the leadership of Ray McKinnon and in partnership with Middletown and Toms Creek, sent a group of 55 to the island of Vieques to work at the town Methodist church and a facility to house VIM groups;
- Fallston UMC, under the leadership of Rev. Karin Walker and a committed group of partners from the local congregation, is working with a congregation in the Southern part of the island called Patillas. They are in partnership with Iglesia Metodista Puerta del Cielo in Guardarraya to assist in the completion of a church building and a multipurpose facility that can also be used as a shelter during hurricane and tsunami emergencies;
- Mt. Carmel UMC led a group to the island of Culebra where they engaged in community work around the local church.

In addition, a team of young adults from Puerto Rico will be supporting our BWC Latino Camp at West River in August with worship and music. They will be sharing the Word through music and song.

It is our plan to have a delegation visit the island in 2018 with our new bishop to explore additional concrete ways to strengthen the connection.

QUALITY OF LIFE RETREATS (CC)

At each Quality of Life Retreat, our participants — all people living with HIV — are asked what they valued about the experience. After 28 years, the answers have become familiar, but our all-volunteer staff never tire of the affirmation this life-changing ministry receives from the people it serves.

“The team and the returning retreatants made sure I... was welcomed and showed me the way,” wrote one, a first-time participant at the December 2016 retreat. Wrote another, “I enjoyed the small (discussion/support) groups, meeting new people and reconnecting with old friends.” Yet another lauded “the love” she experienced, along with “the spiritual nourishment, and making friends without judgments.”

Love is essentially what Quality of Life Retreats are all about — love expressed through many acts of grace: the hospitality and guidance; the non-judgmental sharing of life’s struggles and tough lessons; the wisdom and encouragement offered about handling personal challenges.

Then there are presentations about HIV disease management, latest medicines and self-care strategies, as well as demonstrations of healing and stress-relief therapies. And there is always worship with prayer, reflection and testimony; a communal, spiritual healing exercise; artistic crafts and fun games; a festive meal served by the staff; and finally, high-spirited entertainment and daily gift exchanges among secret “prayer buddies.”

Quality of Life Retreats (QLR) are transformative experiences especially for first-timers but also for returnees who discover new depths of love and grace in the human spirit each time they come back. This HIV/AIDS ministry of the Baltimore-Washington Conference offers respite, renewal and relational support to people living with HIV and AIDS in our region. Participants gather for inspiration and education while forming close bonds with one another in a place of honesty, where the truth can set them free.

The loss of significant funding due to UMCOR’s program changes forced us to reduce our usual four retreats to three in 2016. But we pressed on and nonetheless served 70 retreatants. As usual, about half were in their 50s, leading us to offer presentations on aging with HIV; and just over half were women. Retreatants, including 22 first-timers, came mostly from Washington, D.C., and Baltimore, but also from several Maryland counties and other states.

In 2017, we plan to offer three retreats again, including a first-time women’s retreat. Camp Manidokan will again serve as one location, preferred for its natural beauty and amenities. Where decades ago we annually mourned the deaths of participants from AIDS, now we are helping HIV survivors learn to live faithful, fruitful lives. Indeed, our motto and the name of our newsletter is Celebrate Life! (For a copy, contact us at qualityofliferetreatshiv@yahoo.com).

We depend heavily on generous help from the Baltimore-Washington Conference and some supportive churches and individuals. They have aided us with funds, transportation, meeting and event space, volunteers and other needs. We share the good news of our ministry on the conference website, at Annual Conference, Mission U and other conference and district events. And we covet more opportunities to be better known, as we seek to raise funds and friends for our mission to enhance the lives of our sisters and brothers living with HIV. Thank you!

RETREAT AND CAMPING MINISTRIES (CC)

As I sit this afternoon looking out over the calm, cold waters of the West River in December, we are two days away from hosting 150 middle and senior high campers eager to return for a weekend of fun, friends and faith. These are campers from last summer anxious to return to the place where they found an accepting community, played games, tried new adventures and heard the story of the gospel. They are coming back a week before celebrating our Savior's birth to once again immerse themselves in that same community.

What draws them back? What is the power of camp that pulls them away from their electronics, stretches them to try new things, gives them the courage to step into a new community, to make new friends and to take the bold step to follow Jesus?

2016 was a year that stretched Retreat and Camping Ministries beyond the boundaries of our three properties, Camp Harmison, Manidokan Camp and Retreat Center and West River Center. With the generous help of grants (from the Reisterstown UMC and Grace UMC, Baltimore) RCM ran six weeks of day camp in Baltimore City. Under the leadership of Erica Waters, from Epworth Chapel UMC, there were two week sessions at Metropolitan UMC, John Wesley UMC and Unity UMC. The collaboration of the local churches, RCM and partner churches which included Grace UMC, Reisterstown UMC and Fallston UMC provided for a fun and meaningful time for 80 young people from Baltimore.

Camp Harmison hosted a week of day camp for 25 campers from the Berkeley Springs/Morgan County/Hancock areas. Staff from the West River Center led Bible studies, games, archery and good use was made of the new group games area constructed by the Harmison staff. For both of the day camp programs, the Board of Child Care in Randallstown and Falling Waters, W.Va graciously opened their facilities for the campers to use the pool, ropes course and skate parks.

RCM saw increases in both summer camp and retreat usage. Summer Camp numbers rose nearly 11%, which includes the new day camp programs in Baltimore and at Camp Harmison. The traditional residential camps at Manidokan and West River rose nearly 3% in 2016. The number of retreat guests (includes overnight and day trips) rose dramatically from 12,931 guests at all three sites in 2015 to 15,719 in 2016, an increase of 18%. A large part of this came at Manidokan and Harmison which had increases of 20% and 74% respectively! One new program at Manidokan is a partnership with the Baltimore City Department of Social Services that sponsors a week of camp for children in the foster care system that have been separated from their siblings. This week of camp gives them the chance to reunite with their brothers and sisters, even if just for a short time. We anticipate this partnership to continue in the coming years.

Capital improvements to the sites and programs included a new van at Manidokan and a new recreational area at Harmison. The Camp Joy volunteers spent a weekend in the spring making significant improvements and refurbishing the God's Open Window Chapel area at Harmison. At West River there was a major rehabilitation on an 80+ year old cabin built when the camp was known as Kamp Kahlert of the Washington area YWCA. The cabin sits right at the water's edge on the west side of camp. It is now a year round retreat house that can accommodate up to nine folks, ideal for small groups, families and Sabbath space for clergy. The building was dedicated to David Baker who led teams from St. Paul's UMC in Kensington in helping to make improvements and upkeep many years prior to his passing. The St. Paul's UM Men continued their service over the years and considerable financial support for the project came from members at St. Paul's. Many volunteer groups helped with the project but specific thanks goes out to the men from Severna Park UMC who faithfully came one to two times a week for 10 weeks to assist. Without their help the project could not have been accomplished before the start of summer camp.

Volunteers continue to be the strength of the summer camp program. Last summer 208 folks served as Directors, Counselors and Junior Counselors, giving a week of their summer to provide leadership for campers, sharing their faith, investing themselves in the lives of the campers and just having fun with young people. Remarkably many of these folks who are giving of their time are past campers and most within the last 10 to 15 years. These young adults have felt the impact of camp and are now wanting to see other youth have that same experience.

Dave Showalter, Youth Pastor at St. Paul's UMC in Lusby was honored as the Dorothy Ordwein Award winner for 2015. Dave has been directing summer camps for over a decade. Many of his campers have gone on to provide leadership for the camp and retreat programs.

I would like to express my continued appreciation for the support from the churches of the Baltimore-Washington Conference and their partnership in our ministry. The annual apportionment allotment from the Board of Trustees for capital improvements enables the site staff to keep the infrastructure of the camps in good shape. Retreat and Camping Ministries is on track to once again finish the fiscal year in the black. This will be the fourth year in a row. In consultation with CFA, $20,000 of the excess revenue from 2015 was put back into camperships thus increasing the opportunities for children and youth to experience the Fun, Friends and Faith building experiences of a week of summer camp.

I have the wonderful privilege to be honored with the leadership responsibilities of a ministry that is supported by the prayers, presence and gifts of the people of the Baltimore Washington Conference. There is a dedicated team that serves this ministry. I am grateful for their service.

Camp Harmison: Keith Puffenberger, Caretaker

Manidokan Camp and Retreat Center: Chris Schlieckert, Director; Steve Lane, Assistant Director; Scott Norris, Maintenance Director

West River Center: David Coomes, Maintenance Director; Tammy Gauley, Food Service Director; Diane Gunde and Paul DeLuca, Maintenance; Matthew Surber, Program Director

Retreat and Camping Ministries Office: Amy Marshall, Camping Administrator

Plus an additional 56 part-time and seasonal staff serving at all three sites in the areas of program, food service and maintenance.

We all look forward eagerly to 2017 and the opportunity to serve.

Andrew Thornton, Director, Retreat & Camping Ministries and the West River Center

UNITED METHODIST WOMEN (CC)

The United Methodist Women (UMW), a supportive, inclusive Christian membership organization with over 800,000 members nationwide, focus on the mission set forth by Jesus Christ. The Book of Discipline sets forth the standards and charges for mission work around the World: "The organized unit of the United Methodist Women shall be a community of women whose purpose is to know God and to experience freedom as whole persons through Jesus Christ; to develop a creative, supportive fellowship; and to expand concepts of mission through participation in the global ministries of the church."

Governed by a leadership team of 11 elected officers, the Baltimore-Washington Conference has 13,000 members, 460 active local units, and eight districts (Annapolis, Baltimore Metropolitan, Baltimore Suburban, Central Maryland, Cumberland/Hagerstown, Frederick, Greater Washington and Washington East). Each district has a president and leadership team.

The BWC UMW theme is "Embracing Mission and Outreach through Love in Action." The BWC has mission initiatives in the areas of domestic violence, racial justice, immigration advocacy, transformative education, human trafficking, maternal health, environmental changes, legislative policies, climate change and disabilities rights.

Through donations from local church, the BWC UMW supports eight projects: Baltimore Parish Family Crisis; Resource Center in Cumberland; Epworth House Mission House at Wesley Theological Seminary; Scholarship Fund in Fulton; Shenandoah Women's Center in Martinsburg, W. Va.; Susanna Wesley House in Baltimore; The Shepherd's Staff in Westminster; and YWCA Domestic Violence Counseling and Safe House in Arnold. These organizations provide services for the most vulnerable.

The BWC UMW is engaged in hands-on ministries with districts and local churches. This included preparing health care items, baby kits, and prayer shawls sent to Africa University in Zimbabwe for students and women; coat drives, foods for homeless shelters, backpack projects for adopted schools, prayer breakfasts, spiritual retreats, officers training, legislative seminars, National United Nations Seminar in New York, and serving hot meals in the community for hungry families.

Additionally, UMW serves in the role as chaperones and security guards for the ROCK retreat and monitor for Mission u youth school. The Legacy Fund will celebrate 150 years in ministry and mission in two years. A kick off UniTea Was held at the BWC Mission center to bring awareness to the needs to recruit younger women between ages 19-40 and to bring fresh winds into UMW.

The vision is turning faith, hope and love in action by responding to social justice issues, that impact the lives for women, children and youth around the world. .

As a conference, we are called to provide advocacy and service which causes us to step out, stand up, make our voices heard and support the needs for women, children and youth. We know that we are not whole until we ensure wholeness for everyone. We invite and ask you to make a difference in the lives for women, children and youth.

Elizabeth M. Stemley, President

VIBRANT COMMUNITIES (CC)

The Office of Vibrant Communities' role in the Baltimore-Washington Conference is to initiate and support the development of new faith communities and assist existing congregations to be revitalized for discipleship and growth. The Vibrant Communities Office's goal is to help all congregations, new faith communities and new faith experiences by offering opportunities for bringing more people into a life-transforming relationship with Jesus Christ. Toward that end, this past year has been productive and fruitful.

- In partnership with the Mid-Atlantic United Methodist Foundation, the office provided eight scholarships (one person per district) to participate in the Financial Leadership Academy for two years.
- Sent 11 people to the 2016 School of Congregational Development, "Into the DEEP" in Evanston, Ill., with an additional 35 people participating via satellite at two local church sites within our conference.
- Assisted 26 people in attending Exponential East 2016 in Florida, where they explored "Becoming 5ive," a national conversation on church multiplication. This conference featured more than 100 speakers, 125 workshops, nine learning tracks, and more than 5,000 attendees. Each attendee was challenged to leave this experience and "Dream Big" within their ministry context.
- Conducted DISCernment Retreats, during which individuals more fully discovered their leadership style and discerned if they are being called to start or lead a new ministry expression or experience.
- Provided classes at regional Leadership Days on MissionInsite and Readiness 360, tools that help congregations understand and prepare for their fields of ministry opportunity, as well as offered workshops to motivate local churches to move from "Maintenance to Mission, from Membership to Discipleship."
- Also, facilitated at church leadership retreats on creating and becoming a vibrant community and secured coaches for pastors and congregations seeking to become more vibrant communities.

- Offered training at the conference center on MissionInsite to our district superintendents, district administrators and regional strategists to help support their work in the mission fields and ministry settings they support.

The Baltimore-Washington Conference has witnessed many exciting developments — such as the new faith community, “The Bridge.” An outreach ministry of Asbury UMC in Washington, D.C., “The Bridge” seeks to bring people, who live in the surrounding neighborhood of Asbury UMC but would not necessarily worship in its traditional service, into a relationship with faith and mission.

These “God moments” are important and encouraging as this office and our conference continues to reach new people for Christ by starting new faith communities and creating new worship experiences. The Office of Vibrant Communities will continue to resource congregations and communities to help them make disciples of Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world.

Rev. Antoine C. Love, Director for Vibrant Communities

ZIMBABWE PARTNERSHIP (CC)

The year 2016 was yet another year where the fruits of labor through the Zimbabwe Partnership continued to multiply. While odd-numbered years are years that the combined conferences share in holding the Pastors’ School, which has now been offered on 10 occasions, the even-numbered years still find deep, substantial work done by several of our congregations and members in communities in Zimbabwe grateful for our work together. The collective work of the Baltimore-Washington Conference and the Zimbabwe Episcopal Area is an example to all for how global partnership can work in our connection to build the Kingdom of God together.

Specifically, the conference’s Volunteers in Mission continues to expand its work from helping to build sanctuaries to working with church and community entities to construct medical clinics and lay groundwork for stronger communication networks. Spearheaded by churches such as Community UMC in Crofton, Bel Air UMC in Bel Air, and others, as well as the steadfast work of people such as Charlie Moore, Jim Gourley, Sue McCann, Dave Talbot and countless others in the conference, hope and healing is being instilled in the lives of many.

Some very creative work has been done by Emory Grove UMC in Gaithersburg and Mill Creek Parish in Durwood through the leadership of the Rev. Tim Warner around the fundraising and installation of bore holes in the center of communities in the Mutare area. These bore holes, constructed for as little as $5,000, become wells in which communities deprived of clean water access find themselves having this lifeline re-established in their areas. Long-term support of the Ishe Anesu school in Sakubva, one of the most economically challenged areas in the country, continues through congregations such as Emory UMC in Washington, D.C.

This year will be Bishop Easterling’s first occasion to travel to Zimbabwe as we celebrate the 20th year of the Zimbabwe Partnership this summer. A team of BWC leaders led by our bishop will join with Zimbabwe Episcopal Area leaders to hold the 11th Pastors’ School at Africa University from July 17-21, 2017. This gathering of almost 500 clergy from across Zimbabwe provides education for pastors, many of whom cannot afford to go to seminary or are very new to the ministry as congregations continue to pop up in Zimbabwe faster than pastors can be identified and trained to go and lead them.

We really have a powerful partnership with Zimbabwe that, since 1997, continues to grow and flourish in great ways. A new covenant was established in 2015, and through it, Pastors’ schools will continue and the Volunteers in Mission work will expand through churches, schools, clinics and other projects that the Holy Spirit orchestrates. The Zimbabwe Partnership is without question a great source of joy, celebration and testimony to the extensive global work of the Baltimore-Washington Conference. Our hope in the future is to have more leaders from Zimbabwe come to the BWC to equip and train our leaders with skills and talents in congregational development. The possibilities are endless. To God be the glory!

STEWARDSHIP

BOARD OF ORDAINED MINISTRY (CC)

Over the past Conference year, the Baltimore-Washington Board of Ordained Ministry has served on behalf of all of us who are called to representative ministry of the church as licensed, commissioned and ordained persons. The Board is comprised of 54 lay and clergy persons who serve on behalf of more than 1,000 persons under our care as either candidates for ministry, actively commissioned Provisional Members, Deacons and Elders in full connection, and retired members.

We are grateful to God for Bishop LaTrelle Easterling for her encouragement, guidance and support of our work throughout this year, and we are grateful for each of you for your prayers for the Board's work on our behalf. As we embarked on a new quadrennium after the 2016 General Conference, we as a Board have worked throughout the past year to clarify our values and the principles that guide our work. To accomplish this, the full board engaged in a two-day process of retreat, prayer and discernment, and arrived at the place of affirming 15 values which include Honesty and Transparency, Humility, Openness to the Holy Spirit, Deep Listening, and Justice that goes towards fairness, treating everyone equally in the process.

In accordance with paragraph 635 of the 2016 Book of Discipline, an important part of our work is serving as stewards of the process of supporting, evaluating and examining persons who have offered themselves as candidates for ordained ministry as Deacons and Elders. Our eight district committees on ordained ministry and the BoOM have worked tirelessly throughout the year to ensure that processes of evaluation and examination are accomplished with integrity, fairness and clarity for all candidates and provisional members under our care. We have also worked to perfect several of the policies and procedures that inform our work including policies and procedures for evaluation of candidates for ministry, and will continue to do so in the coming year.

Like the whole church, the Baltimore-Washington Conference and many persons in our local churches, the members of the Board of Ordained Ministry is a group of diverse persons, and we acknowledge that we are a group of faithful persons who are not of one mind on a number of important matters confronting the church and society. One of these areas regards issues of LGBTQ inclusion in the life church and its ministries. The Board of Ordained Ministry continues to review its policies and practices in light of the 2016 Book of Discipline and recent declarative decisions from the Judicial Council pertaining to the qualifications for ordination in The United Methodist Church.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the Rev. John Nupp, Director of the Center for Clergy Excellence, for his outstanding leadership in managing and facilitating the perfecting of our practices for supporting clergy and those preparing for ordained ministry, and Mrs. Debbie Albrecht for her stellar administrative support of the Board of Ordained Ministry's work.

As we move into the next Conference year, we continue to solicit your prayers for our work on your behalf, for each of us who seek to serve Christ in the representative ministries of the church, for the Baltimore-Washington Conference, The United Methodist Church, and Christ's Church universal.

Rev. Dr. C. Anthony Hunt, Chair

BOARD OF TRUSTEES' (CC)

Once again, it has been a busy and productive year for the Annual Conference Board of Trustees. Our primary role is to safeguard and protect the interests and rights of the Annual Conference. While it would be difficult to summarize all the Trustee Board's work, I would like to note some of the Board's accomplishments:

Much of our attention this year was focused on preparing the Episcopal Residence to receive Bishop Easterling and her family. Thanks to the oversight of Moe Battley and Jan Hayden, the kitchen underwent renovations, floors were replaced and painting throughout the residence was accomplished.

2016 marked the 200th anniversary of the death of Frances Asbury, the first Bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church. You may not know that he is buried within the bounds of our Annual Conference, at Mt. Olivet Cemetery in Baltimore. In collaboration with the Baltimore-Washington Conference Historical Society, we funded the replacement of the Bishops monuments, as well as other areas of the Bishop's Lot.

Once again, we defended the United Methodist Trust clause in several cases, as individuals tried to reclaim properties formerly occupied by United Methodist congregations. In each case the Conference was successful. We also received the properties of several United Methodist Churches whose leaders voted to close: Kabletown UMC in West Virginia and Centennial-Caroline UMC in Baltimore City.

Through our loans and grants, we were able to aid several churches with emergency loans, mostly located in Baltimore City, as well as support new initiatives to aid churches to upgrade their properties to reach new people.

We are pleased, once again, to support the Africa University Development office by providing office space in the Mission Center, as well as providing the necessary repairs and upkeep to the center so that our staff, boards and agencies have a functional place to work and meet.

The Board of Trustees continued this year to provide training at the Regional Leadership Days on the role and responsibilities of local church Trustees, and to support local churches by being available to answer questions and provide guidance on local church trustee matters.

I am grateful to all of the Trustees who faithfully serve, and to the conference office on Finance and Administration. Their cooperation and assistance has been invaluable.

Rev. Dr. Bill Brown, Chair

CENTER FOR CLERGY EXCELLENCE

Within the conference structure, the Center for Clergy Excellence provides an on-site presence and real-time resources for the work of the Board of Ordained Ministry. In support of the continued growth of our Annual Conference, the Center was established in 2016 to identify, develop and support effective clergy leadership. In this inaugural year, the Director, Rev. John W. Nupp, established foundational relationships both within the Conference structure and with neighboring partners in mission, for the sake of forming disciples who transform the world for Christ.

The Director worked closely with leaders of the Board of Ordained Ministry and its subcommittees: the Culture of Call, Residency in Ministry, License to Preach School and Exam subcommittees, in addition to the Registrars for Provisional Members, Full Members and Local Pastors. Each of these persons led the work of their teams and contributed countless hours of effort toward the overall strength of the Board. With the Culture of Call committee, we look forward to launching our first candidacy summit in January 2018. Entitled “Living Your Call,” this event will provide a way for church leaders to bring those experiencing a call to ministry together with conference leaders for discernment and learning practical next steps.

Transformation beyond our conference structures provides a vital reminder that the call of Christ is not to save institutions, but the world of people whom Christ claims as God’s own children. Conversations with Kids4Peace, the Maryland Problem Gambling Council, Horizon Foundation, Opioid Addiction Education Services and Justice for Our Neighbors have yielded new possibilities for leadership development beyond the walls of the local church. Through the subcommittee on Continuing Education, we are exploring additional ways to celebrate and share how our pastoral leaders are reaching out in service and continuing to grow in the sanctifying grace of God.

Mentoring is the ministry focus for the coming year. Both candidacy mentoring at the discernment phase with inquiring candidates, and clergy mentoring for those moving ahead toward ordination are vital for leadership development. Thus far, the Director has met with three Districts to provide formal training for candidacy mentors. The coming year will involve reaching the rest of the conference to provide consistent training for all our District Committees on Ordained Ministry, and ensuring clergy mentoring for Local Pastors as well. In addition, a future-oriented task force will shape the Eight-Year Assessment and Review process required by the new Book of Discipline, as a model for pastoral spiritual renewal and congregational rejuvenation. Visit our corner of the Conference website or follow the monthly newsletter, “The Sower,” for more practical information, spiritual formation ideas or needed inspiration for answering your call to follow Jesus.

Rev. John W. Nupp, Director

CONFERENCE BOARD OF PENSIONS AND HEALTH BENEFITS (CC)

The Board of Pensions and Health Benefits continues to pursue its goal of enabling clergy and lay staff to accomplish their ministries without concern for their long-term financial or medical protection. We continue to position ourselves to face the challenges that lie ahead and to assist clergy and staff in their mission.

Pensions:

Pre-82 Service Funding: The 2017 Past Service Rate (PSR) is confirmed at $665. We recommend that the PSR for 2018 be set at $692. ¶1506.7 (2012 Discipline) grants authority to the Annual Conference to review the annuity rate for Pre-82 service and to adjust the PSR rate as appropriate taking into consideration the changes in the economy. Such annuity rate may remain the same or be increased without restriction. Wespeth Benefits and Investments actuarial valuation for Pre-82 Annuities as of January 1, 2016, showed a more than fully funded plan, no monies to be paid by BWC. The pre-82 plan surplus results from increases in valuation of the securities in the account. Wespeth has authorized a mechanism by which we have been able to employ some of the excess Pre-82 funds to fund our Retiree Medical Plan reserve. Pre-82 is the pension plan in place prior to 1982.

Ministerial Pension Plan (MPP) Funding: Wespeth Benefits and Investments actuarial valuation for MPP Annuities as of January 1, 2016, showed that it is also a fully funded plan, no monies to be paid by BWC. Monies previously contributed to MPP will continue to be held in individual participant accounts. MPP is the pension plan in place from 1982 through 2006

Clergy Retirement Security Program (CRSP) Funding: The Baltimore-Washington Conference funds the program as follows:

CRSP Defined Contribution (DC) - BWC continues to collect 3% of participant's plan compensation (Salary plus housing) to fund the Defined Contribution (DC). Two percent goes directly to the participant's DC account. Participant is now required to enroll in the United Methodist Personal Investment Plan (UMPIP) with a contribution of at least 1% of plan compensation in order to receive a match of up to 1%.

CRSP Defined Benefit (DB) – BWC continues to collect 12% of participant's plan compensation limited by the DAC (Denominational Average Compensation).

Comprehensive Protection Plan (CPP):

BWC continues to collect 3% of a clergy participant's plan compensation (salary plus housing) for the Comprehensive Protection Plan (CPP). The CPP provides death and disability benefits for all eligible participants.

The Annual Conference has sent to General Conference resolutions addressing discrimination against persons with long term disabilities when the diagnosis is "mental/nervous." Wespath Benefits and Investments has eliminated the discrimination in the case of clergy covered by the Comprehensive Protection Plan.

The Conference Board of Pensions and Health Benefits voted to provide the funds to exercise an option in which this discrimination is eliminated for lay employees as well.

UMLifeOptions:

Eligibility changes was approved at the 2016 General Conference to eliminate the special arrangement coverage for ordained clergy appointed to ½ or ¼ time as of 12/31/2016. Conferences were given options to purchase life and disability insurance for these clergy through UMLifeOptions.

Effective 1/1/2017, ordained clergy appointed to ½ or ¼ time are now enrolled in UMLifeOptions and BWC will collect 3% of clergy participant's plan compensation (salary plus housing) to cover the premiums.

Health:

HealthFlex: Effective Jan. 1, 2017, all eligible participants have been enrolled in the Wespath HealthFlex Exchange Plans. The HealthFlex Exchange brings more plan options and more flexibility for enrollees to select the HealthFlex plan that best fits each individual need. The HealthFlex Exchange is not a public exchange and is not associated with government agencies. It is a group health plan designed for United Methodist Church clergy, lay employees and their families.

Retirees: Retirees who are over age 65 will continue to work with OneExchange to choose policies better suited to their individual needs. Retirees are offered a stipend based on years of service. Retirees who are under age 65 or any future participants who retire before age 65 will remain on the HealthFlex Exchange plan until the month they turn 65.

Social Security: Your Board strongly recommends that all clergy of the Conference participate in Social Security, and not exercise any conscience clauses to opt out of Social Security. Eligibility for Medical benefits through OneExchange in retirement and Disability benefits through the CPP program, are both dependent on participation in Social Security and Medicare. Thus, one's irrevocable decision to opt out of Social Security is a decision to be excluded from these Conference programs as well.

Arrearage: Local Church arrearages in payment for pastor's health care premiums and pension obligations have grown each year. Since the Conference first pays for Pension and Health benefits and then bills local churches, nonpayment of these bills imposes a burden on the other churches of the conference. A Task Force appointed by the Bishop comprised of two District Superintendents, the Chair of the Board of Pensions, and Conference staff, meets three times a year to review churches which are in arrears, and to discuss possible resolutions, church by church.

The task force developed a forbearance and revitalization program which went into effect Jan. 1, 2015, under which churches have a three-year grace period to find ways to return to financial health. Thirteen churches signed documents to participate in the program and their three-year period will end Dec. 31, 2017.

A number of churches which have not elected to participate in the program have nevertheless made payments on their arrearages. With the help of the District Superintendent, members of the Board of Pensions and Health Benefits and Church Committee chairs, participating Congregations develop action plans to document their path forward as they agree to stay current in their payments. The objective is to make every effort to help churches return to health both in their ministry and their finances. The total arrearage at the end of 2016 for non-participating churches was $315,917, for closed churches $105,978, and for the forbearance churches totaling $206,491 not including the forbearance amount.

Final Comments: The CBOPHB thanks Frances Tagoe, Director, Human Resources and Benefits, for her enthusiastic and professional work on behalf of our participants and the Board. She effectively communicates and administers the benefits based on Plan rules and regulations, the Book of Discipline, the Conference's policies and procedures, and all applicable state and federal laws so that there is an understanding of the benefits for our clergy and lay employees. It is her goal and the Board's goal to continue to provide the best possible benefits package for our plan participants, while maintaining the utmost care for and fiduciary responsibility to you, the Plan participants, and those in the Baltimore-Washington Conference for whom we owe the same. We wish to also give thanks to Karen Conroy, HR & Benefits Associate, Pier McPayten, Controller, and the District Superintendents who all support the work we do.

COMMUNICATIONS (CC)

Stories give our lives meaning, they deliver life, make us more courageous, fill us with wonder, challenge and delight us. The Communications ministry has the honor of telling the stories of the people of the Baltimore-Washington Conference. This year, that story included a transition of leadership as Bishop LaTrelle Easterling became the conference's presiding bishop. New faith communities, interesting community outreach and a renewed focus on spirituality as it is lived out in pulpits, pews and beyond, fueled much of our coverage.

The five-member staff of the Communications team inspires, informs and equips the spiritual leaders of the Baltimore-Washington Conference using a number of media, including the award-winning newspaper, the UMConnection; the website www.bwcumc.org; Facebook; Twitter; and the e-connection, a weekly electronic newsletter.

We help interpret and celebrate the connectional giving of the local churches, which this year and last enabled vital ministries to be pursued with the faithful payment of apportionments.

In the past year, during times of high usage, our Facebook presence served more than 5,700 people a day. The BWC's Facebook site is the place to go to find up-to-minute news about United Methodism and the conference, and its reach is growing. If you haven't already, please encourage your friends to Like Us on Facebook.

The past year also saw a change in the BWC's website, which underwent a redesign to increase the site's relevance and make it even more user-friendly. The new features and content continue to be a work in progress. We welcome your on-going feedback.

In other activity, we provided unparalleled print and electronic coverage of the Annual Conference Session, launched an app, renewed our efforts to work with the Stewardship team to update subscription databases, were a denominational leader in new branding efforts for annual conferences, participated in an on-street, guerilla evangelism experience during Advent with ReThink Church, and created, along with the Office for Clergy Excellence, a unique devotional.

We encourage area United Methodists to share the stories of God's love being lived out in their churches and communities. In her children's novel "The Tale of Despereaux," Kate DiCamillo writes: "Stories are light. Light is precious in a world so dark. Begin at the beginning. Tell a story. Make some light."

We owe it to God and one another to create, live and tell each other light-filled stories of meaning and hope.

COUNCIL ON FINANCE AND ADMINISTRATION (CC)

The Council on Finance and Administration (CFA) makes our report this year with an ongoing appreciation for the faithfulness and dedication of local churches of the Baltimore-Washington Conference. We stand together as a connectional church such that both causes for celebration and the challenges that face us are shared across the connection. Our mutual accountability aids us in our quest to carry out the vision we share.

There is more good news to share than can be reported here. It is good news that our conference continued to see record high apportionment giving in 2016. Our collection rate of 92.1% beat our budget, which was set at 92% for 2016. A highlight, both financially and otherwise, is the outstanding income and program performance of Retreat and Camping Ministries.

We celebrate the opportunities we have to work in partnership and look forward to increasing these. As an example of productive partnership, the Finance Office is working successfully with VANCO to encourage more of our local churches to utilize the option of electronic giving. It is important to be able to offer forms of electronic giving as a dimension of our radical hospitality, aiding people to express the financial dimension of their ministry.

The 2018 proposed budget does not stand alone. It is a reflection of strategic initiatives previously undertaken as well as an indicator of the strength of this Conference's commitment to build upon emerging vision.

2016 Financial Results (Pre-Audit):

Income

The apportionment income in 2016 was $14,343,308 with an overall collection rate of 92.08%. For the third straight year, the Conference has set a new record high for the collection rate. Our budget for the year was based on a collection rate of 92.0% and the resulting variance was greater than budget by $12,481 (0.1%). The apportionment giving was $215,000 (1.5%) higher than the prior year.

The collection rates recorded in recent years are as follows:

2016: 92.08% 2011: 90.46%

2015: 91.66% 2010: 90.51%
 2014: 90.77% 2009: 89.24%
 2013: 89.84% 2008: 87.00%
 2012: 89.10% 2007: 87.69%

The number of churches contributing 100% towards their apportionments remained consistently high with 84% of our local churches meeting that standard. The number of churches giving 100% of their apportionments was 83% in 2015, 82% in 2014, and 82% in 2013.

The non-apportionment income in 2016 was $3 million, which was $181,000 (6.4%) better than budget. The good non-apportionment income performance was driven primarily by Retreat and Camping Ministry revenues that exceeded their budget by $177,000. Summer camps had a 2.7% increase in residential camp participants and an 11% increase in day camp initiatives in Baltimore City and West Virginia. These results were also joined by a 21.5% overall increase in retreat guests which was a combined effort by Camp Manidokan up 20% and Camp Harmison up 74%. Overall, the non-apportionment income was $42,000 less than the prior year and the total income variance was $193,905 (1.1%) greater than budget.

Expenses

The total expenses in 2016 were $17.1 million which was $90,200 (0.5%) less than budget and $113,000 (0.7%) less than the prior year. The most significant financial pressures were benefit expenses that exceeded budget by $75,000 and annual conference expenses that exceeded total income by $116,000. These were offset by under budget performance in legal expenses at $81,000 and retiree medical claims that were $353,000 under budget.

Overall, the resulting net income prior to audit was a positive $284,123 which is 1.7% of budget. This continues a turn-around performance for the Conference where prior net incomes were reported as $0 in 2015, $300,000 negative in 2014, and $177,000 negative in 2013.

BWC Apportionment Base:

The expenses of a local church as they are reported in the annual collection of statistical data, minus dollars that are spent on mission, outreach, debt service and capital projects comprise what is known as the apportionment base for a church.

The apportionment for a local church is derived by multiplying the apportionment base by the Benevolence Factor that is established by the Annual Conference when the budget is approved. Using this method, our current Benevolence Factor of 17.75% yields an apportionment that is most commonly in the range of 9-12% of total local church expenses or income.

The apportionment base for the Conference is an accumulated total of the apportionment base that is calculated for each local church. The reported base increased by 0.43% in 2016. The apportionment base trends with the year-over-year changes are as follows:

 2015: $ 87,072,403 (-0.8%)
 2014: $ 87,780,638 (+1.1%)
 2013: $ 86,835,908 (+0.8%)
 2012: $ 86,169,509 (-1.3%)
 2011: $ 87,341,343 (-2.1%)
 2010: $ 89,250,232 (+6.1% vs. 2008)
 2009: Not Applicable – Kept the prior year's base and budget
 2008: $ 84,095,541 (+3.0%)
 2007: $ 81,646,157 (+3.8%)
 2006: $ 78,672,464

2018 Budget:

The proposed budget for 2018 builds on the strategic initiatives that were introduced in the 2017 budget. These initiatives include:

1. Increase Level of CFA Reserves

The 2017 budget included funds to replenish the 10% apportionment reserve and establish a $200,000 legal reserve. Building on these efforts, the CFA voted in February 2017 to increase the apportionment reserves from 10% to 15% of the annual apportionment budget. The Council took this step as a precautionary measure during a time in which local church incomes and the BWC apportionment base have remained stagnant for the past 5 years. The benchmarking of other conferences also showed BWC's level of 10% reserves was significantly lower than most conferences of similar size. The 2018 budget includes $350,000 towards the increased level of CFA reserves.

2. Accelerate Payment of Conference Debt

The consolidated loan for the West River Dining Hall and the Mission Center will be reduced to a balance of $3.1 million with the proposed 2018 budget that includes $500,000 towards accelerated debt payments. The loan balance stood at $5.2 million at the end of 2016 prior to starting the accelerated payments. The 2018 budget keeps the Conference on pace to pay off the loan in 2022 which will be 6 years ahead of schedule with $1.0 million total savings in interest payments.

3. Fund Retiree Medical Benefits from Reserves

Retiree medical benefits will continue to be funded from the Board of Pension reserves without any additional funding coming from apportionments. The retiree medical funding in 2018 is set at $1,635,000 which is a $203,000 reduction in the line item based on the current expense trends for this benefit.

The 2018 budget also includes a reduction of the Benevolence Factor from 17.75% down to 17.725%. This is the first reduction in the Benevolence Factor since it was reduced from 19.5% during the course of the 2012 and 2013 budgets. The reduction in the Benevolence Factor is consistent with the CFA's multi-year plan to keep making progress towards the goal that the average church's apportionments be no more than 10% of their overall income. That level is currently calculated at 11.2% based on the 2016 stats using last year's Benevolence Factor of 17.75%. The 2018 budget is estimated to reduce that number to 11.0%. These numbers are down from 12.3% in 2011.

Overall, the budget proposal consists of an apportionment income of $14,260,361, which is an increase of $41,438 or 0.3% from the prior year. The budget assumes a 92.0% collection rate for the apportionments which matches the actual results for 2016. The non-apportionment income is reduced by $207,000 to $4,203,775, which is driven almost entirely by the reduction in the retiree medical benefits mentioned previously.

The expense budget shows an increase in discipleship and mission programs by 1.2% from $10,986,493 to $11,120,426. The stewardship and administrative programs will be reduced by 3.8% from $7,200,963 to $6,926,192. The budget incorporates a 2.5% increase in salary and a 5% increase in benefits for staff. The budget also includes a budget neutral shift in funding from the Unified Funding budget to make full-time the Hispanic Ministries position on staff.

Other line items of significance include:

- The General Conference apportionments will remain essentially the same at $3,571,610 which is a slight decrease of $2,775.
- The Mission Center mortgage is reduced by $39,000 as a result of the accelerated payments that started in 2017.
- Camping revenues are projected to grow an additional 4.2% in 2018.

Other Programs/Initiatives:

- We are pleased that the General Council on Finance and Administration (GCFA) Shared Services Office has won the contract to provide IT services for the staff. The service and technical offerings are being provided at a very professional level and at a price that was 30% less than our previous contract.

- We are encouraged that United Methodist Insurance (UMI) is now representing more than 115 of our local churches in the Conference. In connection with GCFA, UMI started to underwrite policies in BWC starting in 2014. We are pleased that they are providing one more option for churches to consider as they evaluate the property and casualty coverage for their ministries.

Summary

The future continues to unfold and we will continue to rise to meet our financial challenges, strengthened by a willingness to operate in ways both traditional and innovative. We will continue to strengthen communications about our connectional ministries and how apportionments are used throughout the connection. We are blessed as a conference by financial stability and by the resources we have in terms of partnerships, both realized and envisioned.

The Baltimore-Washington Conference continues to develop its stewardship so that vital and vibrant communities can be born and prosper, so that our connections at both local and global levels can be strengthened and increased, and so that all local churches can experience the benefits of the connectional system of which we are all a part. We recognize God's presence at work through it all and thank God as well as appreciate the uniqueness of each local church.

CFA continues to do its work in a spirit that we pray is cooperative, well-focused, and in keeping with the Baltimore-Washington vision to "become fully alive in Christ and make a difference in a diverse and every-changing world." We work together for the greater good of which we are all a part, keeping in mind that all that we have and all that we are is from God.

STRAWBRIDGE SHRINE ASSOCIATION (CC)

The officers, directors and members of the Strawbridge Shrine Association are saddened to report the death of our President, the Rev. James F.W. Talley, on Dec. 31, 2016. Talley was stalwart in his support of the Strawbridge Shrine in both his service and his giving. He was unfailingly committed to the Shrine as a place of spiritual celebration and education, and took great joy in receiving the many visitors and confirmation classes who make pilgrimages to the “First Home of American Methodism.”

In his Annual Report to the Members of the Association, Talley said:

“My hope is built on nothing less than Jesus’ blood and righteousness;
I dare not trust the sweetest frame but wholly lean on Jesus’ name.
On Christ the solid rock I stand; All other ground is sinking sand.”

“That was the message of Robert and Elizabeth Strawbridge and it was so powerful that it transformed a movement into an equally powerful global Church and it is powerful enough to keep our beloved Shrine effective and strong in this age.”

“Effective and Strong” are good words to describe the Strawbridge Shrine Association in 2016. Talley’s report continues: “We have a full Board of folk who offer expertise in United Methodist history, knowledge and experience—not just knowledge of buildings and structure, but of the theology and scriptural teaching of those saints who formed the vibrant Methodist movement beginning with the Wesleys and continuing to this day.

“We created a petition, signed by 19 Board members, calling for the General Conference to maintain the current Commission structure and location and we forwarded copies to each Baltimore-Washington Conference delegate to the 2016 General Conference. I am pleased that legislation to alter the Commission structure and location did not survive action at the Committee level.

“Our Shrine exists in real time in a real world. We succumbed to the new reality of real time surveillance of our precious buildings and artifacts and have installed three constantly operating surveillance cameras.

“Planned and executed by our talented Program Committee, our early summer event evolved into a ‘Colonial Day’ event and was very successful. We enjoyed our best attendance and attendees were treated to a variety of historical exhibits and craft demonstrations, musical and speaking events, tours, and, of course, good food.

“We now have a large entrance sign which welcomes folk to our site with pertinent information including a listing of the hours which the site is open and staffed.

“The welcome spirit continues just beyond the sign with the addition of a Gazebo [donated by Talley and his wife, Kim, in memory of their parents]. The Gazebo adds even more to our welcoming tone as it houses art carvings of Robert and Elizabeth Strawbridge in full color and seated on a bench reminding visitors of the original benches in the Log Meeting House. These beautiful wood art statuarys were donated, by Kit and Dan Hartzler and Mary-West and Paul Ensor.

“[The heart] of our site is the group of buildings which are old and require a lot of hard work and money to keep them looking good without deteriorating. Our work days are greatly successful and people work very hard to keep our buildings clean, safe, and structurally sound. [Among other jobs this year] the roof of the Evans House was sealed and coated and the interior was completely painted.

“The Shrine Endowment Fund is now invested with the Mid-Atlantic United Methodist Foundation. Seeing this Fund grow out of nothingness just a few years ago is gratifying and serves as a vehicle for future growth in many ways to contribute to the Shrine.

“But we must end where we began and offer thanks and praise to our Lord Jesus Christ who gives us the spirit, the energy, the strength, and all things necessary to keep this enterprise going and going and going...”

Jim Talley first became involved with the Shrine Association at the time of the acquisition of the Shrine property, when he was Conference Program Council Director. This was well before his ordination and he was the first layperson to hold that position in the church. Reporting to this conference’s 188th Session he wrote a passage we believe to be as true today as it was then:

“Sometimes I wish I were a theologian so that I could have the benefit of a thorough and enriched search of the Scriptures, but I do know that I believe and trust in Jesus and that he will use the United Methodists of this area to be sensitive to the needs of people wherever they are and wherever they may be. This is our heritage.”

UNITED METHODIST HISTORICAL SOCIETY (CC)

Founded in 1855, your Conference Historical Society, in true United Methodist fashion, is part of a connection of organizations collectively engaged in what is termed “The Ministry of Memory.” Since 1968, the inception of The United Methodist Church, our Society has worked in harness with our conference’s Commission on Archives and History. With our daughter organization, the Strawbridge Shrine Association, we were already working toward acquisition of “the first home of American Methodism,” a goal achieved in 1973. We continue in this connectional tradition.

All of us carrying on this ministry felt a great sigh of relief when the most recent General Conference decided not to abolish the Commissions on Archives and History. Of course, we only have a quadrennium of reprieve as surely there will be new attempts to restructure our life in 2020. Let us rededicate ourselves to not allowing those proposals to ignore our heritage as United Methodists.

SCHELL LECTURES

The series began in 2015 with a lecture by John Franklin Goucher biographer, Marilynn Southard Warshawsky, a fitting premiere for a series which takes place in a space at Lovely Lane that one enters through what was once the front door to Dr. Goucher’s Parsonage. Dr. Warshawsky previewed her most thorough and lively biography, which utilized material in our own manuscript collections and Conference Archives, as well as those at Goucher College and in the General Conference Archives at Drew University.

The author returned to Lovely Lane last spring to launch the publication, “John Franklin Goucher: Citizen of the World.” Among Dr. Goucher’s many achievements is the opening of church work in Korea. At the 2016 Conference Session, while a delegation of Korean visitors were being recognized, we presented a copy of this book to Bishop Marcus Matthews, who has shown much interest in fostering our relationship to the Korean Church and has made several trips last year (along with Dr. Warshawsky) to share in celebratory events.

The Schell series continued last year with Archaeologist Kirstie Uunila, who had previously done work at the Strawbridge Shrine and Cokesbury College sites. Now the Calvert County Historic Preservation Officer (and a lay member of our Conference), Dr. Uunilla offered a look at her recent work at the Indian Rest site there which produced artifacts showing competing religious identities in an African-American Methodist family after the Civil War.

The Society is in the process of re-envisioning the Schell Lecture Series so that it might become an event of such significance that all who read this Report will not want to miss it. The Lectures are a fitting tribute to a great leader and good friend of the Society, the Rev. Edwin A. Schell.

FRANCIS ASBURY BICENTENNIAL, 2016

As the 200th Anniversary of the death of Francis Asbury dawned, prompted by the plans already set by our British brethren, plans were initiated for appropriate observances here in Baltimore.

Through a wonderful confluence of support and planning (a true meeting of minds and hearts) from the Trustees of the Baltimore-Washington Conference and Lovely Lane Church, as well as the Historical Society, and enabled by the generosity and expertise of the Tegeler Monument Company, we were able to improve the historic signs along the roadside and at the Bishops’ Lot in Mt. Olivet Cemetery, and to replace the deteriorated Bishops’ Monument at Asbury’s grave with a durable granite replica of the original.

At the same time, a portion of the old marble monument was salvaged and placed as a memorial to “Thomas Coke, Bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church,” who, having been buried at sea, had no cemetery marker. While Mt. Olivet is still facing many challenges of care and maintenance, the Bishops’ Lot at Mt. Olivet is now a point of pilgrimage of which we can all be justly proud.

Sunday, April 3, 2016, was selected for the observance (closest Sunday after the actual anniversary date of March 31). At 11 a.m., commemorative services began at Lovely Lane Church with the sermon delivered by the Rev. Alfred Day, General Secretary of the General Commission on Archives and History of The United Methodist Church. The service was immediately followed by lunch and the opening of a new exhibit assembled by the Conference Archives staff featuring items from a collection of Asbury related manuscripts.

At 3 p.m., we assembled at the Bishops’ Lot at Mt. Olivet for brass music, song and prayer, placing of a floral tribute, and the unveiling of the magnificent new Monument. Despite the fact that the speaker, his notes, and all of us seemed in danger of blowing away, we were privileged to share an account of the death and multiple burials of Asbury which made him, “Itinerant Even in Death.”

ANNUAL MEETINGS

The Historical Society of the UMC and the Northeastern Jurisdictional Commission on Archives and History met May 24-26, 2016 in Dover, Delaware. The program was excellent with a paper by the new Chair of the Jurisdictional Commission, the Rev. Joseph DiPaulo, on Bishop Levi Scott. A native of Delaware, Bishop Scott is a seminal figure in our own Conference's history, presiding over the 1861 Session which divided over slavery, the first session of the Washington Conference in 1864 and the organization of what would become Morgan State University.

At Dover, we were well-represented by over a half-dozen attendees from Baltimore-Washington. This year, our Jurisdictional Commission meets about as far south as possible, in Charleston, West Virginia, while the Historical Society of the UMC will be hosted by the Western Jurisdiction in Anchorage, Alaska. We are pleased and proud that our Board Member, Rev. Douglas Tzan, who was awarded the quadrennial Jesse Lee Prize for United Methodist History a year ago, will attend the latter meeting.

On September 10, 2016, our Society held its own Annual Meeting at Lovely Lane Church: Baltimore City Station, in the beautiful chapel which is the first space in the Stanford White - John Goucher designed building opened for use in 1885.

As part of the meeting, the Society received a first-hand report from John Strawbridge, our vice-president and also the Lay Leader of the Lovely Lane Congregation, regarding his trip to England at the invitation of the British Conference to participate as a speaker at their observances of the 200th Anniversary of Francis Asbury's death. He discovered that our British Cousins are almost as much interested in his being a direct descendant of Robert Strawbridge as in Francis Asbury.

In 2017, on Saturday, September 16, we will hold our Annual Meeting on the Emory Grove Campground at Glyndon in Baltimore County, which was founded 150 years ago.

Financial support of our work has continued to be a constant concern. The Society's Finance Committee has met regularly in an effort to stabilize and grow available funds. Of course, the only real solution to this challenge is increased numbers in the modest basic memberships in the Society. Gentle reader, are you a member of your Conference Historical Society?

OTHER OBSERVANCES

On June 11, the Conference Historian, in the guise of Bishop Asbury, participated in "Colonial Day" with our daughter organization, now all grown up and on her own, the Strawbridge Shrine Association. He also participated in that Association's Annual Meeting on Oct. 15, presenting a paper on the relationship of Robert Strawbridge and Francis Asbury. On New Year's Eve, 2016, we were all deeply saddened by the sudden death of the Shrine Association's president, Rev. James F.W. Talley. A tireless promoter of Methodist memory and advocate for the work of the Shrine, Jim will be sorely missed.

On June 25, 2016, it was the joy of the President of the Historical Society to share with the Ruckle family in placing a renewed monument on the grave of Thomas Coke Ruckle, who painted the famous "Ordination of Francis Asbury." The original painting was destroyed in 1904 during the Great Baltimore Fire, but survives for us in the form of a magnificent engraving. Each year, this family holds a reunion which includes a ceremony at Mt. Olivet Cemetery where they are systematically restoring their lot.

The Ruckle family were Germans from the area called the Palatinate who moved to Ireland and then to America. Part of the family settled in New York where the redoubtable Barbara Ruckle Heck inspired the first Methodist preaching in that city and the founding of John Street Church. Another part of the family settled in Baltimore and were members of Lovely Lane: Baltimore City Station, and members of the extended Ruckle Family are buried in various parts of Mt. Olivet.

MUSEUM AT LOVELY LANE

During last year's summer session of the Ecumenical Institute of Theology of St. Mary's Seminary and University, the Conference Historian taught a course, "The Reformation at 500," coordinated with the Center for Catholic and Evangelical Theology national conference held at Catholic University of America in D.C.

While pre-dating the Methodist Movement, we might consider the implications for our heritage of the upcoming observance of the 500th anniversary of Martin Luther's 95 Theses on October 31, 2017. We will be mounting an exhibit this fall in the Museum at Lovely Lane, "Methodism and its Discontents," exploring the connections and contentions within Methodism and between Methodists and other churches of the Reformation.

We are grateful to Metropolitan African Methodist Episcopal Church in Washington, for their 2016 "Christmas gift" of five high quality display cases, acquired by them from the Folger Shakespeare Library. The cases will require additional work on our part to make them suit our needs, but we could not have acquired cases of this quality without the good offices Metropolitan AMEC and the superb support of the Conference Stewardship Administrator, Pat Thomas, in getting this gift to us.

This leads to a concluding commendation of the robust work in the Museum and especially how God has given us great leadership in the persons of Robert Shindle, our Conference Archivist and Director of Archives and History, and in Joyce White, our Archives and History Associate.

Most recently, they have been moving the contents out and back into the archival vault and reconfiguring and installing new shelving and receiving the gift of new display cases, but this has not stopped them from mounting new exhibits as portions of the museum are returned to its original purpose as display space.

It takes each member and officer working together, but when we do it is surprising what we have accomplished this year. Just remember, what the Lord has done for the generations before us and still accomplishes in our days. Join your Historical Society.

INSTITUTIONAL

AFRICA UNIVERSITY

Africa University ended 2016 poised to celebrate its Silver Jubilee and eager to embrace new opportunities for transformative ministry over the next 25 years.

It is a great joy to recognize and thank the Baltimore-Washington Conference for a 100 percent investment to the Africa University Fund (AUF) apportionment in 2016. All 10 conferences in the Northeastern Jurisdiction led by example, giving to the AUF at 100 percent or higher for the second consecutive year. In 2016, the tremendous commitment to connectional giving and participation of local churches enabled 34 of the 56 United Methodist annual conferences in the United States — up from 32 in 2015 — to invest 100 percent or more of their asking to the AUF.

The university community acknowledges, with heartfelt appreciation, the many ways in which the Baltimore-Washington Conference has been active, faithful, and generous in helping Africa University to realize its mission.

In addition to its support for the AUF and gifts for scholarships, the Baltimore-Washington Conference provided $300,000 for a capital project. This gift was a love offering in honor of Bishop Marcus Matthews' retirement in July 2016, and it has helped to jump-start efforts to build a sports complex on the Africa University campus. We are grateful to the conference, led by Bishop LaTrelle Easterling and her Cabinet, for the ongoing provision of part-time staff support and an office in Fulton, Md., for the first, church-wide Campaign for Africa University.

Through Africa University, the Baltimore-Washington Conference helps young people to discover and sharpen their gifts for leadership. The dream of the global United Methodist Church is alive in the contributions of the university's 7,000+ graduates. More than 90 percent of these graduates are still in Africa, serving communities in 32 countries. Currently, more than two dozen Africa University graduates are missionaries in Africa, Latin America, Asia and Europe, under the auspices of the General Board of Global Ministries of The United Methodist Church. People who would otherwise be on the margins are actively bringing God's grace, peace and abundance to the lives of others.

Over the past year, Africa University continued to evolve and serve by:

- Restructuring its academic units in order to remain relevant and provide a broader-based education to meet new demands in the African workforce.
- Providing leadership formation experiences and learning for more than 1,400 students from 26 African countries. Contrary to the norm for African higher education institutions, women represented more than half of the student body.
- Generating new knowledge and capacity to support peacebuilding in Burundi, South Sudan, Central African Republic, Somalia, Nigeria and Uganda; and to improve food security, human rights, and leadership for the African continent.

The ongoing support of the Baltimore-Washington Conference is of vital importance to Africa University. On the occasion of our 25th anniversary, we invite the individual members as well as congregations and districts of the Baltimore-Washington Conference to celebrate Africa University. Engage in a season of daily prayer for Africa University. Join its honorary alumni association. Consider hosting a special "AU@25" event for Africa University Sunday in your local church or area. Use your event to increase awareness of Africa University's ministry and invite attendees to give at least $25 each in honor of the 25th anniversary.

Thank you, Baltimore-Washington, for your unwavering witness in response to the continuing call to faith, hope, action and renewal in the world.

BOARD OF CHILD CARE (BCC)

In last year's report, I shared about how Board of Child Care is developing our three-year strategic plan. We are now in our second year of implementation and are already seeing our purpose statement of enriching communities, one family at a time come alive. Guiding us in fulfilling our purpose are our four core values: Safety, Integrity, Empathy, and Impact.

In this year's report, I want to share our strategic plan's four central goals:

1. Organizational Alignment and Focus

In 2015, we earned NAEYC (National Association for the Education of Young Children) as well as CARF accreditation (Commission on Accreditation of Rehabilitation Facilities) for the first time. The process made us focus on our operational manuals and policies and ultimately ensure they are the same across all BCC programs wherever possible. This alignment work is making us more efficient and consistent.

2. Attract, Engage and Retain Extraordinary Talent

With about 500 staff in two United Methodist conferences across the Mid-Atlantic, we need to ensure each employee is supported in their work. We have a number of projects underway that will help us cultivate a workforce that is always learning, growing, and driving lasting change. Because when we are learning and growing, we are ensuring we are providing the best possible care and services for children, families and communities.

3. Teamwork. Always.

One example of BCC teamwork is the transformation our programs are experiencing. We are infusing evidence-based practices throughout all our offerings. This is a huge undertaking that requires every corner of our organization to work together. Our end objective is to offer a continuum of care that can adjust for the unique challenges a youth and their family is having at different times in their treatment.

4. Leading Collaborations and Connections

As a connectional denomination, The United Methodist Church offers unique opportunities for collaborations. BCC has worked closely with Chaddock, a UM organization based in Quincy, Ill., to learn more about developmental trauma and attachment programs. Their advice and council was instrumental in helping us re-launch our adolescent girls program in both Baltimore and Martinsburg this past year.

BCC has also deepened our relationship with the UMA, an association of health and welfare ministries affiliated with the UMC throughout the country. We welcomed our new UMA CEO, Mary Kemper, as a new neighbor to BCC when the UMA moved its headquarters to Maryland. I am also proud to announce that I was nominated and voted onto the board of the United Methodist Association in the fall of 2016.

As I write this we are preparing for our site visit from the United Methodist Association's EAGLE (Educational Assessment Guidelines Leading toward Excellence) accreditation review that will be held in March of 2017. The results of all our accreditation visits are posted on www.boardofchildcare.org.

I once again offer our sincere appreciation to the congregations and individuals who have been prayerfully supporting our work in so many ways. Some examples include:

- Inviting our staff to preach and share about our mission;
- Touring our programs and volunteering for projects;
- Contributing financially or via gifts in kind, especially during the Christmas season;

- Making prayer blankets or creating welcome bags for our youth;
- Supporting our spiritual life team by providing resources such as Action Bibles;
- Sending birthday cards each month to our residential program participants;
- Dropping off boxes and boxes of cookies and snacks for our growing teenagers;
- ...and countless other examples of hospitality and love.

Thank you, Baltimore-Washington Conference, for your support through your prayers, your gifts, and your presence.

We invite and encourage you to engage with us in enriching communities, one family at a time. Get started at www.boardofchildcare.org to arrange for a campus tour, read our latest annual report and audited financial statements, sign up to receive monthly pictures and program updates, and to discover ways to get more involved.

OTHER NOTABLE HEADLINES:

Our own Associate Dean Pamela Lightsey was featured in Boston University's 2016 Annual Report for her pursuit of justice, empowerment, and change.

Our graduating senior, Rev. Mariama White-Hammond (AME) led the Boston Women's March, and some 75 STH faculty and students marched, calling for social and ecological justice as we build new futures in the United States.

Students of all theological and social orientations are asking and then acting: "What can I do to make this world better?" "How can I witness to my Christian faith?"

As BUSTH looks back on 2016, it celebrates transformational leaders who have loved God and cared mightily for God's world. Their living legacy gives us hope and courage for the future.

CANDLER SCHOOL OF THEOLOGY

For more than 100 years, Candler School of Theology at Emory University has prepared real people to make a real difference in the real world. Since our founding in 1914, over 10,000 students have graduated from Candler, where they have been shaped as thoughtful, principled, and courageous Christian leaders dedicated transforming the world in the name of Jesus Christ.

One of 13 official seminaries of The United Methodist Church, Candler is also one of seven graduate professional schools of Emory University, a top-tier research institution offering extensive resources and a rich context for study. Our location in Atlanta provides a learning environment that reflects the highly diverse communities of the 21st century. Simply put, there is no better place for ministry preparation that addresses our major denominational priorities: developing leaders, starting and growing churches, ministry with the poor, and improving global health.

In order to keep pace with the needs of the church and the world, Candler offers 17 degrees: seven single degrees and ten dual degrees pairing theology with bioethics, business, international development, law, public health, or social work. One of our newest degrees is a Doctor of Ministry that is 90 percent online, so students can remain in their places of ministry as they study and apply what they learn in real time. We've also partnered with the University of Georgia's School of Social Work to create an MDiv/MSW where students learn to maximize their effectiveness by combining pastoral skills such as spiritual counseling with social work practices such as family therapy and community assessment.

Our student body continues to reflect the diversity and breadth of the Christian faithful. 475 students are enrolled, with 51 percent women, 34 percent people of color (U.S.), and a median age of 30. Students represent 39 denominations, with half coming from the Methodist family. 83 percent of students are seeking a degree to prepare them as ministry professionals.

Candler has a deep commitment to alleviating student debt and employs a multi-pronged approach to tackle this issue. In 2016-2017, we awarded nearly $5.75 million in Candler scholarships, with 95 percent of MDiv students receiving aid and the average scholarship covering 73 percent of tuition. Plus, our comprehensive “Faith & Finance” program teaches money management skills that serve our students now and will continue to serve them—and the churches they lead—well into the future.

In fall of 2016, Candler welcomed to the faculty Larry Goodpaster as Bishop-in-Residence, and Kendall Soulen as Professor of Systematic Theology. Also this fall, three Candler alumni began their terms as newly elected bishops in the Southeastern Jurisdiction: David Graves 90T in Alabama-West Florida, R. Lawson Bryan 75T 85T in South Georgia, and Sue Hauptert-Johnson 95T in North Georgia.

Candler draws considerable strength and inspiration from its relationship with The United Methodist Church. Our ability to fulfill our mission of educating faithful and creative leaders for the church’s ministries in the world depends upon your support, gifts, and prayers. Thank you for the countless ways you advance this vital ministry in the life of our denomination. Visit us in person in Atlanta or online at candler.emory.edu to see firsthand how Candler prepares real people to make a real difference in the real world.

RESOLUTION TO AVOID PURCHASE OF HEWLETT PACKARD PRODUCTS

Budget Implications: None

Rationale: Hewlett Packard companies (HP) is complicit in human rights violations by developing systems used by the Israeli military to racially profile and control the movement of Palestinians. This resolution calls for United Methodists in the Baltimore-Washington Annual Conference to boycott HP until this company ends its human rights abuses.

Submitted by: Rev. Shannon Sullivan, Presbury United Methodist Church, Edgewood, MD and the Baltimore-Washington Chapter of Methodist Federation for Social Action

Resolution:

Palestinians are forced to use Israeli controlled checkpoints to move within their own designated homeland, also known as the West Bank. Hewlett Packard Enterprise (HPE), one of the family of Hewlett Packard companies (HP), is responsible for developing, integrating and maintaining the biometric system used by the Israeli military to control movement, and HPE profits from developing systems to racially profile and control the movement of Palestinians, and as such is complicit in a breach of Article 13 of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights.

HP operates a development center in Beithar Illit, an illegal Israeli-only settlement city in the occupied West Bank built on land confiscated from the Palestinian villages of Wadi Fukin, Nahhalin, and Husan, and, as an employer in the settlement, HP profits from stolen land and contributes to the tax base and job opportunities that strengthen the settlement (<http://investigate.afsc.org/company/hp-inc-and-hewlett-packard-enterprise>). HP provides services and technologies to two of the other biggest Israeli-only, illegal West Bank settlements Modi'in Ilit and Ariel, and participated in the "Smart City" project in Ariel, providing a storage system for the settlement's municipality (<http://investigate.afsc.org/company/hp-inc-and-hewlett-packard-enterprise>).

Hewlett Packard Company recently split into two companies, HP Inc. and Hewlett Packard Enterprise (HPE), with more spin-offs projected and the various HP companies share certain logistical infrastructure, governance, supply chains, and technologies with one another, and they all draw on the HP brand's long history of close connections with the Israeli military and occupation (http://uscpr.org/hp2016woa_pr/).

The United Methodist Church has specifically and repeatedly condemned both the military occupation and the construction of Israeli-only settlements in the West Bank (2016 United Methodist Book of Resolutions #6111, p. 602-606). United Methodists have participated in shareholder engagement with HP for more than eight years and have asked them to end their involvement with the illegal occupation of Palestinian lands (https://www.kairosresponse.org/uploads/UM_CorpEngagement_2004-11.pdf). There has been no meaningful progress with HP and no indication of any willingness to change their involvement in the occupation of foreign lands or the prison industrial complex, (https://www.kairosresponse.org/uploads/UM_CorpEngagement_2004-11.pdf).

More than 3,000 Palestinian Christians have implored Christians everywhere to put actions behind their words to end Israel's occupation of Palestinian land (<http://www.kairos-palestine.ps/index.php/about-us/kairos-palestine-document>). The United Methodist General Conference asks all companies that profit from and/or support settlements through their business activities to examine these activities and stop any business transactions that contribute to violations of international law, promote systemic discrimination or otherwise support ongoing military occupation (2016 United Methodist Book of Resolutions #6111, p. 605).

Nonviolent tools for education and ethical consumption are central to a living expression of discipleship, with Methodists participating in boycotts as an effective moral economic tool long used by people of conscience including such boycotts as Taco Bell and Mt. Olive Pickle Company, Inc to support farm workers; Nestle to challenge marketing of infant formula; and USA Today to support newspaper workers in Detroit.

The Presbyterian Church, United Church of Christ, Quaker Friends Fiduciary, Alliance of Baptists and Unitarian Universalists have divested from HP (<http://www.fosna.org/free-your-church-hp>). An international coalition of organizations and groups have come together to challenge HP's complicity in human rights violations in the occupied Palestinian territory and to ask the company to withdraw from such contracts and stop profiting from the Israeli occupation (<https://www.afsc.org/resource/campaign-boycott-hp>).

Therefore, BE IT RESOLVED, that the 2017 Baltimore-Washington Annual Conference calls on all boards and agencies, conference offices, local congregations, campus ministries, and individual United Methodists to refrain from purchasing HP products until this company ends its involvement with the Israeli occupation and the aforementioned human rights abuses.

RESOLUTION TO AMEND THE CONFERENCE MOVING POLICY

Financial Implications: Approval of this resolution will require a small increase to the Moving Expense line item in the Conference budget.

Rationale: This resolution amends the conference moving policy to cover the moving arrangements and expenses for retiring pastors in the same manner as active clergy. As the average cost for conference moves has decreased in recent years, retiring clergy have been burdened with paying increased costs as they move into retirement. This resolution also clarifies and cleans up the language of the original policy.

Submitted by: Rev. Kenneth B. Hawes (Conference Moving Coordinator)

¶5500. Moving Committee.—

1. The Moving Committee shall:
 - a. Review the Conference Moving Policy and make recommendations, as needed, to the Conference Session.
 - b. Request bids from moving companies and communicate that information, as available, to the Conference Treasurer.
 - c. Establish with the Cabinet, each January, a moving time (normally the last two weeks of June.)
 - d. Select, engage, and pay professional moving companies, and/or reimburse pastors for the Conference moves described below:
 - (1) Conference Members in full connection, Provisional Members under appointment, Associate Members under appointment, and Local Pastors under appointment.
 - (2) Pastors transferring into the Conference [see ¶5500.7]
 - (3) Conference Members in full connection returning from Honorable Location. [see ¶5500.7]
 - (4) Pastors under 1996 Discipline ¶337.1 [¶5500.7]
 - (5) Retiring pastors moving within the conference boundaries upon retirement OR being appointed to serve a conference pastorate.
 - (i) Arrangements, limits and costs for retiring pastors moving within the conference boundaries are the same as for active clergy.
 - (ii) Retiring pastors moving beyond the conference boundaries have the option of requesting that the committee make their arrangements, or making their own arrangements as per ¶5500.10.

(iii) For retiring pastors moving outside the conference boundaries, the average cost of professional moves for the previous year is the limit of conference coverage for these moves.

(iv) Moving arrangements and costs for retired pastors are only covered for their move into the retirement.

(6) Conference Members in full connection, Provisional Members, Associate Members, and Local Pastors who have been granted disability status. This shall apply only to their first move within or outside the Conference boundaries. [see ¶5500.7]

(7) Provisional Members who are discontinued and who, at the time of discontinuance are serving a local church full-time.

(8) Conference Members in full connection who are placed on Administrative Location. This shall apply only to their first move.

(9) Conference Members who are going to an Extension Ministry, provided they are being employed by the Conference, and/or coming from Conference employment.

(10) Spouse and/or family of an active pastor who dies while serving in an appointment. [see ¶5500.7]

(11) Part Time Local Pastors enrolled in an accredited Seminary for a minimum of six semester hours, or enrolled in the Student Pastor Track Program, provided they are recommended by the Cabinet. The Conference responsibility shall not exceed the average cost of professional moves for the previous year.

(12) Conference members in full connection who are appointed to attend school. This shall apply only to the first move within or outside the Conference boundaries, up to the dollar limit of the Conference Moving Policy. [see ¶5500.7]

2. Upon recommendation of the Cabinet, in consideration for past service, the Committee shall be responsible for arranging and paying for the moves of:

a. Conference Members in full connection, Provisional Members, Associate Members, and Pastors placed on Leave Of Absence or Involuntary Location. This shall apply only to the first move. [see ¶5500.7]

b. Local Pastors who are discontinued. [see ¶5500.7]

c. Pastors who withdraw from the Conference, not to exceed $500.00.

3. The Committee shall have no responsibility for:

a. Conference Members in full connection who transfer out of the Conference.

b. Conference Members in full connection who take Honorable Location.

c. Pastors and/or other clergy persons who move within the parish with no change of appointment. (Exceptions only by cabinet authorization.)

d. Those going to, or returning from an Extension Ministry as a non-conference employee.

4. The Policies and Procedures of the Committee are as follows:

a. The committee will request that the

(1) Cabinet provide a list of all moves.

(2) Conference Board of Pensions and the Cabinet provide a list of all retirements and disability leaves.

b. In accordance with its responsibilities as outlined in ¶5500.1.d above, the Committee shall determine the move schedule, establish the specific moving date for each move, and assign the moves to an authorized moving company.

c. The Committee will inform the Pastor to be moved, the moving company, the District Superintendent (where the move originates), and the PPRC chairperson (of the originating church), of the date, time and moving company.

d. The Committee will negotiate all unresolved damage claims with the moving company, provided such claims were presented in writing to both the moving company and the initiating District Coordinator, no later than (10) days following the move.

e. All moves shall originate from the primary residence with one allowable stop at the church office for unloading. Additional stops and/or storage are the responsibility and - expense of the pastor.

- f. The Committee shall receive an Evaluation report from each moving pastor concerning satisfaction with the move. This will be used in planning and fulfilling the committee's work for the next year.
5. The Conference, through the Committee, is financially responsible for:
- a. The cost of the move up to 15,000 pounds. When a clergy couple each moves to a new appointment, the weight limit will be negotiated between the committee and the clergy spouses.
 - b. The cost of packing mirrors and large pictures only. The clergy family will obtain or arrange for all other packing materials themselves.
 - c. Insurance coverage is set at $3.50 per hundred pounds, for a maximum liability of $52,500.
 - d. The expenses for the following items on two cars per family for interstate moves within the Conference boundaries:
 - (1) Excise/sales tax
 - (2) Title fee
 - (3) Inspection fee, but not repairs
 - (4) Tags
 - (5) Driver's license fee
 - (6) Personal property tax [West Virginia].—This provision shall apply to conference members in full connection under appointment, provisional members, associate members, retiring pastors, pastors going on Leave Of Absence, pastors who transfer into the conference, and the family of a pastor who dies during an appointment. This provision shall be carried out by reimbursement to the pastor(s) only after receipts for the paid bills have been submitted to the Conference Treasurer. An exception shall be granted to students going to an appointment who shall be paid the monies necessary for the appropriate items upon proper presentation of the unpaid bills. All aspects of this provision shall be completed within six (6) months of the appointment and/or change of status. No claims shall be honored or considered after this six-month period has expired.
6. Due to the tax liability incurred by moves of less than 50 miles, active pastors who will move less than 50 miles shall be provided with a tax liability allowance equal to 30% of the Conference financial liability for the move.
7. The Conference, through the Committee, shall be responsible for reimbursement of move expenses originating or locating outside of Conference boundaries. The moving pastor is responsible for arranging and paying for these moves. Reimbursement shall not exceed the average cost of conference moves by moving companies in the preceding year. Retiring pastors, however, may request that the Committee arrange their move. [Anyone mentioned in this Policy whose moving expenses are not the Conference's responsibility may ask the Committee to use its contracts with authorized movers to achieve for themselves the best available estimate.]
8. All moves shall be completed within six (6) months of the fixed date of the appointment and/or change of status. No claims shall be honored or considered after this six-month period has expired. (After 6 months ¶5500.3d applies.)
9. Large bulky items such as trailers, boats, autos, or any other heavy non-household/office items adding weight and time to the move are not authorized by the Conference. Clergy families shall themselves transport pets, plants, and highly valued items that would require special packing. The Committee shall arrange with the moving companies to bill the clergy family directly for those services and/or materials above and beyond those specified.
10. Any clergy making unauthorized direct arrangements with a moving company shall forfeit his or her claim on Conference funds and responsibility for that move.
11. Clergy should contact the Committee through their District Moving Coordinator, if and when they have been confirmed for a new appointment.
12. District Superintendents should refer to or explain the Conference Moving Policy and Procedures to the clergy person as soon as a new appointment is arranged. District Superintendents should also notify the District Coordinators and the Conference Coordinator about all moves that need to be arranged outside the normal calendar of the appointment process as soon as they are confirmed.

13. All funding for the above provisions shall come from the Conference budget line item assigned for Pastors Moving Expenses. Moving bills are to be identified with the name of the pastor and sent to the Conference Treasurer, and a copy also sent to the pastor. The Conference Treasurer shall be authorized to pay the individual moving company directly on behalf of the pastor up to the maximum as defined in ¶5500.5.

Effective date: This resolution takes effect immediately except that as it pertains to the 2017 retirement class, the effective date is January 1, 2017.

CONFERENCE LEADERSHIP

*“...The gifts he gave were that some would be apostles, some prophets, some evangelists, some pastors and teachers, to equip the saints for the work of ministry, for building up the body of Christ, until all of us come to the unity of the faith and of the knowledge of the Son of God, to maturity, to the measure of the full stature of Christ.”
Ephesians 4:2-8; 11-13 (NRSV)*

In an effort to honor these gifts and our diversity, we seek to engage all in building up the body of Christ. The Conference Commission on Nominations seeks to have regional, racial, gender, age and lay/clergy inclusiveness in the groups and chairpersons. This includes working toward having 20-30% of the groups comprised of persons under 40.

Care should be given to scheduling meetings at times when most laity are available to increase lay participation. If a member of a board, commission, committee, or council is absent from two consecutive meetings without an acceptable reason, that person shall cease to be a member.

The terms of office for a particular group are as follows per BOD and BWC policies:

- A. The quadrennial system is an established part of The United Methodist structure. All members of agencies shall be elected for a quadrennial unless restricted by Discipline, charter, or some other requirement. In the event of such legal restrictions, the Tenure Limitation is still to be observed.
 - a. All quadrennial terms shall commence on July 1 following the adjournment of the first AC session following General Conference, except the Conference Treasurer, whose term shall begin on January 1.
 - b. When persons are elected quadrennially, they serve a maximum of two terms, except for the Board of Ordained Ministry members which may serve a maximum of 3 terms (BOD, ¶635.a).
- B. All other terms shall commence on July 1 following AC Session in which persons are elected or announcement of election is made.

Each committee, commission, etc. member’s name is followed by numbers in parentheses and letters:

- A. Numbers indicate when their term is up and how many terms they’ve served that particular group
 - a. Quadrennial terms have one number that represents how many quadrennium a person has served; e.g., (1)-elected quadrennially and in first quadrennium; (2)-elected quadrennially and in second quadrennium.
 - b. Other terms have two numbers: “when their term expires”-“how many terms served”; e.g., (17-1) means term expires in 2017 and person is serving their first term, (17-2) means term expires in 2017 and they are in their second term.
- B. Letters indicate the region in which a member is located:
 - a. BA-Baltimore Region, SO-Southern Region, WA-Washington Region, WS-Western Region
 - b. Committee, commission members are urged to contact the chairperson of the committee assigned if they relocate outside the region identified.

MEMOIRS

BISHOP FELTON EDWIN MAY | 1935-2017

God's Child, Disciple of Christ, Bishop Felton Edwin May, son of the late Florine and James May, was born April 23, 1935, in Chicago. In 1970, he was ordained an Elder by Bishop John Wesley Lord after receiving an M.Div. degree from Crozer Theological Seminary.

Felton Edwin May and Phyllis Henry were married on June 22, 1963. They have two children, Daphne Endrea Snead and Felton May II, and eight grandchildren.

May's life was a journey from the south side of Chicago as a church builder to Delaware and The Methodist Action Program. Ezion-Mount Carmel UMC was built because of the merging of these two churches. The journey continued when he was appointed district superintendent and conference council director of the Peninsula Conference and then in 1984 when he was elected to the episcopacy. In recognition of him being elected Bishop, the Peninsula-Delaware Conference named the conference center the Bishop Felton Edwin May Resource Center.

He was a delegate from the Northeastern Jurisdictional Conference to General Conference from 1976 to 1984. In 1984, as a newly commissioned bishop, he was assigned to the Harrisburg Episcopal Area where he served until 1996. In 1996, he was assigned to the Washington Episcopal Area. After retirement in September 2004, he accepted the position of Dean of the Harry R. Kendall Science and Health Mission Center at Philander Smith College in Little Rock, Ark.

Bishop May was a consistent drum major for justice, feeding the hungry, fighting violence, and healing the addicted and making disciples for Christ all over the world. He lived Holy Boldness and sought to live a life that would encourage others to be true disciples. His life of mission and ministry was extensive in the United States and around the world. Africa was a specific mission that started in 1974 and extended throughout his lifetime.

Bishop May was a man of many firsts. He was the first African-American District Superintendent on the Eastern District of the Pen-Del Conference, first African-American elected Bishop from this conference, first African American Bishop of the former Central Penn-Wyoming Conference, and first African-American Bishop of the Baltimore-Washington Conference. He is also the first Bishop in the church's history to use a rule in the Book of Discipline to the Episcopacy for a period to do a separate project. Thus, in 1990, the United Methodist Program on Drugs, Alcohol, and Violence was born.

He has served in varied capacities on several General and Jurisdictional Boards, Commissions and Councils, and as chair of the National Shalom Zone Committee.

In 1999, Bishop May served as a member of the White House Presidential Mission on Children Orphaned by AIDS, which traveled to Africa. The mission's study of HIV/AIDS in sub-Saharan Africa led to a Clinton Administration recommendation that U.S. spending in response to the crisis of AIDS worldwide be increased by $100 million. He was also a participant in the White House's Faith Leaders for One America Initiative and the UN Millennium World Peace Summit of Religious and Spiritual Leaders.

"What shall we say to this?" Felton Edwin would say. "If God is for us, who can be against us. Who can separate us from the love of God? I am convinced neither life nor death nor anything can separate us from the love of God, in Christ Jesus."

Bishop May joined the Great Cloud of Witnesses Feb. 27, 2017. His Memorial Service was held April 1, at Asbury UMC in Washington, D.C. In addition to BWC Bishop LaTrelle Easterling participating, several other bishops also spoke. He was buried at Barratt's Chapel, an historical site of The United Methodist Church, in Frederica, Delaware.

"Death is not the end,
He lives with Christ forever,
Resurrection his!"

An original Haiku Poem by Phyllis Elizabeth May

Submitted by Phyllis Elizabeth May, Daphne May Brown, and Felton Edwin May II.

CLERGYRICHARD C. BROOME | 1950-2017

Richard Calvin Broome was born Aug. 14, 1950, the son of Louise (Beckman) Broome and the late Richard C. Broome Sr.

He grew up in Cumberland where both his mother and grandmother were staunch members of Centre Street UMC, sitting in front under the tall pulpit with Rich and his younger brother. As a child, he was intimidated and thought, "You'll never get me up there!" He had to chuckle when years later he preached sermons from that same pulpit.

He graduated from Allegany High School in 1968 and from Frostburg State College in 1973. Rich spent over a decade in banking. Feeling nudged to do more for God, he taught at a Bible College. After a Billy Graham crusade, Rich jumped at an opportunity to be the pastor of the Church of the Living Word near Cumberland.

While there, the Rev. John Williams from Centre Street UMC encouraged him to pursue a degree in ministry with the support of his home church. He served as a youth pastor and as a supply pastor at McKendree UMC, graduated from Wesley Theological Seminary in 1990, and was ordained an Elder in 1993.

McKendree, an African-American church, gave him great insight into worship. On his first Sunday, an elderly woman whispered, "You got to make them laugh, cry and feel spiritual." Both the choir and congregation showed him how essential lively music is to worship, a lesson he never forgot.

His appointments were to Mt. Savage UMC from 1991 to 2006, then to Weller UMC until 2013. He was appointed to Pikeside UMC in 2013 and was serving there at the time of his death.

Rich loved children and wanted them to be involved in their church. He attended most youth activities. He suggested a talent Sunday where children could showcase what gifts God had bestowed on them. He insisted that children be represented on the church council, and on occasion, welcomed youth to preach the sermon and lead the worship.

God blessed Rich with many talents and he used them to honor God. He composed, sang and played guitar to enhance the sermon.

Prayer was an enormous part of Rich's ministry and life. He kept a long list of names and situations for which he prayed daily.

Rich was a mentor to many. He served on the BWC Board of Ordained Ministry and the board of Tri-County Pastoral Counseling. His pastor's heart just wanted to help others and please God by bringing people to the Lord.

In addition to his mother, survivors include his wife, Beth (Kenney) Broome; three children: Leigh Ann McCusker, Jessica Cutter, Richard C. Broome III, and their spouses; and nine grandchildren.

Rev. Richard C. Broome Jr. of Martinsburg, W.Va., died Jan. 21, 2017. The Rev. Rebecca Vardiman officiated at a service Jan. 27, at Centre Street UMC. Frederick District Superintendent, the Rev. Edgardo Rivera, and Cumberland-Hagerstown District Superintendent, the Rev. Conrad Link, participated.

ROLAND "BUD" BROWN III | 1947-2016

Roland "Bud" Brown III was born Sept. 12, 1947, in Washington, D.C., the son of the late Roland Myers Brown Jr. and Loretto Loveless Brown Wyatt. He was a 1974 graduate of West Virginia Wesleyan College in Buckhannon, W.Va. In 1976, he received his Masters of Divinity from Wesley Theological Seminary in Washington, D.C.

He and Carolyn L. Aldrich were married in 1981. They had one child, who survives.

Beginning in 1977, Brown served churches in the Baltimore-Washington Conference at Piney Grove UMC in East Baltimore and at Rodgers Forge UMC in North Baltimore. Then since 1987, he served as the senior pastor at the Sykesville Parish (Sykesville and Gaither UMCs) until his retirement in 2013.

He helped found the Carroll County ESCAPE, which coordinates relief assistance to needy families and individuals and refers people to the appropriate helping agencies.

ESCAPE is an acronym for “Enabling Social and Church Advocacy for People Enrichment.”

In the community, in addition to ESCAPE, Brown had been the chaplain for Carroll Hospice, Sykesville-Freedom District Fire Department and Sykesville Police. He was a member of the Sykesville-South Carroll Rotary Club and the Masonic Lodge. He was an avid reader and especially enjoyed spending time with his family.

Survivors include his wife, Carolyn Brown, daughter and son-in-law; Lorilyn and Nathaniel Linger of Morgantown, WV; sisters and brother and their spouses, and his father-in-law and mother-in-law, Malcolm and Marilyn Aldrich of Hanover, Pa.

The Rev. Roland “Bud” Brown III, 68, a retired Elder, died June 7, 2016, after a battle with pancreatic cancer. His funeral service was held June 13 at St. Paul’s UMC in Sykesville with the Revs. Terri Rae Chatten, Douglas Tzan and Vivian McCarthy officiating.

RICHARD LEE “RICK” DUNCAN | 1948-2017

Richard Lee Duncan was born Dec. 16, 1948. Of Scottish descent, he was proud of his Clan and attended the Alexandria, Va., Christmas parade of the clans. “The highlight of my and his life was spending a week in Scotland for a worldwide gathering of his Clan,” said his friend David Barthlow of Reisterstown.

Duncan, a Local Pastor, served at Trinity UMC in Catonsville, which led to his ministry at Harwood Park in Elkridge in 2007; in 2009 his service was to the cooperative parish of Harwood and Melville Chapel. A year ago in March he began serving the Melville Chapel Charge in Elkridge.

As a young man in 1972, he played St. Stephen, singing with a group of young Christians in Baltimore who put on an evangelical musical. When the summer was over, they formed a singing trio that sang “to praise God,” said one of them, Donna Morris of Lawrenceville, Ga.

He worked for the Department of Corrections before following his calling into ministry in the church. One of his colleagues commented, “I worked with Rick at the DPSCS. It was a pleasure. Moving the inmate population was at times challenging. Rick made it seem so easy.”

He enjoyed gardening and donated much of what he grew to the food pantry at the church.

Survivors include his wife Tracy Rae Duncan of Jessup; daughter Christina L. Doyle and her husband Zack Doyle; and two granddaughters. He is also survived by his brother and sister-in-law and two nieces.

Pastor Richard Lee “Rick” Duncan was serving Melville Chapel UMC in Elkridge at the time of his death Feb. 13, 2017. A funeral service was held Feb. 18 at the funeral home and a Celebration of Life service was held Feb. 25, at Melville Chapel UMC.

FRANCIS “JAY” FISK | 1936-2017

Francis “Jay” Fisk was born Dec. 25, 1936. He was a Local Pastor who served Boring UMC from 2004-2008. His last known address was New Oxford, Pa., but prior to that he lived in Ellicott City.

Survivors include his wife, Betty Fisk of New Oxford, Pa., and children Gordon H. and Gwendolyn L.

Pastor Francis Fisk died Jan. 25, 2017, in New Oxford, Pa.

GLENN HICKMAN | 1915-2016

Glenn Hickman was born Sept. 16, 1915, in Alva, Okla., the oldest of four children, to the late A. Blake and Nellie Hickman.

In 1939, Glenn married the love of his life, Lila Moore, and they went on to have four children who survive.

He served in the United States Army for 26 years, rising to the rank of Lt. Colonel before entering full-time ministry. He served as the pastor of the Winfield Charge (Ebenezer and Salem UMCs) in Sykesville from 1967 to 1978, then the Ebenezer UMC in Sykesville until he retired in 1981.

The Hickmans moved to Arkansas in 1982, where he pastored several churches for 22 years before moving to New Braunfels, Texas, in 2004.

Even after he retired from the pastorate, Hickman dedicated his life to serving his Lord and loving others. He was committed to spreading the gospel throughout the world and giving to missions was an integral part of his life.

In 1971, Talley was appointed program director of the Conference Council on Ministries, the first layperson to hold that position in the conference. In his first report to Annual Conference, he quoted Matthew 9:23 — "Everything is possible to the one who believes" and then concluded:

"... I believe and trust in Jesus and that he will use the United Methodists of this area to be sensitive to the needs of people wherever they are and wherever they may be. This is our heritage."

As program director (1971-1978), Talley worked toward acquisition of about 30 acres of the colonial Strawbridge Farm, the historic site where Robert Strawbridge and his wife, Elizabeth, formed the first Methodist Societies and Classes in the new world. Since 2007, until her death, she regularly wrote humor-based reviews of books pulled from all genres of literature for publication in The Norris Bulletin. She wrote them for years without attribution, as her wish, until her last editor prevailed upon her to write under the banner of "Annie's Reviews."

She felt her articles were her anonymous gift to the community. As an additional gift, she would purchase hard cover editions of all the books that she intended to review so she could then donate them, one-by-one, to the Norris Community Library. Countless books on the local library shelves can be traced back to Perry's generosity.

Her editor never could convince her to reveal herself as the person who crafted The Norris Bulletin's weekly cryptograms. Perhaps she wanted anonymity so that none of her cryptogram-addicted followers would know precisely who had been bedeviling their brains for all of these years. But now the secret is out!

Perry lived a life filled with much adversity and yet stayed positive, kind and loving toward others right to the end. She stayed truly grateful for the basic gift of life, but especially for her final 16 years that followed a saving surgery in 2000.

Her pastor, the Rev. Keith Haverkamp, retired, summarized her life: "Annie was a remarkable woman who left an impact on many with her wit, intelligence, insight and writing. In her own humble way, she was remarkable."

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Council on Finance and Administration of The Baltimore-Washington Conference of the United Methodist Church, Inc.

REPORT ON THE COMBINED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

We have audited the accompanying combined financial statements of The Baltimore-Washington Conference of the United Methodist Church, Inc., Subsidiary and The United Methodist Church, Washington Area Episcopal Office (Affiliate) (collectively referred to as the Conference), which comprise the Combined Statements of Financial Position as of December 31, 2016 and 2015, and the related Combined Statements of Activities and Cash Flows for the years then ended, and the related notes to the combined financial statements.

MANAGEMENT'S RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE COMBINED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these combined financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of combined financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

AUDITORS' RESPONSIBILITY

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these combined financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audits to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the combined financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the combined financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditors' judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the combined financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditors consider internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the combined financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of the significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the combined financial statements.

We believe the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our qualified audit opinion.

ELLIN & TUCKER

BASIS FOR QUALIFIED OPINION

As more fully described in Note 8 to the combined financial statements, the Conference accounts for post-retirement health benefit obligations on a pay-as-you-go basis. In our opinion, accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America require the funded status of the post-retirement health benefit obligations be recorded in the Combined Statements of Financial Position and changes in the funded status be recognized as changes in net assets in the year the change occurs. The effects on the combined financial statements of the preceding practice are not reasonably determinable.

QUALIFIED OPINION

In our opinion, except for the effects of the matter discussed in the Basis for Qualified Opinion paragraph, the combined financial statements referred to in the first paragraph present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Conference as of December 31, 2016 and 2015, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

NOTES TO COMBINED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
The Baltimore-Washington Conference of the United Methodist Church, Inc., Subsidiary and Affiliate

NOTE 1 SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

NATURE OF ACTIVITIES

The Baltimore-Washington Conference of the United Methodist Church, Inc. (BWC) was formed to provide for the promotion of the Christian faith, missionary, and benevolent causes.

BWC Borrower, LLC was formed to finance, manage, and maintain property and operate a management business for this purpose. BWC is the sole member of BWC Borrower, LLC.

The United Methodist Church, Washington Area Episcopal Office (Episcopal Office) was formed to manage many aspects of BWC, including presiding over sessions, overseeing fiscal and program operations, and ensuring fair process.

PRINCIPLES OF COMBINATION

The combined financial statements include the accounts of BWC, BWC Borrower, LLC and the Episcopal Office (collectively referred to as the Conference). All significant intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated.

ACCOUNTING STANDARDS CODIFICATION

All references in the combined financial statements to the Codification refer to the Accounting Standards Codification and the Hierarchy of Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP) issued by the Financial Accounting Standards Board. The Codification is the single source of authoritative GAAP in the United States.

BASIS OF ACCOUNTING

The accompanying combined financial statements are presented in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America on the accrual basis of accounting, whereby revenue is recognized when earned and expenses are recognized when incurred.

BASIS OF PRESENTATION

Under the Codification, the Conference is required to report information regarding its financial position and activities according to three classes of net assets: unrestricted, temporarily restricted, and permanently restricted.

Unrestricted net assets are assets that are neither permanently restricted nor temporarily restricted by donor-imposed stipulations. These resources include:

(See Independent Auditors' Report)

NOTES TO COMBINED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS, CONTINUED
The Baltimore-Washington Conference of the United Methodist Church, Inc., Subsidiary and Affiliate

- Operating – to support operations
- Property – restricted for property acquisitions
- Medical Benefits – designated by the Board to fund medical premiums
- Designated for Loans – to fund low interest loans to the United Methodist Churches
- Designated for Post-Retirement Health Benefits – to fund post-retirement health benefits

Temporarily restricted net assets are contributions whose use is limited by donor-imposed stipulations that either expire by the passage of time or can be fulfilled by use for specified purposes.

Permanently restricted net assets are contributions whose use is limited by donor-imposed stipulations that neither expire by the passage of time nor can be fulfilled or otherwise removed by the Conference's actions.

USE OF ESTIMATES

The preparation of combined financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions. These estimates and assumptions affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the combined financial statements and revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

CASH AND CASH EQUIVALENTS

The Conference considers all highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

The Conference maintains its cash in financial institutions which, at times, may exceed federally insured limits. The Conference believes it is not exposed to any significant credit risk on cash and cash equivalents.

FUNDS DUE TO OTHERS

Amounts represent proceeds from the sale of a church property, which is due to the Greater Washington District.

INVESTMENTS

Under the Codification, investments are recorded at fair value. Investments received as gifts and bequests are recorded at fair value at the gift date. To adjust the carrying value of the investments, realized and unrealized gains and losses are reported in the Combined Statements of Activities. See Note 3 for further discussion of the valuation of investments.

(See Independent Auditors' Report)

The Baltimore-Washington Conference of the United Methodist Church, Inc., Subsidiary and Affiliate

The Conference invests in a professionally managed portfolio that contains stocks and bonds of publicly traded companies, mutual funds, and pooled investments. Such investments are exposed to various risks such as interest rate, market, and credit. Due to the level of risk associated with such investments and the level of uncertainty related to the changes in value of such investments, it is at least reasonably possible that changes in risks in the near-term would materially affect investment balances and the amounts reported in the combined financial statements.

OTHER RECEIVABLES

Other receivables include amounts due from individuals and organizations related to the Conference for pension and medical costs. At December 31, 2016 and 2015, management recorded an allowance for uncollectible accounts of $911,016 and $729,182, respectively.

PROPERTY AND EQUIPMENT

Property and equipment greater than $2,500 are recorded at cost if purchased or fair value at the date of the donation if gifted. Lesser amounts are expensed. Depreciation is determined using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the related assets.

APPORTIONMENTS

The Conference receives a significant portion of its revenue in the form of apportionments from local churches that are members of the Conference. Apportionments are accepted from the local churches; however, they are not a legal obligation. As such, apportionments are recognized as revenue when received, since the amount to be received is undeterminable until paid by the local churches. The Conference's apportionment policy is to include apportionments received by Tuesday following the second Sunday subsequent to the date of the accompanying Combined Statements of Financial Position. Apportionments are used to fund mission and ministries of the Conference and General Church World Services.

MEDICAL PAYMENTS

The Conference receives premiums from local churches that are members of the Conference. These premiums are used to pay for medical insurance for clergy and lay employees of the Conference.

CONTRIBUTIONS

In accordance with the Not-for-Profit Entities Revenue Recognition Topic of the Codification, contributions received are recorded as either unrestricted, temporarily restricted, or

(See Independent Auditors' Report)

NOTES TO COMBINED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS, CONTINUED
The Baltimore-Washington Conference of the United Methodist Church, Inc., Subsidiary and Affiliate

permanently restricted support. All contributions are considered to be available for unrestricted use unless specifically restricted, either temporarily or permanently, by the donor. The Conference's policy is to utilize temporarily restricted support against qualifying expenses as they are incurred.

CAMPING REGISTRATION AND EVENTS

The Conference receives registration fees for camps owned and operated by the Conference. The Conference also hosts numerous seminars and conferences throughout the year, for which registration fees are collected by the Conference. Revenue is recognized in the year such services and events occur.

PROGRAM EXPENSE

Apportioned funds categories represent the following:

- Discipleship – All department staffing costs for the Councils on Ministries and Human Resource Development as well as the activities of the ministries, missions performed within the Conference, establishing new churches, growth of existing churches, activities and programs undertaken to develop both clergy and lay religious education, and spiritual enrichment of all clergy and lay persons within the Conference
- Stewardship – All financial and administrative components of the Conference, including the treasury function, trustees, pension and health benefits for clergy and lay employees and costs of the Conference Center offices
- Leadership – Costs for departments linked directly to the Bishop's office
- General Church and Jurisdictional Apportionment – Funds collected by the Conference from local churches and designated by the Conference to send to General Church and World Services

RECLASSIFICATIONS

Certain prior year amounts have been reclassified to conform to the current year presentation.

SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

The Conference has evaluated subsequent events and transactions for potential recognition or disclosure in the combined financial statements through May 24, 2017, the date the combined financial statements were available to be issued.

(See Independent Auditors' Report)

 The Baltimore-Washington Conference of the United Methodist Church, Inc., Subsidiary and Affiliate

NOTE 2 INCOME TAXES

The Conference is exempt from income taxes under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code and is exempt from filing tax returns as a religious organization. In addition, the Internal Revenue Service has determined that the Conference is not a private foundation within the meaning of Section 509(a) of the Code.

The Conference follows the provisions of Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes under the Income Taxes Topic of the Codification. The Codification requires the evaluation of tax positions, which include maintaining its tax-exempt status and the taxability of any unrelated business income, and does not allow recognition of tax positions which do not meet a “more-likely-than-not” threshold of being sustained by the applicable tax authority. Management does not believe it has taken any tax positions that would not meet this threshold.

NOTE 3 VALUATION OF INVESTMENTS

Investments at December 31, 2016 and 2015 consisted of the following:

	2016	2015
Common Stocks	$ 1,484,043	$ 1,351,321
Nonpublic Mutual Funds	5,642,807	5,424,509

Total	$ 40,940,868	$ 34,187,288

Investment income for the years ended December 31, 2016 and 2015 consisted of the following:

	2016	2015
Interest and Dividends (Net of $63,249 and $63,111 of Investment Fees, Respectively)	$ 106,688	$ 90,317
Realized Gain on Sale of Investments	3,320	281,447
Unrealized Gain (Loss) on Investments	2,602,950	(1,298,933)
Total	$ 2,712,958	$ (927,169)

The Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures Topic of the Codification establishes a hierarchal disclosure framework, which prioritizes and ranks the level of market price observability used in measuring investments and other financial instruments at fair value.

(See Independent Auditors’ Report)

The Baltimore-Washington Conference of the United Methodist Church, Inc., Subsidiary and Affiliate

The hierarchy gives the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (Level 1 measurements) and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs (Level 3 measurements). The three levels of the fair value hierarchy are described below:

Level 1 – Quoted prices are available in active markets for identical investments as of the reporting date. The Conference considers its investments in common stocks and mutual funds to be Level 1 investments.

Level 2 – Pricing inputs are other than quoted prices in active markets, which are either directly or indirectly observable as of the reporting date, and fair value is determined through the use of models or other valuation methodologies. The Conference considers certain nonpublic mutual funds and pooled investments to be Level 2 investments.

Level 3 – Pricing inputs are unobservable for the investment and include situations where there is little, if any, market activity for the investment. The Conference does not currently hold any Level 3 investments.

In certain cases, the inputs used to measure fair value may be categorized into different levels of the fair value hierarchy. In such cases, an investment's level within the fair value hierarchy is based on the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement. The Conference's assessment of the significance of a particular input to the fair value measurement in its entirety requires judgment and considers factors specific to the investment. There were no changes in these methodologies during the years ended December 31, 2016 and 2015.

The following is a description of the valuation methodologies used for assets measured at fair value:

Common Stock and Bond Mutual Funds: Valued at quoted prices in an active market

Nonpublic Mutual Funds: Valued at the net asset value per share that may be redeemed at the date of the Combined Statements of Financial Position

Pooled Investments: Investments through the General Board of Pensions and Health Benefits of the United Methodist Church (General Board), which consist of diversified nonpublic mutual funds and are valued using the net asset value per share that may be redeemed at the date of the Combined Statements of Financial Position

The methods described above may produce a fair value that may not be indicative of net realizable value or reflective of future fair values. Furthermore, while the Conference believes its valuation methods are appropriate and consistent with other market participants, the use of different methodologies or assumptions to determine the fair value of certain financial instruments could result in a different fair value measurement at the reporting date.

(See Independent Auditors' Report)

Methodist Church, Inc., Subsidiary and Affiliate

Methodist Center property. The balance on this note was $5,270,000 and $5,683,000 at December 31, 2016 and 2015, respectively.

Future maturities at December 31, 2016 are as follows:

Thereafter	3,203,335
	$ 5,270,000

NOTE 7 PENSION EXPENSE

The Conference participates in three multi-employer pension plans which are administered by the General Board. The Conference provides pension benefits for members of the clergy under the three plans. Services provided prior to January 1, 1982 are covered by a defined benefit plan (Pre-82 Plan). The General Board estimated the Conference's portion of the Pre-82 Plan assets exceeded accumulated benefits by approximately $33,000,000, and the total plan assets exceeded accumulated benefits by approximately $279,000,000.

Services provided subsequent to December 31, 1981 are covered by the Ministerial Pension Plan (MPP), which has components of both a defined benefit and defined contribution plan. The Conference did not contribute any funds to MPP during 2016 or 2015. The General Board estimated MPP assets exceeded accumulated benefits by approximately $327,000,000.

Services provided subsequent to December 31, 2006 are covered under the Clergy Retirement Security Program (CRSP), which has components of both a defined benefit and defined contribution plan. The Conference contributed approximately $3,110,000 and $2,520,000 to CRSP for the years ended December 31, 2016 and 2015, respectively. The General Board estimated CRSP assets exceeded accumulated benefits by approximately $169,000,000.

The risks of participating in a multi-employer plan are different from a single-employer plan in the following aspects:

- a. Assets contributed to the multi-employer plan by one employer may be used to provide benefits to employees of other participating employers.

(See Independent Auditors' Report)

NOTES TO COMBINED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS, CONTINUED
The Baltimore-Washington Conference of the United Methodist Church, Inc., Subsidiary and Affiliate

- b. If a participating employer stops contributing to the plan, the unfunded obligations of the plan may be borne by the remaining participating employers.
- c. If the Conference chooses to stop participating in its multi-employer plan, the Conference may be required to pay the plan an amount based on the underfunded status of the plan, referred to as a withdrawal liability.

Lay employees of the Conference are covered by a defined contribution plan (Plan). The level and funding of retirement benefits to individual participants of the Plan are determined annually by the Conference within certain guidelines established by the General Board. The Conference contributed approximately $450,000 and $320,000 to the Plan for the years ended December 31, 2016 and 2015, respectively.

NOTE 8 POST-RETIREMENT HEALTH BENEFITS

Post-retirement health benefits for all retired personnel and their spouses, widows, and widowers are provided under a discretionary plan administered by the General Board. The Conference accounts for the obligation on a pay-as-you-go basis, and the cost of post-retirement health benefits was approximately $1,486,000 and $1,544,000 for the years ended December 31, 2016 and 2015, respectively. GAAP requires the funded status of post-retirement obligations, representing the difference between plan assets and accumulated post-retirement obligations, be recorded in the Combined Statements of Financial Position and changes in the funded status be recognized as changes in net assets in the year the change occurs. At December 31, 2016, using the most recent actuarial report available, the accumulated benefit obligation for post-retirement health benefits is approximately $34,000,000, at an assumed discount rate of 4.00%. For 2016, the assumed annual rate of increase in the cost of covered health care benefits is 6.00%. It is assumed to decrease gradually to 5% in 2019 and remain at that level thereafter. A one percentage point increase or decrease in the assumed health care cost trend rate would have an approximate 12% to 15% effect on the accumulated benefit obligation.

NOTE 9 COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES

The Conference leases office space in Washington, D.C. and Hagerstown, Maryland under leases which expire through July 2017.

A total of $38,561 of future minimum rental payments is expected to be paid in 2017 under these leases.

Rent expense was $73,544 and $71,346 for the years ended December 31, 2016 and 2015, respectively.

(See Independent Auditors' Report)

The Baltimore-Washington Conference of the United Methodist Church, Inc., Subsidiary and Affiliate

The Conference subleases space in Fulton, Maryland under a lease which expires in June 2018. At December 31, 2016, the future minimum rental amounts to be received are as follows:

Year Ending December 31, 2017	$	64,329
2018		32,640
		$ 96,969

The Conference has approximately $4,000,000 of contingent receivables. These contingent receivables are conditional donations made by the Conference to churches that are members of the Conference and are required to be repaid only if the church ceases to be a member.

NOTE 10 TEMPORARY AND PERMANENTLY RESTRICTED NET ASSETS

Temporarily restricted net assets are available for the following purposes:

	2016	2015
Trustee Restricted Income, Scholarships	$ 8,833	$ 7,653
Endowment Earnings	929,258	865,739

NOTE 11 ENDOWMENT FUNDS

The Conference's permanent endowment consists of various donor restricted funds established to provide a source of income for ongoing donor advised program expenses. As required by GAAP, net assets associated with endowment funds are classified and reported based on the existence or absence of donor-imposed restrictions.

INTERPRETATION OF RELEVANT LAW

The Conference has interpreted the Uniform Prudent Management of Institutional Funds Act (UPMIFA), enacted in Maryland on April 14, 2009, as requiring the preservation of the fair value of the original gift as of the gift date of the donor-restricted endowment funds, absent explicit donor stipulations to the contrary. As a result of this interpretation, the Conference classifies as permanently restricted net assets (a) the original value of gifts donated to the permanent endowment, (b) accumulations to the permanent endowment made in accordance with the direction of the applicable donor gift instrument at the time the accumulation is added to the fund, and (c) the change in unrealized gains and losses of invested endowments to the extent allocations do not reduce the endowment value below the original corpus. The remaining portion of the donor-restricted endowment fund that is not classified in permanently restricted net assets is classified as temporarily restricted net assets, until those amounts are appropriated for expenditure by the Conference in a manner consistent with the donor's stipulations or unrestricted net assets.

RETURN OBJECTIVES AND RISK PARAMETERS

The Conference's investment policy is to provide a common investment vehicle, which will generate a stable and continuously growing income stream to support operations. The overall investment goal is to preserve the purchasing power of the future stream of endowment payout for those funds. Other goals include maximizing return within reasonable and prudent levels of risk and maximizing the value of the endowment while maintaining liquidity needed to support spending in prolonged down markets. The Conference seeks a return on investment consistent with levels of investment risk that are prudent and reasonable given medium- to long-term capital market conditions and investment objectives.

ENDOWMENT SPENDING POLICY

The Conference follows the specific spending requirements of each endowment and, if there are no donor stipulations, the income is used for the purpose and mission of the Conference.

ADDENDUM

CONFERENCE BOARD OF LAITY

The Ministry of the Laity calls for making Disciples of Jesus Christ at the Baltimore-Washington Conference. Our call to equip laypersons for ministry as Certified Lay Ministers (CLM) is rooted in the priesthood of all believers (1 Peter 2:0) and we are called through our baptism to our biblical mandate to equip God's people for the work of serving and building up the body of Christ through various gifts for service (Ephesians 4:11-12). With our call came the invitation to something new from the General Board of Discipleship Ministries. In 2008, the Baltimore-Washington Annual Conference started the first class of Certified Lay Ministers with 100 applicants and thus, our journey began. The journey of a Certified Lay Minister is to serve the local church and beyond in partnership with a ministry team under the supervision and support of a clergyperson. Since the Class of 2008-2009, the Baltimore-Washington Conference has offered eight classes of applicants that consist of 265 applicants into the CLM program with 143 Certified Lay Ministers who have remained current or are in the process as of 2016. General Conference 2016 brought legislative changes to the Book of Discipline for Lay Servant Ministries that we embrace for the entire Ministry of the Laity as we live a slightly different structure going forward. As a whole, the Board of Laity continues its efforts to foster the broader understanding of Certified Lay Ministry and to have clergy and laypersons consider the benefits that may come to local congregations, the Baltimore-Washington Conference, and to the Church at-large through this ministry.

The Conference Committee on Lay Servant Ministry continues to flourish under the leadership of Julie Flinchum. The Committee also consists of District Directors of Lay Servant Ministers. The team meets and sets goals for making the processes more consistent throughout our conference. With more than 1,000 Certified Lay Servants within our conference the aim is to continue to clarify and maintain standards for processing and certifying Lay Speakers. The mission of the Conference Committee of Lay Servant Ministry is to collaborate with each district director to guide these laity through the process and equip them through training.

The Conference Council on Youth Ministry (CCYM) has proven to be a very strong and committed group of youth, under the guidance of conference staff member, Pam Bowen. The leadership consists of two-thirds youth and one-third adult leaders and the membership is made up of youth from all eight Districts. They have regular meetings on the third Saturday of each month. Some of the members attended the 2016 BWC Annual Conference; the Northeastern Jurisdiction Conference; and, two youth attended the General Conference in Portland, Oregon.

Together in partnership, the Baltimore Metropolitan and the Baltimore Suburban churches hosted over 25 classes for the School of Christian Growth, as encouragement to many new lay servants and certified lay servants. They continue to meet daily for "The Morning Prayer Group" which as of this writing has been praying for 993 days. Baltimore Suburban lay leaders and all laity were invited to meetings in January to learn about Kairos Ministry. In June, laity went to Bentley Springs to tour the Mission Hub and learn about the outreach of Health Kits, Flood Buckets and much more.
